AEC Reveals:

Four More 'A' Furnaces To Be Built

Industrial Power Quest Stepped Up

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Tuesday night disclosed plans to build four more atomic "furnaces"—including one using thorium as a fuel for the first time—in a stepped-up quest for economical industrial power from the atom.

The program was outlined by Dr. Henry Smyth, a member of the commission, in an address to a meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers here.

All the new reactors—planned for construction over the next five years—are all of unusual design. And the outline of two of them, involving the "breeding" of atomic fuel, presumably means that the AEC has gained new confidence in the practical possibilities of producing in a furnace more fuel than is actually consumed in keeping it going.

Smyth said the question of whether atomic power "can be produced cheaply enough to be of general use" may not be conclusively answered by any of these devices. But he added:

"The Atomic Energy Commission believes that it can be done and this is the opinion also of the several private industrial groups who have been studying the problem for several years at the invitation of the commission."

16,000 Kilowatts

The new test "furnaces"—each involving a different type of operation — will be designed to have electrical energy outputs ranging from 5,000 to 16,000 kilowatts.

Since power experts figure that in the average city, one kilowatt of electrical energy capacity serves the needs of one person, the devices would range from one capable of powering a town of 5,000 population up to one serving the needs of a town of 16,000.

Last October, the AEC announced plans to build the government's first full-scale reactor in the search for useful power—a device designed to generate at least 60,000 kilowatts of electric power.

The Commission announced at that time that the reactor—which the AEC hopes to have in operation in three or four years— would cost "many tens of millions of dollars."

Dulles Gains New Anti-Red Support

Latin America Delegates Puzzled By Day's Delay In Economic Speech By Assistant Sec. Sam Waugh

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Guatemala's foreign minister walked out of a plenary session of the 10th Inter-American Conference Tuesday when a speaker from the Dominican Republic called for an end to attacks on the United States.

Guillermo Toriello told reporters outside the meeting he had "more important matters than to hear such people in the ridiculous and stupid role of discussing democracy."

The speaker, Dominican Foreign Minister Joaquin Balaguer, had assailed countries which "help Soviet Russia" but sit back and allow the United States to be attacked.

Toriello, asked if Guatemala was fighting Communism, said "it is defending democratic institutions and would fight anything — Communism included — that harms democracy."

Waugh

Asked if he knew of any instance where Communism had helped democracy, Toriello replied: "I don't know."

After staging his dramatic walkout, Toriello returned to the conference when Balaguer concluded his address.

Growing Support

It climaxed a day which saw growing support for U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' "keep Communism out of the Americas" plan. Guatemala has already said it would do everything possible to defeat the proposal, but a Dulles victory already appeared assured.

Cuba, Panama and Venezuela came out strongly for Duiles' resolution, which calls on the countries of the Americas to exchange information about Communist infiltration and to take united action if any one country should fall victim to it.

The three joined Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Honduras and Paraguay who supported the U. S. stand the previous day. There are 19 countries attending this meeting and so far nine, including the U. S., are on record in favor of the anti-communist drive.

Waugh's Talk Held Up

While concentrating on the Communist issue, the U. S. delegation caused considerable speculation here by cancelling without explanation a planned declaration on economic policy.

Samuel Waugh, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, was scheduled to spell out Tuesday just what the rest of the hemisphere could expect from the United States in trade and aid.

When Waugh, of Lincoln, Neb., dropped off the speakers list, Latin American delegates wondered out loud if there were some sharp divergence of opinion within the U. S. delegation.

Waugh is now expected to speak Wednesday.

Manslaughter Charges Filed Against Pair

CHADRON, Neb. (AP) — Manslaughter charges were filed Tuesday against two young Gordon, Neb., men in the death of a young Indian girl who had been riding in their car before she was killed early last Sunday.

Dawes County Attorney Ernest Johnson said Robert Walton, 22, was charged with aiding and abetting leaving the scene of an accident as well as with manslaughter.

Johnson said Walton pleaded innocent to both charges in county court Tuesday and was returned to jail in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Mickey Shelley, 21, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident in addition to manslaughter. He did not appear in court Tuesday.

The dead girl was Jessie Redhawk, 16, of Pine Ridge, S. D.

Cancer Cells May Help Polio Study

A 28-year-old Minnesota bacteriologist believes that in the next few years the nation's physicians will be relying on human cancer cells, grown in the laboratory, to detect the dreaded polio disease.

Dr. William F. Scherer, who is spending this week at the University of Nebraska as a visiting lecturer, collaborated with Dr. J. T. Syverton of the University of Minnesota in perfecting this "simple, accurate, and practical method."

The method, Dr. Scherer said, is relatively recent and is just now gaining prominence. He also believes that the detection method will aid in other phases of the fight against polio.

"We will now be able to seek the answer, with some assurance of success, to the oft-asked questions: Where does polio virus stay in the winter time? What is the cycle of the virus?"

Dr. Scherer will explain the method in greater detail at a public lecture on "Tissue Culture and Poliomyelitis" Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Bessey Hall Auditorium. His visit is being sponsored by the Department of Physiology and the Institute of Cellular Growth and is made possible by a grant to the Institute by the Cooper Foundation through the University of Nebraska Foundation.

State Gets A Light Rain; Trace Here

Parts of Nebraska got some welcome moisture Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, but there wasn't much of it.

Lincoln early Wednesday had recorded only a trace.

Other points reporting rain were Grand Island, Imperial and Scottsbluff — all receiving only traces.

Jack Benny's Daughter Weds

JOAN'S WEDDING COSTS BENNY ABOUT $25,000

By BOB THOMAS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Jack Benny played the serious role of father Tuesday night as he gave his daughter, Joan, in matrimony to Seth Baker in a lavish, star-studded ceremony.

"We don't want this to be a Hollywood production," the Benny family said before the wedding. But that's what it did resemble. It cost upwards of $25,000.

The ceremony followed the Hollywood tradition and started late, accommodating such tardy guests as Bob Hope, Dennis Day and Ann Sothern.

The press was treated to a preview when the wedding party came down a Beverly Hills hotel corridor to make the entrance into the flower-decked crystal room. Flashbulbs popped as Benny, smiling wanly, escorted the maid of honor, Renee Baker, sister of the groom.

200 Guests

Then he returned to escort his adopted daughter, resplendent in a flowing gown of brocaded French satin.

"Gee, I get to do this twice," the comedian cracked feebly to the press.

At 7:15 the Wedding March sounded and the bridal party entered the crystal room. Miss Benny, 19, and Baker, 26, faced Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin before some 200 guests. Magnin had said he would eliminate personal references since he didn't know the bridegroom's parents, New York industrialist Harry Baker and his wife. Roland Stearns, New York businessman, was best man.

But the rabbi slipped his lines and told of knowing Joan since she was a child.

"Forget about the tinsel of life and live for the good things," he told the pair.

The ceremony lasted only 10 minutes, climaxed by the exchange of platinum bands.

5-Tier Cake

Among those attending the wedding were George Burns and Gracie Allen, Eddie Cantor, Nancy Sinatra, Mrs. Danny Kaye, George Montgomery and Dinah Shore, Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck, Jane Wyman and an old flame of the bride, Vic Damone. Also present were members of the Benny cast, including Dennis Day, Bob Crosby, Don Wilson and Mel Blanc.

Following the wedding, guests at a reception were treated to a buffet including caviar, boned capon, wild rice, beef stroganoff and ham.

The French champagne was L'Anson, 1945. The 200-pound wedding cake had five tiers and was decorated with doves and lilies of the valley.

Designer Don Loper flew to Paris to arrange for material to be specially woven for the bride's dress. It is an exclusive pattern of lily of the valley in creamy white French silk brocade. Thirty-five yards were used in the gown, which has a train of 15 feet.

REA Group Favors Power Plant Agreement

Wait-And-See Attitude Toward Administration Plan Apparent

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

With an apparent concern to "get the job done," the Nebraska Rural Electric Association Tuesday passed a resolution favoring an agreement between two major public power groups in construction of a new generating plant.

Leading a series of resolutions which were presented at the close of the 18th annual NREA convention in Lincoln was one in which the group unanimously voted to give "utmost support and confidence to the directors and officials of Consumers Public Power District and Nebraska Public Power System in their effort to work out details necessary to finance the proposed 60,000 kilowatt generating plant."

Discussion at the meeting seemed to favor an agreement whereby Consumers would build and finance the plant for lease to the NPPS.

Both Consumers and the NPPS previously announced plans to build plants, with NPPS contending it is the proper generating agency. Consumers stand has been that it could build a generating plant more economically.

'Best Interests'

The resolution passed Tuesday in effect asked the two groups to settle their differences and "proceed immediately to endeavor to work out plans or a program for the best interests of the ultimate electric users of Nebraska." The resolution also stated that "it appears the problem of power supply can be solved in a satisfactory manner by these organizations."

The delegates unanimously opposed moves to alter current short term contracts with some Nebraska municipalities to give them the benefit of lower rates which accompany long-range contracts. The proposal with municipalities would have been in effect only until December. One REA man explained the rejection resulted from a feeling that the municipalities—Bertrand, Loomis, Smithfield, Cozad and Lincoln—should not receive long-term contract benefits under a short-term contract.

The reserved attitude present in the Consumers and NPPS resolution extended to one covering national administration power policies. The policies, outlined earlier by Fred Aandahl, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, and by Archer Nelsen, REA administrator, were neither criticized nor praised in resolutions. Instead it voted that "This association requests that in negotiations of power contracts he (Aandahl) protect all rights of the rural electric customers both for present and future requirements in the purchase of federally produced power."

Express Appreciation

They also expressed appreciation for the "assurance" by Nelsen that he would protect their rights in regard to the power program.

It was evident by this stand that the NREA was willing to go along with the policies for the time being—at least until they find exactly how they stand under forthcoming contract talks with western power groups.

In other resolutions, the group asked that funds be allocated to construct the Gavins Point-Belden transmission line in the current budget as being absolutely necessary to meet Nebraska power requirements.

The group also called attention to the "necessity of funds for the Fort Randall-Grand Island transmission line," because of the growth of irrigation power requirements in central counties.

A resolution also called for giving support to 4-H club work in electrification study.

Dale Erlewine of Grant was re-elected president of the NREA, and Lawrence Brock of Wakefield vice president. Lloyd Neil of Lexington was named treasurer, and John M. Clema of Lincoln, secretary.

Curtis Won't Run Again

Rep. Carl Curtis, dean of the Nebraska Congressional delegation, announced Tuesday he will not seek re-election. Although there were many possibilities in speculation as to Republicans who might seek the seat, the announcement apparently caught Republican leaders unprepared, and nothing definite is expected until after the Founders Day meeting of the state GOP Monday. York College Future Still Undecided

Lincoln Star Special

YORK, Neb.—Members of the York College board of directors Tuesday night "appointed a committee to make further investigation with the General Department of Christian Education in Dayton," Board Chairman Bishop I. D. Warner of Puente, Calif., said.

Earlier, Bishop Warner said that no statement to the press would be made until a final decision is reached regarding whether the college would close its doors.

The board meeting was called after the Nebraska Supreme Court last week ruled against the college in the school's efforts to gain clear title to their land.

Nixon Goofs Punch Line In Tour Tale

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice President Nixon said Tuesday night international diplomacy apparently makes for strange follow-up bedfellows.

Nixon told the 8th annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum that he and Mrs. Nixon, on their recent world tour, frequently were told by their hosts they were occupying quarters used not long before by Adlai E. Stevenson or Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

"In at least two instances," Nixon said "Mrs. Nixon occupied Stevenson's bed and I occupied Mrs. Roosevelt's."

Then he hastened to add "What I really mean is—" but the rest of his explanation was drowned out by laughter.

C. J. Kadlick New VFW Post Head

Curtis J. Kadlick Tuesday night was elected commander of Harris-Fraley Post No. 131 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a regular meeting held at the VFW Club.

Other officers elected are:

M. P. (Curly) Marshall, vice commander; Robert S. Lentz, junior vice commandant; Frank Short, quartermaster; Rev. J. Sabin Swenson, chaplain; Dr. Dewey Swanson, surgeon; and James L. Brown, judge advocate.

Dale Sieg was elected to a three-year term on the board of trustees. Lumir Hoffman and Kenneth Leland are holdover trustees.

Francis Booth is the retiring commander.

—Alaska Murder—

Accused Beauty Kills Self

Mrs. Wells, Indicted In Death Of Wealthy Husband, Takes Pills

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The beautiful blonde widow scheduled for trial next month in one of Alaska's most sensational murder cases committed suicide Tuesday in a Hollywood hotel.

Mrs. Wells

Police said Mrs. Diane Wells, 31, succumbed to an overdose of sleeping pills.

She and Negro jazz drummer Johnny Warren, 33, were indicted by a grand jury in Fairbanks in the fatal shooting of her husband, wealthy Cecil Wells, last Oct. 17.

Warren said he and Mrs. Wells had a love affair, but she denied it and maintained she was innocent of the shooting.

Warren was arrested in Oakland, Calif., where he told police he had been attracted to Mrs. Wells as she danced at a Fairbanks club because "her eyes led me to believe she might appreciate attention."

Warren has been free on $5,000 bail in Fairbanks, working in a grocery store and playing in a band.

Found By Maid

Detectives B. C. Armstrong and A. W. Hubka said the woman, with no luggage, checked into room 711 of the Hollywood Plaza hotel about 6:30 Monday night. She went directly to the room and apparently never left it.

Dressed in a green sweater and a black and green skirt, the body was found curled on the floor Tuesday morning by a maid.

Armstrong said the woman had registered as Doris May of Denver but carried a key for a room in another hotel in her purse. Through it her identity was established and Hubka entered the room and found a note which read:

"For one thing—I am guilty too, for ever seeing Warren and if Warren is guilty (sic). One thing for sure is Cecil is dead and I must be the cause of it, one way or another." The written note was signed with a large "D."

Officers found another note addressed to the administrator of Wells estate and one of thanks to a friend. Printed on a torn page of the yellow classified directory was, "Happy Valentine. I Love You." The message bore no name, no initials.

Road Worker, 74, Struck By Car, Hurt

Lincoln Star Special

FRIEND, Neb.—A 74-year-old State Highway Department maintenance employee was seriously injured three miles west of Dorchester on Highway 6 Tuesday when he was struck by the car driven by an 82-year-old Geneva resident, according to the investigating officer.

James Pendergast of Exeter, who was repairing cracks in the highway at the time of the accident, was taken to Lincoln for treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital. His injuries include two broken ankles and internal injuries. Hospital authorities said he was "responding well to treatment."

The driver of the car, E. Fahlberg of Geneva, was headed east on his way to Lincoln at the time of the accident.

Saline County Sheriff John Tesar of Wilber investigated.

'Operation Honesty' Pep Talks:

Tax Assessors Given Full Treatment

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County assistant assessors — accustomed to a few brief remarks from their boss, Assessor Arthur Davis—got the full treatment Tuesday during their pre-assessment day meeting at the Courthouse.

Seventy-two assessors, assembled for final instructions and distribution of supplies, heard an unprecedented array of speakers:

Gov. Robert Crosby, plugging for his "Operation Honesty" campaign and full personal property returns.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm, repeating the board's "no spot check" policy, but which promises full investigation of reported significant evasion with assessment of penalties where warranted.

Commissioner Chauncey Barney, urging "common sense" in making out the schedule. "Don't substitute the schedule for common sense, but don't substitute common sense for the law."

Gov. Crosby, recounting his "baptism in the assessment problem," said he is concerned "with the unjust amount of tax burden on real estate."

"Nebraskans apparently have been careless in assessing their own personal property," he continued. "An official assessment is made on real estate, but a self-assessment system is applied to personal property."

'Not Fair'

"It isn't fair to ask you assessors to ferret out property—it's up to the owner to list his property," he said.

That's my appeal, he explained, first, to get public support for full returns, and second, to give you (assessors) all the backing I can as governor—to see none carry more, nor others less than his full share of taxes.

Commissioner Barney told the assessors they are not concerned with taxes, but with "merely taking a county-wide inventory of personal property."

"If you feel a proper return has not been made, indicate the same to your supervisor. Don't assume a home business will make out a business schedule, call this to the attention of your supervisor," he said.

Cheaters, Beware!

Barney said "particular attention will be given to cheaters this year."

Wednesday, the assistant assessors begin the 1954 assessment period—March 10 to April 20.

About 43,000 schedules will be returned in this county, including 32,500 city, 7,000 farm, and 3,000 business schedules.

Assessors Hear Operation Honesty's Pitchman

Gov. Robert Crosby (standing) addressed Lancaster County's 72 city and rural assistant assessors Tuesday at the Courthouse. In his "Operation Honesty" theme, the governor recalled his own 1953 schedule "dug out by political opponents." It didn't make much political hay, he said. "While it may have been a 'poor' assessment, at least it was a full schedule. Even my golf clubs were listed," he added. (Star Photo.)

Roland Stearns, New York businessman, was best man.

But the rabbi slipped his lines and told of knowing Joan since she was a child.

"Forget about the tinsel of life and live for the good things," he told the pair.

The ceremony lasted only 10 minutes, climaxed by the exchange of platinum bands.

5-Tier Cake

Among those attending the wedding were George Burns and Gracie Allen, Eddie Cantor, Nancy Sinatra, Mrs. Danny Kaye, George Montgomery and Dinah Shore, Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck, Jane Wyman and an old flame of the bride, Vic Damone. Also present were members of the Benny cast, including Dennis Day, Bob Crosby, Don Wilson and Mel Blanc.

Following the wedding, guests at a reception were treated to a buffet including caviar, boned capon, wild rice, beef stroganoff and ham.

The French champagne was L'Anson, 1945. The 200-pound wedding cake had five tiers and was decorated with doves and lilies of the valley.

Designer Don Loper flew to Paris to arrange for material to be specially woven for the bride's dress. It is an exclusive pattern of lily of the valley in creamy white French silk brocade. Thirty-five yards were used in the gown, which has a train of 15 feet.

REA Group Favors Power Plant Agreement

Wait-And-See Attitude Toward Administration Plan Apparent

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

With an apparent concern to "get the job done," the Nebraska Rural Electric Association Tuesday passed a resolution favoring an agreement between two major public power groups in construction of a new generating plant.

Leading a series of resolutions which were presented at the close of the 18th annual NREA convention in Lincoln was one in which the group unanimously voted to give "utmost support and confidence to the directors and officials of Consumers Public Power District and Nebraska Public Power System in their effort to work out details necessary to finance the proposed 60,000 kilowatt generating plant."

Discussion at the meeting seemed to favor an agreement whereby Consumers would build and finance the plant for lease to the NPPS.

Both Consumers and the NPPS previously announced plans to build plants, with NPPS contending it is the proper generating agency. Consumers stand has been that it could build a generating plant more economically.

'Best Interests'

The resolution passed Tuesday in effect asked the two groups to settle their differences and "proceed immediately to endeavor to work out plans or a program for the best interests of the ultimate electric users of Nebraska." The resolution also stated that "it appears the problem of power supply can be solved in a satisfactory manner by these organizations."

The delegates unanimously opposed moves to alter current short term contracts with some Nebraska municipalities to give them the benefit of lower rates which accompany long-range contracts. The proposal with municipalities would have been in effect only until December. One REA man explained the rejection resulted from a feeling that the municipalities—Bertrand, Loomis, Smithfield, Cozad and Lincoln—should not receive long-term contract benefits under a short-term contract.

The reserved attitude present in the Consumers and NPPS resolution extended to one covering national administration power policies. The policies, outlined earlier by Fred Aandahl, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, and by Archer Nelsen, REA administrator, were neither criticized nor praised in resolutions. Instead it voted that "This association requests that in negotiations of power contracts he (Aandahl) protect all rights of the rural electric customers both for present and future requirements in the purchase of federally produced power."

Express Appreciation

They also expressed appreciation for the "assurance" by Nelsen that he would protect their rights in regard to the power program.

It was evident by this stand that the NREA was willing to go along with the policies for the time being—at least until they find exactly how they stand under forthcoming contract talks with western power groups.

In other resolutions, the group asked that funds be allocated to construct the Gavins Point-Belden transmission line in the current budget as being absolutely necessary to meet Nebraska power requirements.

The group also called attention to the "necessity of funds for the Fort Randall-Grand Island transmission line," because of the growth of irrigation power requirements in central counties.

A resolution also called for giving support to 4-H club work in electrification study.

Dale Erlewine of Grant was re-elected president of the NREA, and Lawrence Brock of Wakefield vice president. Lloyd Neil of Lexington was named treasurer, and John M. Clema of Lincoln, secretary.

Curtis Won't Run Again

Rep. Carl Curtis, dean of the Nebraska Congressional delegation, announced Tuesday he will not seek re-election. Although there were many possibilities in speculation as to Republicans who might seek the seat, the announcement apparently caught Republican leaders unprepared, and nothing definite is expected until after the Founders Day meeting of the state GOP Monday. (Story on Page 9.)

York College Future Still Undecided

Lincoln Star Special

YORK, Neb.—Members of the York College board of directors Tuesday night "appointed a committee to make further investigation with the General Department of Christian Education in Dayton," Board Chairman Bishop I. D. Warner of Puente, Calif., said.

Earlier, Bishop Warner said that no statement to the press would be made until a final decision is reached regarding whether the college would close its doors.

The board meeting was called after the Nebraska Supreme Court last week ruled against the college in the school's efforts to gain clear title to their land.

Nixon Goofs Punch Line In Tour Tale

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice President Nixon said Tuesday night international diplomacy apparently makes for strange follow-up bedfellows.

Nixon told the 8th annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum that he and Mrs. Nixon, on their recent world tour, frequently were told by their hosts they were occupying quarters used not long before by Adlai E. Stevenson or Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

"In at least two instances," Nixon said "Mrs. Nixon occupied Stevenson's bed and I occupied Mrs. Roosevelt's."

Then he hastened to add "What I really mean is—" but the rest of his explanation was drowned out by laughter.

C. J. Kadlick New VFW Post Head

Other officers elected are: M. P. (Curly) Marshall, vice commander; Robert S. Lentz, junior vice commandant; Frank Short, quartermaster; Rev. J. Sabin Swenson, chaplain; Dr. Dewey Swanson, surgeon; and James L. Brown, judge advocate.

Dale Sieg was elected to a three-year term on the board of trustees. Lumir Hoffman and Kenneth Leland are holdover trustees.

Francis Booth is the retiring commander.

State Gets A Light Rain; Trace Here

Parts of Nebraska got some welcome moisture Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, but there wasn't much of it.

Lincoln early Wednesday had recorded only a trace.

Other points reporting rain were Grand Island, Imperial and Scottsbluff — all receiving only traces.

The Wednesday forecast calls for some light showers and warmer temperatures in the east.

—Alaska Murder—

Accused Beauty Kills Self

Mrs. Wells, Indicted In Death Of Wealthy Husband, Takes Pills

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The beautiful blonde widow scheduled for trial next month in one of Alaska's most sensational murder cases committed suicide Tuesday in a Hollywood hotel.

Mrs. Wells

Police said Mrs. Diane Wells, 31, succumbed to an overdose of sleeping pills.

She and Negro jazz drummer Johnny Warren, 33, were indicted by a grand jury in Fairbanks in the fatal shooting of her husband, wealthy Cecil Wells, last Oct. 17.

Warren said he and Mrs. Wells had a love affair, but she denied it and maintained she was innocent of the shooting.

Warren was arrested in Oakland, Calif., where he told police he had been attracted to Mrs. Wells as she danced at a Fairbanks club because "her eyes led me to believe she might appreciate attention."

Warren has been free on $5,000 bail in Fairbanks, working in a grocery store and playing in a band.

Found By Maid

Detectives B. C. Armstrong and A. W. Hubka said the woman, with no luggage, checked into room 711 of the Hollywood Plaza hotel about 6:30 Monday night. She went directly to the room and apparently never left it.

Dressed in a green sweater and a black and green skirt, the body was found curled on the floor Tuesday morning by a maid.

Armstrong said the woman had registered as Doris May of Denver but carried a key for a room in another hotel in her purse. Through it her identity was established and Hubka entered the room and found a note which read:

"For one thing—I am guilty too, for ever seeing Warren and if Warren is guilty (sic). One thing for sure is Cecil is dead and I must be the cause of it, one way or another." The written note was signed with a large "D."

Officers found another note addressed to the administrator of Wells estate and one of thanks to a friend. Printed on a torn page of the yellow classified directory was, "Happy Valentine. I Love You." The message bore no name, no initials.

Road Worker, 74, Struck By Car, Hurt

Lincoln Star Special

FRIEND, Neb.—A 74-year-old State Highway Department maintenance employee was seriously injured three miles west of Dorchester on Highway 6 Tuesday when he was struck by the car driven by an 82-year-old Geneva resident, according to the investigating officer.

James Pendergast of Exeter, who was repairing cracks in the highway at the time of the accident, was taken to Lincoln for treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital. His injuries include two broken ankles and internal injuries. Hospital authorities said he was "responding well to treatment."

The driver of the car, E. Fahlberg of Geneva, was headed east on his way to Lincoln at the time of the accident.

Saline County Sheriff John Tesar of Wilber investigated.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Considerable cloudiness Wednesday with scattered showers Wednesday and Wednesday night. Warmer east Wednesday. Strong northwesterly winds Wednesday night. Highs Wednesday 55 to 60.

'Operation Honesty' Pep Talks:

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County assistant assessors — accustomed to a few brief remarks from their boss, Assessor Arthur Davis—got the full treatment Tuesday during their pre-assessment day meeting at the Courthouse.

Seventy-two assessors, assembled for final instructions and distribution of supplies, heard an unprecedented array of speakers:

Gov. Robert Crosby, plugging for his "Operation Honesty" campaign and full personal property returns.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm, repeating the board's "no spot check" policy, but which promises full investigation of reported significant evasion with assessment of penalties where warranted.

Commissioner Chauncey Barney, urging "common sense" in making out the schedule. "Don't substitute the schedule for common sense, but don't substitute common sense for the law."

Gov. Crosby, recounting his "baptism in the assessment problem," said he is concerned "with the unjust amount of tax burden on real estate."

"Nebraskans apparently have been careless in assessing their own personal property," he continued. "An official assessment is made on real estate, but a self-assessment system is applied to personal property."

'Not Fair'

"It isn't fair to ask you assessors to ferret out property—it's up to the owner to list his property," he said.

That's my appeal, he explained, first, to get public support for full returns, and second, to give you (assessors) all the backing I can as governor—to see none carry more, nor others less than his full share of taxes.

Commissioner Barney told the assessors they are not concerned with taxes, but with "merely taking a county-wide inventory of personal property."

"If you feel a proper return has not been made, indicate the same to your supervisor. Don't assume a home business will make out a business schedule, call this to the attention of your supervisor," he said.

Cheaters, Beware!

Barney said "particular attention will be given to cheaters this year."

Wednesday, the assistant assessors begin the 1954 assessment period—March 10 to April 20.

About 43,000 schedules will be returned in this county, including 32,500 city, 7,000 farm, and 3,000 business schedules.

Assessors Hear Operation Honesty's Pitchman

Gov. Robert Crosby (standing) addressed Lancaster County's 72 city and rural assistant assessors Tuesday at the Courthouse. In his "Operation Honesty" theme, the governor recalled his own 1953 schedule "dug out by political opponents." It didn't make much political hay, he said. "While it may have been a 'poor' assessment, at least it was a full schedule. Even my golf clubs were listed," he added. (Star Photo.)

McCarthy Wars On Networks

Hé Tries To Bar NBC And CBS Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) declared war Tuesday on two major networks that refused him free air time to answer criticism from Adlai E. Stevenson.

McCarthy said of the two networks, CBS and NBC

"I intend to test out whether they can give Stevenson time for a vicious attack on me and then arrogantly refuse me time to answer."

He launched a series of preliminary skirmishes with the networks when their men tried to get into a hectic, push-and-shove news conference McCarthy ordered them barred

The Wisconsin senator spent 24 hours of turmoil in New York before winging back to Washington late in the day. He moved about in all directions with apparent zest, and shrugged off casually a purported threat upon his life.

An anonymous phone caller told Waldorf-Astoria Hotel guards early Tuesday that "something terrible" was going to happen to McCarthy.

"If anyone is going to kill you he won't call you up first," was the senator's reaction.

Truman Comments

Former President Truman, in town briefly, remarked of the purported assassination threat that "we'd have no entertainment at all if they killed him." Then Truman added soberly. "I don't believe in government by assassination"

"It's a waste of time to answer dead politicians," cracked McCarthy, when told of Truman's comment. Then he added "That indicates he still has his sense of humor."

Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for President in 1952, attacked McCarthy and GOP in a speech from Miami Saturday night The networks offered equivalent time for an answer to the GOP National Committee

The committee named Vice President Nixon to reply, reportedly as the personal choice of President Eisenhower

McCarthy sought to bar NBC and CBS news and cameramen from the news conference, without too much success But later, at a sort of supplementary news conference in his Waldorf-Astoria suite, crews from both networks were kept to the corridor outside

Flanders Opens Up On Floor Of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Flanders (R-Vt) charged in the Senate Tuesday that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) "is doing his best to shatter" the Republican Party, and by his actions is diverting the nation from "far more dangerous problems" than internal Communism.

"The dangerous attack is from without, not from within," Flanders said after reviewing problems of dealing with Communists in Korea, Indo-China, Italy, France and Latin America.

With the world split into Communist and non-Communist camps, he said, McCarthy "dons his war paint. He goes into his war dance. He emits his war whoops. He goes forth to battle and proudly returns with the scalp of a pink Army dentist."

This was a reference to Dr Irving Peress, a New York dentist whom the Army gave an honorable discharge despite McCarthy's protest that he had refused to answer questions on possible Communist links.

McCarthy Quips

McCarthy, who was in New York, at first declined to comment on Flanders' speech then said, "I haven't got time to answer Republican heroes."

Flanders, who calls himself a member of the "liberal wing" of the Republican Party, swung out in a free-ranging speech which Sen. Lehman (D-NY) praised as a "very fine statement" and which a Republican colleague, Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) said showed "moderation and sanity."

News Around The Globe

Anderson Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday tapped Secretary of the Navy Robert B Anderson, a 1952 "Eisenhower Democrat," for deputy secretary of defense

Anderson was nominated to replace Roger M Kyes in the number 2 slot at the Pentagon Kyes has resigned effective May 1.

Anderson

The 43-year-old Anderson left business, ranching and legal interests in Texas to become Navy secretary on Feb 4 1953 The White House said a new Navy secretary won't be selected immediately. Presidential Press Secretary James C Hagerty told reporters he had no information on reports it might be Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut

Wilson To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) announced Tuesday the Senate Armed Services Committee plans to take testimony March 18 from Defense Secretary Wilson and other high defense officials on the question of Communists in the armed services

Saltonstall, chairman of the committee, said the three members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Secretary of the Army Stevens and "other" defense officials would give the committee their views on whether new legislation is needed to cope with subversive elements in uniform.

Demos Will Hold Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner May 15

OMAHA (AP)—The Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, the Democrats' annual event to raise funds for election campaigns, will be held at the Fontenelle Hotel here May 15

National Committeeman Bernard Boyle, in announcing the date Tuesday, said efforts were being made to obtain a speaker who "can talk with authority on the Democratic party's agricultural policy."

"It is very evident that the Republicans have let the farmers down," Boyle said "Omaha is the heart of the farm belt and we believe this to be the place to bring out the differences between our successful farm program and the unsuccessful one of the party which is temporarily in the saddle in Washington."

Among those mentioned by Boyle as possible speakers were Sen. Hubert Humphries of Minnesota and Sen A S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma.

Saar Plan Agreed

PARIS (AP)—France and Germany agreed in just 90 minutes Tuesday to try for a settlement on the Saar based on a plan for Europeanization of the small but industrially rich border area

The agreement, after months of delay, was reached in two conversations between West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault

The French National Assembly has made a settlement of the Saar a condition of its ratification of EDC Adenauer is an outspoken advocate of EDC, which will put a half million Germans in uniform in a six-nation European Army.

New ABA Head

ATLANTA, Ga (INS)—Loyd Wright of Los Angeles was nominated Tuesday as president of the American Bar Association for 1954-55, to succeed William Jameson of Billings, Mont

The nomination, made by the group's House of Delegates meeting in Atlanta is usually equivalent to election The formal election of officers will come at the full association meeting in Chicago in August. John D Randall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was nominated for chairman of the policy-making House of Delegates.

'Absolute Limit'

SEOUL (Wednesday) (INS)—South Korea gave assurance that no attempt will be made to unify Korea by force until the Geneva Conference opening April 26, has had three months to discuss Asian problems. But Foreign Minister Y T Pyun declared that three months was "the absolute limit" of the period South Korea would delay in marching north against the Communists to unify the nation.

Buildup Asked

WASHINGTON (INS)—Syngman Rhee's government asked the U S Tuesday to expand the South Korean army by an additional 250,000 men and make it the core of a "solid front' of anti-Communist strength in Asia

The Republic of Korea also requested this country to underwrite comparable increases in naval and air power so that ROK forces will be strong enough on their own to wage a "successful war."

Symphony Audition Winners Given Enthusiastic Approval

By RUTH ARDIS

Audition winners Paul Parker, pianist, and John Carter Cole baritone, were featured soloists with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra last night. Both young musicians performed in a creditable manner which met with the enthusiastic approval of the audience This is the 12th season that audition winners have appeared under the auspices of the Lincoln Symphony It is to the credit of the organization that it should support and encourage local talent in this manner.

John C Cole sang the aria "Vision Fugitive" from the opera "Herodiade" by Massenet. The dramatic quality of the baritone's voice was well-suited to this selection, which is one of the prime favorites of the concert-room Mr Cole sang with authority and feeling. Many in the audience expressed the opinion that the number was too short, and that they would have enjoyed hearing more The soloist is the son of Mr and Mrs Russell J Cole of Lincoln and is a student at Nebraska Wesleyan University He is a voice pupil of Mary Louise Holding

Victim Of Circumstances

The other audition winner, pianist Paul Parker was the victim of a series of unfortunate circumstances which were unforeseen and would have been nerve-wracking to the most experienced concert artists The below-stage mechanism which regulates the raising of the grand piano from the pit was defective, and a long wait ensued while attempts were made to correct the trouble Finally the program was rearranged in order to give the stage hands a chance to work during intermission.

To a young pianist, set to play his debut with a symphony orchestra, this delay must have been very disconcerting and no doubt was the the primary cause of Mr. Parker's lapse of memory during the playing of the Third Movement of the Rachmaninoff Concerto in C Minor.

However, the soloist recovered in a remarkable manner and went on to carry the movement to a brilliant conclusion. Although the listener often is aware only of the melodic beauty and rhythmic sweep of the work, the concerto is a test of technical resources and musical intelligence. Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker of Auburn and is a student at the University of Nebraska. He is a piano pupil of Beth Miller Harrod.

It is interesting to note that both audition winners were performing in a field outside their major instrument While both are working toward degrees in musical education, Mr. Parker is majoring in woodwinds and Mr Cole is a special student in piano and organ. The versatility should make them both an asset to the teaching profession

The soloists provided the most serious music of the evening The orchestra's selections for this, their last concert of the season, were comparable to those of a "pop concert" such as is played in the summer by many symphony orchestras. Opening with three favorites from the incidental music to "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn, the orchestra was at its best in the "Nocturne" and "Wedding March." The "Scherzo" was lacking in the delicacy which is so characteristic and necessary for the fairy-like quality of Mendelssohn's music.

Contemporary Works

Two contemporary works were next presented. Many of the listeners were probably astonished to find that the theme for "The Midsummer Vigil" by Alfven is familiar in popular music as "The Swedish Rhapsody." The entire work is charming and features unusual combinations of instruments. The striking rhythmic effects and fast pizzicato passages of the first part were played well to contrast with the singing strings and slow tempo of the second section. Both the audience and the players seemed to enjoy the rhapsody.

"Symphony 5½" by Don Gillis was also an "easy to listen to" work, made up of four short movements, any one of which would make a good encore for a more serious program The percussion section of the orchestra had a busy evening, since the scheduled program and the two encores—"Plink, Plank, Plunk" and "The Typewriter" by LeRoy Anderson—make use of many unusual rhythmic devices

The program closed with Nicolai's "Overture to the Merry Wives of Windsor" The final concert of the season will be a solo recital by Rise Stevens on May 4.

Murrow Hits Joe

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS commentator Edward R Murrow said Tuesday night that Sen Joseph McCarthy has repeatedly stepped over the line between "investigating and persecuting"

Murrow ended a half-hour film and record roundup of the Wisconsin Republican's recent activities with an attack on the senator's methods and a call to his opponents—and supporters—to speak up. "This is no time," Murrow said, "for men who oppose Senator McCarthy's methods to keep silent—or for those who approve."

GOP Yield On Taxes Disclosed

Limit Is Agreed On Excise Levy Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans in a closed-door caucus late Tuesday agreed to limit extension of present excise taxes in liquor, automobiles, cigarettes, gas and other items to one year only.

The caucus decision, after an intra-party row, yielded to the Democratic position on the issue and overrode Chairman Daniel A Reed (R-NY) and GOP members of the tax-writing-Ways and Means Committee

Rates on these items were scheduled to be cut by one billion dollars a year starting April 1. But the committee already had approved a bill, scheduled for House action Wednesday, extending them indefinitely

Reform Bill

The caucus decision topped a series of developments in which:

1 The Ways and Means Committee gave final approval to a vast tax reform bill cutting taxes on individuals and business by $1,397,000,000 the first year and more later

2 Reed hailed this proposal as "the most monumental piece of legislation ever attempted by the Congress" He added "its passage will lead to increased employment and a higher standard of living"

3 Committee Democrats, in a minority report, said the reductions ultimately would cost the government 3½ to 4 billion dollars a year and amounted to an attempt to "hoodwink the public." Democrats said the revision program would provide "a mere pittance of relief to the average taxpayer and substantial relief to larger businesses and wealthier individual taxpayers"

The general revision bill reorganizes and rewrites the entire tax structure, for the first time in more than 70 years. It aims at removing scores of alleged inequities and loopholes, at giving the tax code a "new look" — simpler, clearer and fairer

The bill would give tax cuts chiefly through a long list of new or more liberal deductions. One controversial provision sharply reduces individual income taxes on stock dividends.

Oslo Visit Planned

LONDON (INS) — Clarence House announced Tuesday that Queen Mother Elizabeth would visit Oslo March 19 to 22 as the guest of King Haakon.

Permission For Petroleum Pipeline To Cross Lancaster County Sought

An eight-inch petroleum products pipe line will cross Lancaster County, according to plans of the Great Lakes Pipe Line Co., Kansas City, Mo

R. F. Lauderdale, Lincoln representative of the firm, applied to the County Board for permission to cross county roads where necessary. Similar permission is being sought to cross state roads

Lauderdale said a pumping station would probably be located near the Turnpike Ballroom south of Lincoln.

Four Tracts

Thomas G Adams, of Kansas City, Mo., has conveyed four irregular tracts in the southwest quarter of Station 36, Township 9, Range 6 to the Great Lakes company, according to two deeds filed with the Lancaster County Register of Deeds

Adams said the pumping station would be located on the approximately 160 acre tract between the Burlington and Union Pacific railroad right-of-ways

Consideration, other than a nominal one, was not disclosed in the deeds or by Adams

The pipe line will go from Nebraska City northwest to Doniphan in Hall County, and provide an outlet for refined products now being hauled from Omaha to York, Lauderdale said

The line would enter the county about three and a half miles northeast of Bennet, and cross into Seward County about six miles southwest of Denton.

North-South

Lauderdale said the compaay now operates an eight and 12-inch line to Nebraska City from Falls City where the north-south system of the company runs

County Engineer Weaver recommended granting the application and no objection was voiced Final action was deferred a week

Weaver said the Great Lakes line is the first petroleum products ground carrier to enter the county, although several natural gas lines are presently located here

'Our Own Terms'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice-President Nixon said Tuesday night an adjustment has been made in U S thought to the point "where we will now fight on our own terms"

And, Nixon told the 8th annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum, U S armed strength is being adjusted "to carry out that policy"

"In not one area of the world," Nixon said, "have the Reds gained this year and in many areas, we have made gains."

Lutherans Believe in Salvation by Faith

Anyone with just a smattering of church history will know that one of the major doctrines on which Martin Luther broke with the Church of his day was the Bible doctrine of "justification by faith."

This is the doctrine that men receive full and free forgiveness of their sins simply by trusting in Christ and His atonement. By faith the penitent sinner accepts the complete redemption which Christ has won through His substitutionary death upon the cross.

This is a clear Bible teaching. St. Paul says, "By grace are ye saved, through faith, . . . not of works, lest any man should boast." In another place he says, "A man is justified by faith without the deeds of the Law"

The Bible is so clear and emphatic on this point that it makes it the dividing line between the Christian religion and all others. The Christian religion teaches salvation by faith in a divine atonement; all other religions teach salvation by human attainment.

Throughout four centuries, the Lutheran Church has become known particularly for its insistence on this cornerstone of the Christian religion. Its message is still the message of the Book of Acts: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

McCarthy Wars On Networks

He Tries To Bar NBC And CBS Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) declared war Tuesday on two major networks that refused him free air time to answer criticism from Adlai E. Stevenson.

McCarthy said of the two networks, CBS and NBC:

"I intend to test out whether they can give Stevenson time for a vicious attack on me and then arrogantly refuse me time to answer."

He launched a series of preliminary skirmishes with the networks when their men tried to get into a hectic, push-and-shove news conference. McCarthy ordered them barred.

The Wisconsin senator spent 24 hours of turmoil in New York before winging back to Washington late in the day. He moved about in all directions with apparent zest, and shrugged off casually a purported threat upon his life.

An anonymous phone caller told Waldorf-Astoria Hotel guards early Tuesday that "something terrible" was going to happen to McCarthy.

"If anyone is going to kill you he won't call you up first," was the senator's reaction.

Truman Comments

Former President Truman, in town briefly, remarked of the purported assassination threat that "we'd have no entertainment at all if they killed him." Then Truman added soberly: "I don't believe in government by assassination."

"It's a waste of time to answer dead politicians," cracked McCarthy, when told of Truman's comment. Then he added: "That indicates he still has his sense of humor."

Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for President in 1952, attacked McCarthy and GOP in a speech from Miami Saturday night. The networks offered equivalent time for an answer to the GOP National Committee.

The committee named Vice President Nixon to reply, reportedly as the personal choice of President Eisenhower.

McCarthy sought to bar NBC and CBS news and cameramen from the news conference, without too much success. But later, at a sort of supplementary news conference in his Waldorf-Astoria suite, crews from both networks were kept to the corridor outside.

Flanders Opens Up On Floor Of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) charged in the Senate Tuesday that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) "is doing his best to shatter" the Republican Party, and by his actions is diverting the nation from "far more dangerous problems" than internal Communism.

"The dangerous attack is from without, not from within," Flanders said after reviewing problems of dealing with Communists in Korea, Indo-China, Italy, France and Latin America.

With the world split into Communist and non-Communist camps, he said, McCarthy "dons his war paint. He goes into his war dance. He emits his war whoops. He goes forth to battle and proudly returns with the scalp of a pink Army dentist."

This was a reference to Dr. Irving Peress, a New York dentist whom the Army gave an honorable discharge despite McCarthy's protest that he had refused to answer questions on possible Communist links.

McCarthy Quips

McCarthy, who was in New York, at first declined to comment on Flanders' speech, then said, "I haven't got time to answer Republican heroes."

Flanders, who calls himself a member of the "liberal wing" of the Republican Party, swung out in a free-ranging speech which Sen. Lehman (D-NY) praised as a "very fine statement" and which a Republican colleague, Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) said showed "moderation and sanity."

Two Children Trapped In Burning Home

Steven Finke, 5, and his sister, Sandra, 2, lost their lives when flames swept through their home in Scottsbluff. The youngsters, trapped in a rear bedroom of the house shown abve, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dean Finke. Mrs. Finke suffered head and face burns. Her husband was in Casper, Wyo., looking for work as a garage mechanic at the time of the tragedy. (AP Wirephoto).

News Around The Globe

Anderson Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday tapped Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson, a 1952 "Eisenhower Democrat," for deputy secretary of defense.

Anderson was nominated to replace Roger M. Kyes in the number 2 slot at the Pentagon. Kyes has resigned effective May 1.

Anderson

The 43-year-old Anderson left business, ranching and legal interests in Texas to become Navy secretary on Feb. 4, 1953. The White House said a new Navy secretary won't be selected immediately. Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters he had no information on reports it might be Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut.

Wilson To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) announced Tuesday the Senate Armed Services Committee plans to take testimony March 18 from Defense Secretary Wilson and other high defense officials on the question of Communists in the armed services.

Saltonstall, chairman of the committee, said the three members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Secretary of the Army Stevens and "other" defense officials would give the committee their views on whether new legislation is needed to cope with subversive elements in uniform.

Demos Will Hold Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner May 15

OMAHA (AP)—The Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, the Democrats' annual event to raise funds for election campaigns, will be held at the Fontenelle Hotel here May 15.

National Committeeman Bernard Boyle, in announcing the date Tuesday, said efforts were being made to obtain a speaker who "can talk with authority on the Democratic party's agricultural policy."

"It is very evident that the Republicans have let the farmers down," Boyle said. "Omaha is the heart of the farm belt and we believe this to be the place to bring out the differences between our successful farm program and the unsuccessful one of the party which is temporarily in the saddle in Washington."

Among those mentioned by Boyle as possible speakers were Sen. Hubert Humphries of Minnesota and Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma.

Saar Plan Agreed

PARIS (AP)—France and Germany agreed in just 90 minutes Tuesday to try for a settlement on the Saar based on a plan for Europeanization of the small but industrially rich border area.

The agreement, after months of delay, was reached in two conversations between West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

The French National Assembly has made a settlement of the Saar a condition of its ratification of EDC. Adenauer is an outspoken advocate of EDC, which will put a half million Germans in uniform in a six-nation European Army.

New ABA Head

ATLANTA, Ga. (INS)—Loyd Wright of Los Angeles was nominated Tuesday as president of the American Bar Association for 1954-55, to succeed William Jameson of Billings, Mont.

The nomination, made by the group's House of Delegates meeting in Atlanta, is usually equivalent to election. The formal election of officers will come at the full association meeting in Chicago in August. John D. Randall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was nominated for chairman of the policy-making House of Delegates.

'Absolute Limit'

SEOUL (Wednesday) (INS)—South Korea gave assurance that no attempt will be made to unify Korea by force until the Geneva Conference, opening April 26, has had three months to discuss Asian problems. But Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun declared that three months was "the absolute limit" of the period South Korea would delay in marching north against the Communists to unify the nation.

Buildup Asked

WASHINGTON (INS)—Syngman Rhee's government asked the U.S. Tuesday to expand the South Korean army by an additional 250,000 men and make it the core of a "solid front" of anti-Communist strength in Asia.

The Republic of Korea also requested this country to underwrite comparable increases in naval and air power so that ROK forces will be strong enough on their own to wage a "successful war."

Symphony Audition Winners Given Enthusiastic Approval

By RUTH ARDIS

Audition winners Paul Parker, pianist, and John Carter Cole baritone, were featured soloists with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra last night. Both young musicians performed in a creditable manner which met with the enthusiastic approval of the audience. This is the 12th season that audition winners have appeared under the auspices of the Lincoln Symphony. It is to the credit of the organization that it should support and encourage local talent in this manner.

John C. Cole sang the aria "Vision Fugitive" from the opera "Herodiade" by Massenet. The dramatic quality of the baritone's voice was well-suited to this selection, which is one of the prime favorites of the concert-room. Mr. Cole sang with authority and feeling. Many in the audience expressed the opinion that the number was too short, and that they would have enjoyed hearing more. The soloist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Cole of Lincoln and is a student at Nebraska Wesleyan University. He is a voice pupil of Mary Louise Holding.

Victim Of Circumstances

The other audition winner, pianist Paul Parker was the victim of a series of unfortunate circumstances which were unforeseen and would have been nerve-wracking to the most experienced concert artists. The below-stage mechanism which regulates the raising of the grand piano from the pit was defective, and a long wait ensued while attempts were made to correct the trouble. Finally the program was rearranged in order to give the stage hands a chance to work during intermission.

To a young pianist, set to play his debut with a symphony orchestra, this delay must have been very disconcerting and no doubt was the the primary cause of Mr. Parker's lapse of memory during the playing of the Third Movement of the Rachmaninoff Concerto in C Minor.

However, the soloist recovered in a remarkable manner and went on to carry the movement to a brilliant conclusion. Although the listener often is aware only of the melodic beauty and rhythmic sweep of the work, the concerto is a test of technical resources and musical intelligence. Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker of Auburn and is a student at the University of Nebraska. He is a piano pupil of Beth Miller Harrod.

It is interesting to note that both audition winners were performing in a field outside their major instrument. While both are working toward degrees in musical education, Mr. Parker is majoring in woodwinds and Mr. Cole is a special student in piano and organ. The versatility should make them both an asset to the teaching profession.

The soloists provided the most serious music of the evening. The orchestra's selections for this, their last concert of the season, were comparable to those of a "pop concert" such as is played in the summer by many symphony orchestras. Opening with three favorites from the incidental music to "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn, the orchestra was at its best in the "Nocturne" and "Wedding March." The "Scherzo" was lacking in the delicacy which is so characteristic and necessary for the fairy-like quality of Mendelssohn's music.

Contemporary Works

Two contemporary works were next presented. Many of the listeners were probably astonished to find that the theme for "The Midsummer Vigil" by Alfven is familiar in popular music as "The Swedish Rhapsody." The entire work is charming and features unusual combinations of instruments. The striking rhythmic effects and fast pizzicato passages of the first part were played well to contrast with the singing strings and slow tempo of the second section. Both the audience and the players seemed to enjoy the rhapsody.

"Symphony 5½" by Don Gillis was also an "easy to listen to" work, made up of four short movements, any one of which would make a good encore for a more serious program. The percussion section of the orchestra had a busy evening, since the scheduled program and the two encores—"Plink, Plank, Plunk" and "The Typewriter" by LeRoy Anderson—make use of many unusual rhythmic devices.

The program closed with Nicolai's "Overture to the Merry Wives of Windsor." The final concert of the season will be a solo recital by Rise Stevens on May 4.

Murrow Hits Joe

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS commentator Edward R. Murrow said Tuesday night that Sen. Joseph McCarthy has repeatedly stepped over the line between "investigating and persecuting."

Murrow ended a half-hour film and record roundup of the Wisconsin Republican's recent activities with an attack on the senator's methods and a call to his opponents—and supporters—to speak up. "This is no time," Murrow said, "for men who oppose Senator McCarthy's methods to keep silent—or for those who approve."

GOP Yield On Taxes Disclosed

Limit Is Agreed On Excise Levy Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans in a closed-door caucus late Tuesday agreed to limit extension of present excise taxes in liquor, automobiles, cigarettes, gas and other items to one year only.

The caucus decision, after an intra-party row, yielded to the Democratic position on the issue and overrode Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) and GOP members of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

Rates on these items were scheduled to be cut by one billion dollars a year starting April 1. But the committee already had approved a bill, scheduled for House action Wednesday, extending them indefinitely.

Reform Bill

The caucus decision topped a series of developments in which:

1. The Ways and Means Committee gave final approval to a vast tax reform bill cutting taxes on individuals and business by $1,397,000,000 the first year and more later.

2. Reed hailed this proposal as "the most monumental piece of legislation ever attempted by the Congress." He added "its passage will lead to increased employment and a higher standard of living."

3. Committee Democrats, in a minority report, said the reductions ultimately would cost the government 3½ to 4 billion dollars a year and amounted to an attempt to "hoodwink the public." Democrats said the revision program would provide "a mere pittance of relief to the average taxpayer and substantial relief to larger businesses and wealthier individual taxpayers."

The general revision bill reorganizes and rewrites the entire tax structure, for the first time in more than 70 years. It aims at removing scores of alleged inequities and loopholes, at giving the tax code a "new look" — simpler, clearer and fairer.

The bill would give tax cuts chiefly through a long list of new or more liberal deductions. One controversial provision sharply reduces individual income taxes on stock dividends.

Oslo Visit Planned

LONDON (INS) — Clarence House announced Tuesday that Queen Mother Elizabeth would visit Oslo March 19 to 22 as the guest of King Haakon.

Permission For Petroleum Pipeline To Cross Lancaster County Sought

An eight-inch petroleum products pipe line will cross Lancaster County, according to plans of the Great Lakes Pipe Line Co., Kansas City, Mo.

R. F. Lauderdale, Lincoln representative of the firm, applied to the County Board for permission to cross county roads where necessary. Similar permission is being sought to cross state roads.

Lauderdale said a pumping station would probably be located near the Turnpike Ballroom south of Lincoln.

Four Tracts

Thomas G. Adams, of Kansas City, Mo., has conveyed four irregular tracts in the southwest quarter of Station 36, Township 9, Range 6 to the Great Lakes company, according to two deeds filed with the Lancaster County Register of Deeds.

Adams said the pumping station would be located on the approximately 160 acre tract between the Burlington and Union Pacific railroad right-of-ways.

Consideration, other than a nominal one, was not disclosed in the deeds or by Adams.

The pipe line will go from Nebraska City northwest to Doniphan in Hall County, and provide an outlet for refined products now being hauled from Omaha to York, Lauderdale said.

The line would enter the county about three and a half miles northeast of Bennet, and cross into Seward County about six miles southwest of Denton.

North-South

Lauderdale said the compaay now operates an eight and 12-inch line to Nebraska City from Falls City where the north-south system of the company runs.

County Engineer Weaver recommended granting the application and no objection was voiced. Final action was deferred a week.

Weaver said the Great Lakes line is the first petroleum products ground carrier to enter the county, although several natural gas lines are presently located here.

'Our Own Terms'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice-President Nixon said Tuesday night an adjustment has been made in U. S. thought to the point "where we will now fight on our own terms."

And, Nixon told the 8th annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum, U. S. armed strength is being adjusted "to carry out that policy."

"In not one area of the world," Nixon said, "have the Reds gained this year and in many areas, we have made gains."

Lutherans Believe in Salvation by Faith

Anyone with just a smattering of church history will know that one of the major doctrines on which Martin Luther broke with the Church of his day was the Bible doctrine of "justification by faith."

This is the doctrine that men receive full and free forgiveness of their sins simply by trusting in Christ and His atonement. By faith the penitent sinner accepts the complete redemption which Christ has won through His substitutionary death upon the cross.

This is a clear Bible teaching. St. Paul says, "By grace are ye saved, through faith, . . . not of works, lest any man should boast." In another place he says, "A man is justified by faith without the deeds of the Law."

The Bible is so clear and emphatic on this point that it makes it the dividing line between the Christian religion and all others. The Christian religion teaches salvation by faith in a divine atonement; all other religions teach salvation by human attainment.

Throughout four centuries, the Lutheran Church has become known particularly for its insistence on this cornerstone of the Christian religion. Its message is still the message of the Book of Acts: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

'Power To Deliver Atomic Retaliation Not Enough,' Says Admiral Radford

NEW YORK (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford said Tuesday night the Joint Chiefs of Staff do not "subscribe to the thinking that the ability to deliver massive atomic retaliation is, by itself, adequate to meet all our security needs."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs added:

"It is not correct to say that we are relying exclusively on one weapon, or one service, or that we are anticipating one kind of war. I believe that this nation could be a prisoner of its own military posture if it had no capability, other than to deliver a massive atomic attack."

In an address prepared for delivery to the Economic Club of New York, the admiral said "it should be evident from the forces we intend to maintain that we are not relying solely upon air power." He said the defense establishment would continue to have an army of more than a million men and a "navy that is second to none." Then, continuing an explanation of the program adopted by the new Joint Chiefs after they took office last summer, Radford said:

Ready Reserve

"The program for our armed forces is more a matter of emphasis. We are putting emphasis on our advantages, our long suits . . . in other words, on air power, on new weapons, and on a high state of combat operational readiness. We are placing emphasis on a ready reserve, mobility and flexibility . . . not for any one date, but for now and for the indefinite future.

"As the importance of air power and new weapons increases, it does not necessarily mean that the importance of ground and naval forces decreases."

To meet the "massive nature of the Communist threat" throughout the world, Radford said the United States must have, in addition to its own military strength, its Allies, a "steady military coalition with our partners, sustained and planned so as to use our joint capabilities with maximum efficiency and minimum strain."

Radford said that Communism has many tentacles which seek many objectives and Indo-China is one of them. Indo-China, he declared, "is of special interest to us because its loss would imperil directly the whole of southeast Asia." Therefore the United States has made available substantial additional resources to assist in the military defense of Indo-China and will continue such assistance.

"There has been public speculation," he said, "to the effect that the United States seeks to direct and control the military operations in Indo-China. This is not the case at all . . .

"Primary responsibility for the conduct of military operations rest upon France and the associated states. Their manpower must do the fighting, and they must bear a large part of the cost of military effort . . .

"The United States has not requested, and does not desire, to assume the responsibility for the military situation in Indo-China. That responsibility is recognized by all concerned to belong to the French and the associated states."

TOKYO (Wednesday) (AP) — Peiping Radio said today that the foreign minister of Ho Chi Minh's Communists in Indo-China has issued a statement protesting the dispatch of more than 200 U.S. air technicians to aid the French in the war there.

Although American officials have emphasized the technicians served only as instructors in non-combat areas, Ho's foreign minister, Hoang Minh Giam, said the airmen were sent to "directly participate" in the Indo-China war.

Fire Damage At Parsonage Near $3,000

Fire, apparently starting from a faulty furnace, broke out Tuesday in the pastorate home of Rev. Elmer Beckman at 721 No. 24 resulting in about $3,000 damage.

Neither Beckman nor his family, including three children, were home when the blaze broke out. Rev. Beckman is pastor of the American Lutheran Church at 24th and U, located south of the pastorate home.

The alarm was turned in by Shirley Wagner of 720 No. 24, who said she saw smoke billowing from windows. The home is owned by the church. The furnishings belonged to Rev. Beckman, who has been pastor of the church for two years.

County Road Number Signs Likely, But Confusion Reigns

Lancaster County may soon have a "rural house and road numbering system," which has been tentatively renamed by the Commissioners as the "Lancaster County Locator System."

This was part of a proposed "written memorandum of understanding" between Cornhusker Rural Directors Service representatives and the County Board.

An impasse had been reached in the Service's request for permission to erect and maintain signposts at country road intersections as part of a proposed rural director service.

Legal Objections

Commissioners Chauncey Barney and Chris Kuhner withheld permission because of legal objections to the "advertitsing aspects of the signs" as originally proposed. (Commissioner Russell Brehm has disqualified himself from discussion and voting in the matter.)

The memorandum which has been referred to the county attorney's office for drafting, if finally approved by both parties would:

1. Substitute "Lancaster County Locator System" as the legend on the signs instead of "Rural Directory Service" and the name of a sponsoring organization.

2. Dedicate the numbering system, its equipment and use, to the public. The number system would be public property with only a directory published in connection with the system retaining a copyright.

3. Original installation would be made by Cornhusker Service, but ownership and maintenance of the signs would rest with the county, except that damaged signs would be replaced at the company's expense.

4. Place cost of installation in escrow with completion date for July 1.

5. A staggered system, allowing cars approaching from any direction, full vision of at least every other intersection sign.

6. Adopt the system in the public interest, vesting full title with the county, but not constituting an endorsement of the Cornhusker Rural Directory Service.

W. E. Bisbee of Wichita, Kan., Nation-Wide Rural Directory Agency representative, said about 1,135 signs would be required for the project. Cost per sign is $1.75.

Officers of the Cornhusker Service, state franchise holder, are H. H. Hall of Lincoln, president, and Harold Boker of York, secretary.

After an hour or so of discussion, Bisbee was asked what has been the company's experience with maintenance of the signs.

"We've experienced no trouble in keeping the signs up," he replied, "but I've never had this experience before in any county to just get the signs up."

8 More Victims Of Crash Found

NICE, France (AP)—A French-American Alpine team Tuesday found eight more bodies around the wreckage of a U. S. Air Force C-47 transport which carried 20 persons to death last Thursday.

The rescue team worked its way down a mountainside into an 1,800-foot ravine holding the fuselage. The rescuers found all 16 passengers had been thrown out by the impact of the crash. They regained eight bodies lying in the snow near the fuselage.

Directors of the operation said they expected to find the rest of the bodies scattered along the side of the ravine.

The bodies of four crewmen were found Monday. The C-47 was lost on a flight from Rome to Bitburg, Germany.

Services for Erle H. Reid, 67, prominent Wyoming attorney, were held at All Saints Episcopal Church in Torrington, Wyo.

Mr. Reid was a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law.

Surviving are his wife, the former Dorothy Watkins of Lincoln; a son, Erle Jr. of Albuquerque, N. M., and a daughter, Mrs. John McGuire of New York City.

Nebraska Princess

Miss Jane Moorhead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moorhead of Omaha, has been chosen Nebraska princess for the Cherry Blossom Festival to be held in Washington, D. C., March 30 to April 4. Miss Moorhead, 19, is a student at Northwestern Unniversity. (AP Wirephoto Tuesday Night.)

Fire Damage At Parsonage Near $3,000

Fire, apparently starting from a faulty furnace, broke out Tuesday in the pastorate home of Rev. Elmer Beckman at 721 No. 24 resulting in about $3,000 damage.

Neither Beckman nor his family, including three children, were home when the blaze broke out. Rev. Beckman is pastor of the American Lutheran Church, at 24th and U, located south of the pastorate home.

The alarm was turned in by Shirley Wagner of 720 No. 24, who said she saw smoke billowing from windows. The home is owned by the church. The furnishings belonged to Rev. Beckman, who has been pastor of the church for two years.

County Road Number Signs Likely, But Confusion Reigns

Lancaster County may soon have a "rural house and road numbering system," which has been tentatively renamed by the Commissioners as the "Lancaster County Locator System."

This was part of a proposed "written memorandum of understanding" between Cornhusker Rural Directors Service representatives and the County Board.

An impasse had been reached in the Service's request for permission to erect and maintain signposts at country road intersections as part of a proposed rural director service.

Legal Objections

Commissioners Chauncey Barney and Chris Kuhner withheld permission because of legal objections to the "advertitsing aspects of the signs" as originally proposed. (Commissioner Russell Brehm has disqualified himself from discussion and voting in the matter.)

The memorandum which has been referred to the county attorney's office for drafting, if finally approved by both parties would:

1. Substitute "Lancaster County Locator System" as the legend on the signs instead of "Rural Directory Service" and the name of a sponsoring organization.

2. Dedicate the numbering system, its equipment and use, to the public. The number system would be public property with only a directory published in connection with the system retaining a copyright.

3. Original installation would be made by Cornhusker Service, but ownership and maintenance of the signs would rest with the county, except that damaged signs would be replaced at the company's expense.

4. Place cost of installation in escrow with completion date for July 1.

5. A staggered system, allowing cars approaching from any direction, full vision of at least every other intersection sign.

6. Adopt the system in the public interest, vesting full title with the county, but not constituting an endorsement of the Cornhusker Rural Directory Service.

W. E. Bisbee of Wichita, Kan., Nation-Wide Rural Directory Agency representative, said about 1,135 signs would be required for the project. Cost per sign is $1.75.

Officers of the Cornhusker Service, state franchise holder, are H. H. Hall of Lincoln, president, and Harold Boker of York, secretary.

After an hour or so of discussion, Bisbee was asked what has been the company's experience with maintenance of the signs.

"We've experienced no trouble in keeping the signs up," he replied, "but I've never had this experience before in any county to just get the signs up."

8 More Victims Of Crash Found

NICE, France (AP)—A French-American Alpine team Tuesday found eight more bodies around the wreckage of a U. S. Air Force C-47 transport which carried 20 persons to death last Thursday.

The rescue team worked its way down a mountainside into an 1,800-foot ravine holding the fuselage. The rescuers found all 16 passengers had been thrown out by the impact of the crash. They regained eight bodies lying in the snow near the fuselage.

Directors of the operation said they expected to find the rest of the bodies scattered along the side of the ravine.

The bodies of four crewmen were found Monday. The C-47 was lost on a flight from Rome to Bitburg, Germany.

Mr. Curtis To Retire

We seriously doubt there will be any great shedding of tears or wringing of hands over the announcement by Mr. Carl Curtis of Minden, First Nebraska District congressman, that he does not intend to seek re-election. While publicly the announcement may be somewhat in the nature of a flip-flop, the rumors have been flying thick and fast for months that Mr. Curtis planned to step down from Congress.

His decision could mean that he, with an ear to the ground, actually sidestepped the toughest political fight he has ever faced in all of his years in Congress. Mr. Curtis did not particularly endear himself to the people of the First Nebraska District with his study of social security, in which he shattered the peace and calm by what many construed as an unprovoked attack upon the program. Nor was criticism of him confined to partisan spheres. Many, many Republicans expressed disappointment with Mr. Curtis' views on the subject.

In what is intended as his swan song, from friendly newspaper sources we learn that Mr. Curtis is somewhat of a tax expert. That could be. We have no knowledge to what extent he shaped tax legislation through his membership on the House Ways and Means Committee.

There is the possibility that Mr. Curtis' retirement foreshadowed by his announcement that he would not seek re-election may leave his party in a stronger position. Frank Morrison was in the position of giving Congressman Curtis a real battle. As a man of ability and known views, Mr. Morrison still occupies a strong position.

Two Daughters Have We

Now and again one happens onto those little items that provide the too infrequent rays of sunshine in the news and place back into perspective once more the weight of world affairs that snatch the bigger type day in and day out.

Tucked away in Stanton Register columns were these proud words of Editor Jim Cornwell: "Another little girl came to live at our house last week, and already she's brightened our lives just by being there. This little tyke, a five-month-old we've named Christine, follows our other adopted daughter, Cathleen, now 19 months. We think we're mighty lucky people to have been chosen to make a home for these little girls."

Mighty lucky people, indeed. And two mighty fortunate little girls. A happier arrangement than this matter of adoption in everyday terms of give-and-take would be hard to find, it seems to us. Consider on the one hand a childless couple whose home circle is incomplete without youngsters and who feel the need for that particular love and dependency that little ones afford. On the other hand, deprived of parents and livelihood, are tiny waifs who can fill that void. What more satisfactory, then, than for them to put their lives together, each to cherish the other?

Adoption today is a far cry from the early time of settlement in this prairie country. Then it was that unwanted bits of humanity were trucked into town like so much livestock, there to stand and be judged by diligent and not always unkindly folk, not so much on merits of affection or attractiveness, but whether they were husky enough to stand up under the hard work expected of them in exchange for food and other scant necessities of frontier existence.

The tendency now on the part of would-be adoptive parents is impatience at the long and tedious delay while the processes of administrative detail and checking more slowly but certainly. One such couple recently expressed irritation at what seemed to them endless months, and another Star reader responded promptly that it was all worth the waiting when the young arms finally encircled her neck and one as dear as her own called her "Mom."

"There was a day," Mr. Cornwell wrote truthfully enough, "when adoption was spoken of in hushed tones. Sadly enough, it was something done in secrecy and on many occasions arose later to stun a child. . . . There is something quite wonderful about it, really. Foster parents soon find they never think of a child other than as their own . . ."

And as he goes on, there is no line between the tenderness of his words and those of another midwestern newspaperman who once upon a time wrote of his "Mary."

Misplaced Hope

New York state is on the verge of passing a compulsory automobile liability insurance law. Like other states, it is laboring with a rising traffic accident rate and with the substantial losses that are encountered every year by the destruction of property.

No one in Nebraska has added up the wealth loss that attends the luxury of smashing up automobiles. But is is far too much for any thrifty state to justify. The concern out here is more for preservation of human life.

But it is interesting to note that Nebraska sometime ago legislated a financial responsibility law with considerable success. However, it can't be said that it ended accidents. The state has more than ever. Nor did it stop economic loss. It simply shifted a part of it from the car owners to the insurance companies. New York will find that it will take something else, something no one has yet found, to get to the root of the trouble—which is accident prevention.

On Flaxing Around

Industriousness is one of the key things of life. It has produced everything we have. But oddly enough it is a human aim to escape from it. All of which is to say that when the next day comes that you secretly resolve to turn out the minimum effort at your appointed work just remember that the reason you are alive is the diligent performance of your body. Each day your heart beats 103,689 times and your blood travels 168,000 miles. You draw breath 23,240 times and you speak an average of 4,800 words, exercising seven million brain cells. But if that makes you feel a little chesty remember, you have nine billion brain cells. You have lots of room for improvement.

We Like Spring

Besides more comfortable weather, spring appeals to people because it is full of hopeful dreams. The farmer can look forward to a record crop. Business can anticipate profits. The young man is prompted to take a wife. Baseball magnates and fans can join in imagining a pennant winner. Reality later on will provide something less. But it is good to have one season in the year when everyone can be a champion and can ignore for the nonce his own limitations.

Tough League

The Nebraska bar association would like to have the state adopt the Missouri Plan for selection of judges. The plan would have a judge appointed by the governor, rather than elected. When his term is up he would run, not against a personal opponent, but on his record. This might be all right for judges. But other office holders would dread it. The average congressman's record, for instance, would be a harder hurdle than the most formidable of personal opponents.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Assistant Secretary of Interior Fred G. Aandahl has come and gone. His Nebraska visit had as its objective to soothe the ruffled feelings of Nebraska's rural electrification districts, disturbed as they are that the present power policy of the Department of Interior may result in serious injury to them. Nor is it a laughing matter. These districts furnish electricity to more than 80,000 farm homes. The service which they provide is perhaps one of the greatest contributions to the enrichment of rural life that has taken place in a hundred years.

★

Sincerity or insincerity of the men shaping the administration's present power policy is not an issue. It could be granted that Secretary McKay and his assistant are contributing a great service to this country in what they are doing. There is always room for an argument between public and private power. Assistant Secretary Aandahl may believe 100 per cent in what he says when he talks about returning this program to local control. There has been a monotonous emphasis, an insulting emphasis at times, in these discussions seeking to justify what is being done in the name that Big Government is being dismantled and local government restored. Aandahl knows that had this country waited for the private utilities to have developed rural electrification on a national scale, America could have found itself sitting in the dark a hundred years hence with folded hands. It was a job which could be accomplished only by throwing back of all the enormous strength of the federal government.

Sincerity Or Insincerity?

With the exception of thickly populated rural areas, and on a very limited scale in these regions, the private utilities never made any real effort to develop rural electrification. Now, of course, they want to move in. The directive issued by the Department of Interior, which has been the center of a stormy controversy ever since it put in an appearance, with a bland assurance from the assistant secretary that discussion relating to it is "academic" furnishes a real foundation for concern.

★

If discussion of the directive is "academic," as the assistant secretary undertook to establish here in Lincoln, why was the directive ever written? Hasn't the Interior Department enough to keep it busy without inviting academic discussion? This directive, with full apologies to Mr. Aandahl, was drawn for the sole purpose of establishing a new policy antagonistic to public power. This directive was and still is a serious shadow in the natural growth and development of rural electrification. This directive was a not too sly nor subtle attempt to tie the private utilities into the broad program of public benefits in the construction of multiple-purpose dams. It has created widespread opposition, particularly in the Middle West and the Pacific Northwest. Now the Department of Interior, having been caught up, seems to be engaged in a lot of double talk.

Why Was It Written?

What the department is actually undertaking to do is to reverse federal policy that has been in existence for 35 years under both Republican and Democratic administrations. That is the measure of the present reactionary outlook of the Department of Interior under McKay.

McCarthy Thrives On Ike's Appeasement

WASHINGTON—When the Republican party threw a big cheese party for newsmen at the opening of Congress, Joe McCarthy came up to John Foster Dulles, put his arm around his shoulder and said:

"Haven't I been a good boy lately?"

What McCarthy referred to was the fact that he had laid off criticising the State Department for a few weeks, partly as a result of a compromise patched up with Vice President Nixon in Miami in December.

Nixon had urged McCarthy to lay off the witch-hunting and turn the problem of Communism over to Sen. Jenner's Internal Security Committee where it properly belongs. In turn, Nixon promised that Attorney General Brownell would turn over to McCarthy various cases of alleged graft and inefficiency which Nixon said would reflect on the Truman administration. Thus McCarthy would continue to get the headlines, though probing something that legitimately came under his government operations committee.

McCarthy agreed. But no sooner had he returned to Washington, and was asked by newsmen about the agreement, than he denied it.

JOE REMAINS SWEET

Despite the denial, however, McCarthy did live up to the agreement for about two weeks. Then quietly he handed Sen. Welker of Idaho, sometimes called the "Junior McCarthy," a copy of a speech he, McCarthy, had prepared blasting Dulles' law partner, Arthur Dean, then special ambassador for the Korean peace talks.

Probably Secretary Dulles didn't know that the man who put his arm around his shoulder so affectionately at the GOP cheese party was the real author of that speech. And he may not know it even today.

But McCarthy had prepared the speech as a blast against Dulles last December after the secretary of state had issued the most forthright statement so far made by any Eisenhower cabinet member against McCarthy after his nation-wide radio broadcast answering Truman.

Though McCarthy had drafted a hot answer to Dulles, it remained undelivered — thanks to the persuasive and personable Len Hall. Mr. Hall, the smooth-talking chairman of the Republican National Committee, had sweet-talked McCarthy into discarding his blast at Dulles just as he sweet-talked Eisenhower out of blasting McCarthy last week.

But McCarthy kept the text and gave it to Sen. Welker who blasted Dulles instead.

APPEASING JOE

The above illustrates the basic problem President Eisenhower faces with Joe McCarthy. He faces the fact that one wing of the Republican party is definitely, almost avidly, for McCarthy; second, the fact that McCarthy never stays put. He can be appeased one day; and one day later, or even one hour later, he's right back slugging at the man who appeased him.

The President himself and his administration have made no fewer than seven attempts to appease McCarthy beginning back in the days when he was running for president. Here is the roll-call:

Appeasement No. 1 — Prior to Ike's Milwaukee speech, Tom Dewey persuaded him to include in the speech two paragraphs critical of McCarthy. When GOP Chairman Summerfield heard of this he, with three old guard senators, hired a special plane, caught up with Ike's campaign train and talked him out of it. However, Ike wrote into the speech a paragraph praising his old chief, Gen. George Marshall, whom McCarthy had castigated. Again Summerfield arranged for McCarthy to come up the back elevator of the Pere Marquette hotel in Peoria where McCarthy talked Ike out of the Marshall praise.

Appeasement No. 2—Occurred after Harold Stassen told McCarthy to keep his nose out of Greek ship problems. Vice President Nixon, with White House blessing, persuaded Stassen to get together with McCarthy and eat crow.

Appeasement No. 3 — Was after the President's book-burning speech at Dartmouth. Next day McCarthy talked the White House out of broadcasting the speech over the Voice of America. He also got the President to issue a statement that the speech meant no reflection on McCarthy.

Appeasement No. 4 — Attorney General Brownell whitewashed the unanimous Senate report on McCarthy's peculior financial transactions; also the Senate report on irregularities in the Maryland elections.

Appeasement No. 5. — McCarthy's close friend, Robert E. Lee, who was implicated in the Maryland elections, was appointed to the Federal Communications Commission, making two McCarthy men on this key body.

Appeasement No. 6—H. L. Hunt, stanch McCarthy supporter and employer of both Mrs. McCarthy and Robert E. Lee, was given a tax deduction of 20 per cent on contributions to his TV program, "Facts Forum."

Appeasement No. 7—The Army turned over to McCarthy carbon copies of its investigation of Fort Monmouth. This enabled McCarthy to take the Army's reports and the Army's witnesses and stage his own probe, making it appear that he personally had rooted out subversion in the Army.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Resurgent Germany Now At Crossroads

BONN, West Germany—In the German elections last September Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union party used the slogan, "The German Miracle." The German people were not altogether happy with the expression, since many of them felt Germany's transformation was due not to any miraculous happening but to their own hard, incessant work.

Yet, considering what has taken place in so short a space of time, the change does seem little short of miraculous. It was scarcely more than seven years ago that James F. Byrnes, as secretary of state, in a speech at Stuttgart, gave the Germans what was, in effect, a go-ahead signal to work for their own rehabilitation in what was to develop into an ever-closer partnership with the West, and particularly America.

A major step toward recovery was taken with the reform of the currency in June, 1948. The post-war inflation had made the American cigarette the real coin of the realm. In the three zones of West Germany, occupied by France, England and the United States, the worthless currency was, in effect, abolished in many ways. This was a brutal move, since it wiped out the savings of millions. Yet, the surgery worked and the German mark has become one of the soundest currencies in the world.

A year after the currency reform, the federal republic was formed and a group of hard economic specialists went to work to free the German economy from artificial controls. In Germany the phrase is not free enterprise, but "the social market economy."

Ludwig Erhard, a former professor in Munich, as minister of economics under Adenauer, proceeded to take off rationing and other controls just as rapidly as possible. Again the surgery was drastic but again it worked. Prices rose as the Germans, with money that was worth something in their pockets again, went on a buying spree.

Erhard is driving to build up a consumer economy, with the realization that too great a reliance on exports cannot bring a healthy expansion for the long pull. How much these efforts have contributed to German recovery, no one can say. The heart of the German economy remains the heavy industry of the Ruhr, with the export market counting for up to 40 per cent of the total.

Another ardent free enterpriser in the Adenauer cabinet, Minister of Finance Fritz Schaeffer, is trying to meet the demand for capital to invest. He has reduced incomes taxes 15 per cent and is now moving for a second reduction. Schaeffer believes that the middle class will invest the money they save in this way in industry, and thereby bring expansion and modernization.

The trade unions in the coal and steel industry have just made new wage demands, but no one, and least of all the union leaders, expect the increases to be granted. One reason is that three million tons of coal are piled above the ground. Another reason is the growing ineffectiveness of union organization.

The work week in Germany is 48 hours. The more than 10 million refugees have swollen a work force that has consistently demonstrated its willingness to buckle down to the job.

At the same time, Germans are beginning to enjoy themselves. They were always great travelers, and now they are vacationing in droves all over Europe, but particularly in Italy and in countries where prices are a little lower than at home.

A suggestion of the arrogance of old is rising correspondingly. The Ruhr industrialists complain of the restrictions put upon them by their participation in the European coal and steel pool. The plain intimation is that if they could only get capital, preferably from America, and be turned loose, they could once more quickly outstrip their continental rivals. This is a sort of go-it-alone spirit, and it is precisely the resurgence of this spirit that Adenauer hopes to channel into the European Defense Community and eventually the European political community. Associates say that he knows go it alone can only produce disaster, and even those on the outside most suspicious and resentful of the revived Germany credit the chancellor with an abiding sincerity in his desire to bring a new unified Europe into being.

One can readily understand how, in this revived Germany, the driving competitive, proudly nationalistic German, smarting, whether consciously or unconsciously, from the defeat of 1945, has the illusion that the time has come to push ahead in the same old race. The signs of the full and promising past are on every hand.

Adenauer now has very wide support throughout Germany, but if Europe is not united, if the dream is frustrated, then no one can say what the resurgence of Germany will mean. That is why so much turns on the days and weeks just ahead.

A PHYSICIAN SAYS:

Mental Overwork Makes Migraine

Editor's Note: A New York City specialist has told John Geiger, International News Service science writer, that people who suffer from migrainous headaches are reaping the penalties of uncontrolled and overdone use of the brain which can become exhausted just as other parts of the body can.

★

NEW YORK—A doctor theorized today that migraine headaches are the price brainy people pay for thinking too much.

Brainwork requires enormous amounts of body energy, he said, and the man who keeps grinding the gears between his ears is "paying time and a half for mental overtime" as far as his energy reserves are concerned.

When energy reserves are depleted, the migraine headache comes like a safety valve to change body chemistry and help restore a normal balance, the doctor asserted.

Writing in the current New York State Journal of Medicine, Dr. Sol Hirsch of New York City added:

"Unusual intelligence in relation to migraine has simply been a vehicle for easy over-spending of energy . . . we know that the man who uses more brain than brawn may quit his proverbial desk at five, but his brain will run on.

"His problems accompany him home. He does not live within his energy means because he is constantly paying time and half for mental overtime."

It's not just thinking that does it, the doctor added. He cited the case of a lawyer who literally wore himself out talking "even above and beyond the needs of his profession" and developed the agonizing headaches.

One woman patient "leaked energy" by knitting "in crowded trains, in theaters, while shopping, visiting, watching television, and even in bed before dropping off to sleep," Dr. Hirsch said, and another got "brain fatigue" by reading too much even though her eyes were not strained.

The physician admitted, however, that he could not explain exactly how the headache operated to restore energy reserves.

He speculated that the process might be analagous to the convulsions that occur when blood sugar drops dangerously low. These convulsions cause sugar stores in the liver to be released, thus abolishing the condition that brought on the attack.

Once a man gets the bad habit of brain strain, Dr. Hirsch wrote, it's hard to make him stop—and he may even drive himself extra hard just before he collapses, like a light bulb giving one extra flicker before it goes out. The report said:

"The patient does not want his brain shut down at 5 o'clock because he constantly has unfinished business running around in his head. He must be shown that fatigue of the brain, although it does not warn in the same sense as fatigue of the muscle does, nevertheless interferes with functions.

"He must be reminded . . . that into each day must go a custom-tailored rhythm of work and rest and play and rest."

The physician said he treated his migraine sufferers by giving them a mild stimulant injection as a "clutch"; liver capsules, to build fatigue resistance; a sedative, to slow them down, and thyroid extract, to stimulate the combustion of sugar for energy.

Both Complicated

Upland, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have not always agreed with Ralph Allen on his numerous articles on religion, but I feel that he has put his finger on a subject of vital importance not only to the nation but to the success of the churches. Any fake display of religion never helped anyone nor will help to eliminate the Commies. After 75 years, having been brought up in church and Sunday school and trying hard for many years to keep a Sunday school going in a sparsely settled country infected with many different religions, and through many years of dealing with associations of all kinds of people and religions, one becomes more and more convinced that religion is something to profess and brag about and Christianity is something one lives with in private.

It sometimes becomes necessary to take a vacation from church to save what respect one has for religion, and it is my sincere belief that the worst thing that could happen to religion and politics is to mix them. They are both complicated enough separated.

Proposed New Board

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It is refreshing to learn from the March 6 Star that the Nebraska State Educational Association is putting on a campaign for the defeat of the proposed constitutional amendment for a new and additional board to be appointed by the governor as a substitute for the present State Board of Educational Lands and Funds, now consisting of the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and superintendent of schools, elected by the people.

It is well to note that the proposed amendment would place it in the power of the Legislature to fix the salaries of this appointed board, with no limitation on the amount of the salaries. Salaries of all the present board are fixed by the constitution.

A few members of the last session of the Legislature, on the hunt for jobs in the Statehouse, were the sponsors of the proposed amendment. The present board administers the largest trust fund in the state, consisting of about 1,600,000 acres of school lands and the $14,000,000 permanent school fund which is constantly being augmented. Would it be wise to place that responsibility in the power of a board of five members appointed by the governor? Would any and all governors appoint to that board citizens who had been active in supporting their nomination and election? Are there some of our citizens who would be interested in getting school land leases as they expire? Are any members of the present board overworked, and are their fixed salaries insufficient? If so, do they not have the right and power to resign? These questions should be considered by the voters at the November general election.

The Greater Danger

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Adlai Stevenson made a sincere, statesmanlike appeal to the nation Saturday evening. He can be likened to Paul Revere. His speech, actually non-partisan in its appeal, carried a clearcut warning of the dangers ahead if this nation or part of it turns a sympathetic ear to the type of campaign, now being practiced by McCarthy and his supporters.

Oddly enough such ultra-conservatives in the Republican party as Sen. Butler of Nebraska are giving lip service to McCarthy, as is also the Omaha World Herald. They both should be well aware of the dangers in encouraging such a man as the Wisconsin senator, even though they may be doing it to "get at" the President whom they no longer support.

There are greater dangers confronting this nation today than a Communist conquest. A man-made depression such as the one which occurred in Hoover times could end in a Fascist rule.

Social Security

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Sen. Taft in his discussion of social security once said: "The people who are working pay the benefits for those not working." And there is the keystone to the whole social security program.

An 18-billion-dollar surplus has been created in its fund, created in the face of individuals having paid the maximum tax since 1937 and contributed $543 in taxes. If such individuals retire at the age of 65 and live out their expectancy, they and their wives will draw $18,000 from the fund. With such meager contributions to the fund, how can that kind of a pace keep up? Easily, when it is remembered that thousands upon thousands contributing earnings will never get a dime back, those who die before reaching their 65th year. There is another group—those who could not retire on the meager income and keep on working. Unlike old line or fraternal insurance that pays when you die, social security pays only if you live. The AFL organization had no complaint until Carl Curtis came along and under his bill would bring the aged on state assistance under social security. If the fathers and mothers of AFL members are not worthy to be taken along with other individuals who contribute as low as $4.50 to qualify and then retire, we are mistaken in appraisal of the working class.

SLEEP

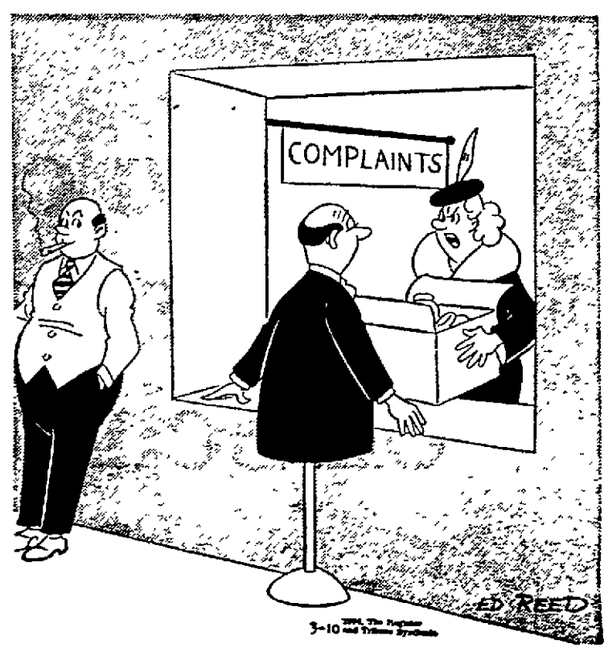

The man who wants to do his best
Must always get a good night's rest.
Who burns the artificial lights
And spends in merriment his nights
Cannot expect the pace to keep
With him who's had sufficient sleep.
No brain, howe'er with zeal it's fired,
Can do its labor when it's tired.

If you have robbed yourself of sleep,
You've held your competition cheap.
You'll come to work with sluggish mind
And that day you will fall behind.
You may not notice that you slip
And have a careless sort of grip
Upon the problems in your way
But you won't be yourself that day.

The man who's rested all night through
Will better do his work than you.
That day he'll quickly pass you by
And no doubt leave you wondering why.
You may possess a keener brain,
But on it you have placed a strain.
And he is working at his best,
For he has had a good night's rest.

The day is gone when heavy eyes
And sluggish brains to glory rise.
The youth who wants to get ahead
Must often early go to bed.
And he who's had a restful night
For victory is fit to fight.
No man his place in life can keep
Unless he gets sufficient sleep.

Mr. Curtis To Retire

We seriously doubt there will be any great shedding of tears or wringing of hands over the announcement by Mr. Carl Curtis of Minden, First Nebraska District congressman, that he does not intend to seek re-election. While publicly the announcement may be somewhat in the nature of a flip-flop, the rumors have been flying thick and fast for months that Mr. Curtis planned to step down from Congress.

His decision could mean that he, with an ear to the ground, actually sidestepped the toughest political fight he has ever faced in all of his years in Congress. Mr. Curtis did not particularly endear himself to the people of the First Nebraska District with his study of social security, in which he shattered the peace and calm by what many construed as an unprovoked attack upon the program. Nor was criticism of him confined to partisan spheres. Many, many Republicans expressed disappointment with Mr. Curtis' views on the subject.

In what is intended as his swan song, from friendly newspaper sources we learn that Mr. Curtis is somewhat of a tax expert. That could be. We have no knowledge to what extent he shaped tax legislation through his membership on the House Ways and Means Committee.

There is the possibility that Mr. Curtis' retirement foreshadowed by his announcement that he would not seek re-election may leave his party in a stronger position. Frank Morrison was in the position of giving Congressman Curtis a real battle. As a man of ability and known views, Mr. Morrison still occupies a strong position.

Two Daughters Have We

Now and again one happens onto those little items that provide the too infrequent rays of sunshine in the news and place back into perspective once more the weight of world affairs that snatch the bigger type day in and day out.

Tucked away in Stanton Register columns were these proud words of Editor Jim Cornwell: "Another little girl came to live at our house last week, and already she's brightened our lives just by being there. This little tyke, a five-month-old we've named Christine, follows our other adopted daughter, Cathleen, now 19 months. We think we're mighty lucky people to have been chosen to make a home for these little girls."

Mighty lucky people, indeed. And two mighty fortunate little girls. A happier arrangement than this matter of adoption in everyday terms of give-and-take would be hard to find, it seems to us. Consider on the one hand a childless couple whose home circle is incomplete without youngsters and who feel the need for that particular love and dependency that little ones afford. On the other hand, deprived of parents and livelihood, are tiny waifs who can fill that void. What more satisfactory, then, than for them to put their lives together, each to cherish the other?

Adoption today is a far cry from the early time of settlement in this prairie country. Then it was that unwanted bits of humanity were trucked into town like so much livestock, there to stand and be judged by diligent and not always unkindly folk, not so much on merits of affection or attractiveness, but whether they were husky enough to stand up under the hard work expected of them in exchange for food and other scant necessities of frontier existence.

The tendency now on the part of would-be adoptive parents is impatience at the long and tedious delay while the processes of administrative detail and checking more slowly but certainly. One such couple recently expressed irritation at what seemed to them endless months, and another Star reader responded promptly that it was all worth the waiting when the young arms finally encircled her neck and one as dear as her own called her "Mom."

"There was a day," Mr. Cornwell wrote truthfully enough, "when adoption was spoken of in hushed tones. Sadly enough, it was something done in secrecy and on many occasions arose later to stun a child. . . . There is something quite wonderful about it, really. Foster parents soon find they never think of a child other than as their own . . ."

And as he goes on, there is no line between the tenderness of his words and those of another midwestern newspaperman who once upon a time wrote of his "Mary."

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Assistant Secretary of Interior Fred G. Aandahl has come and gone. His Nebraska visit had as its objective to soothe the ruffled feelings of Nebraska's rural electrification districts, disturbed as they are that the present power policy of the Department of Interior may result in serious injury to them. Nor is it a laughing matter. These districts furnish electricity to more than 80,000 farm homes. The service which they provide is perhaps one of the greatest contributions to the enrichment of rural life that has taken place in a hundred years.

★

Sincerity or insincerity of the men shaping the administration's present power policy is not an issue. It could be granted that Secretary McKay and his assistant are contributing a great service to this country in what they are doing. There is always room for an argument between public and private power. Assistant Secretary Aandahl may believe 100 per cent in what he says when he talks about returning this program to local control. There has been a monotonous emphasis, an insulting emphasis at times, in these discussions seeking to justify what is being done in the name that Big Government is being dismantled and local government restored. Aandahl knows that had this country waited for the private utilities to have developed rural electrification on a national scale, America could have found itself sitting in the dark a hundred years hence with folded hands. It was a job which could be accomplished only by throwing back of all the enormous strength of the federal government.

Sincerity Or Insincerity?

With the exception of thickly populated rural areas, and on a very limited scale in these regions, the private utilities never made any real effort to develop rural electrification. Now, of course, they want to move in. The directive issued by the Department of Interior, which has been the center of a stormy controversy ever since it put in an appearance, with a bland assurance from the assistant secretary that discussion relating to it is "academic" furnishes a real foundation for concern.

★

If discussion of the directive is "academic," as the assistant secretary undertook to establish here in Lincoln, why was the directive ever written? Hasn't the Interior Department enough to keep it busy without inviting academic discussion? This directive, with full apologies to Mr. Aandahl, was drawn for the sole purpose of establishing a new policy antagonistic to public power. This directive was and still is a serious shadow in the natural growth and development of rural electrification. This directive was a not too sly nor subtle attempt to tie the private utilities into the broad program of public benefits in the construction of muliple-purpose dams. It has created widespread opposition, particularly in the Middle West and the Pacific Northwest. Now the Department of Interior, having been caught up, seems to be engaged in a lot of double talk.

Why Was It Written?

What the department is actually undertaking to do is to reverse federal policy that has been in existence for 35 years under both Republican and Democratic administrations. That is the measure of the present reactionary outlook of the Department of Interior under McKay.

Misplaced Hope

New York state is on the verge of passing a compulsory automobile liability insurance law. Like other states, it is laboring with a rising traffic accident rate and with the substantial losses that are encountered every year by the destruction of property.

No one in Nebraska has added up the wealth loss that attends the luxury of smashing up automobiles. But is is far too much for any thrifty state to justify. The concern out here is more for preservation of human life.

But it is interesting to note that Nebraska sometime ago legislated a financial responsibility law with considerable success. However, it can't be said that it ended accidents. The state has more than ever. Nor did it stop economic loss. It simply shifted a part of it from the car owners to the insurance companies. New York will find that it will take something else, something no one has yet found, to get to the root of the trouble—which is accident prevention.

On Flaxing Around

Industriousness is one of the key things of life. It has produced everything we have. But oddly enough it is a human aim to escape from it. All of which is to say that when the next day comes that you secretly resolve to turn out the minimum effort at your appointed work just remember that the reason you are alive is the diligent performance of your body. Each day your heart beats 103,689 times and your blood travels 168,000 miles. You draw breath 23,240 times and you speak an average of 4,800 words, exercising seven million brain cells. But if that makes you feel a little chesty remember, you have nine billion brain cells. You have lots of room for improvement.

We Like Spring

Besides more comfortable weather, spring appeals to people because it is full of hopeful dreams. The farmer can look forward to a record crop. Business can anticipate profits. The young man is prompted to take a wife. Baseball magnates and fans can join in imagining a pennant winner. Reality later on will provide something less. But it is good to have one season in the year when everyone can be a champion and can ignore for the nonce his own limitations.

Tough League

The Nebraska bar association would like to have the state adopt the Missouri Plan for selection of judges. The plan would have a judge appointed by the governor, rather than elected. When his term is up he would run, not against a personal opponent, but on his record This might be all right for judges. But other office holders would dread it. The average congressman's record, for instance, would be a harder hurdle than the most formidable of personal opponents.

McCarthy Thrives On Ike's Appeasement

WASHINGTON—When the Republican party threw a big cheese party for newsmen at the opening of Congress, Joe McCarthy came up to John Foster Dulles, put his arm around his shoulder and said:

"Haven't I been a good boy lately?"

What McCarthy referred to was the fact that he had laid off criticising the State Department for a few weeks, partly as a result of a compromise patched up with Vice President Nixon in Miami in December.

Nixon had urged McCarthy to lay off the witch-hunting and turn the problem of Communism over to Sen. Jenner's Internal Security Committee where it properly belongs. In turn, Nixon promised that Attorney General Brownell would turn over to McCarthy various cases of alleged graft and inefficiency which Nixon said would reflect on the Truman administration. Thus McCarthy would continue to get the headlines, though probing something that legitimately came under his government operations committee.

McCarthy agreed. But no sooner had he returned to Washington, and was asked by newsmen about the agreement, than he denied it.

JOE REMAINS SWEET

Despite the denial, however, McCarthy did live up to the agreement for about two weeks. Then quietly he handed Sen. Welker of Idaho, sometimes called the "Junior McCarthy," a copy of a speech he, McCarthy, had prepared blasting Dulles' law partner, Arthur Dean, then special ambassador for the Korean peace talks.

Probably Secretary Dulles didn't know that the man who put his arm around his shoulder so affectionately at the GOP cheese party was the real author of that speech. And he may not know it even today.

But McCarthy had prepared the speech as a blast against Dulles last December after the secretary of state had issued the most forthright statement so far made by any Eisenhower cabinet member against McCarthy after his nation-wide radio broadcast answering Truman.

Though McCarthy had drafted a hot answer to Dulles, it remained undelivered — thanks to the persuasive and personable Len Hall. Mr. Hall, the smooth-talking chairman of the Republican National Committee, had sweet-talked McCarthy into discarding his blast at Dulles just as he sweet-talked Eisenhower out of blasting McCarthy last week.

But McCarthy kept the text and gave it to Sen. Welker who blasted Dulles instead.

APPEASING JOE

The above illustrates the basic problem President Eisenhower faces with Joe McCarthy. He faces the fact that one wing of the Republican party is definitely, almost avidly, for McCarthy; second, the fact that McCarthy never stays put. He can be appeased one day; and one day later, or even one hour later, he's right back slugging at the man who appeased him.

The President himself and his administration have made no fewer than seven attempts to appease McCarthy beginning back in the days when he was running for president. Here is the roll-call:

Appeasement No. 1 — Prior to Ike's Milwaukee speech, Tom Dewey persuaded him to include in the speech two paragraphs critical of McCarthy. When GOP Chairman Summerfield heard of this he, with three old guard senators, hired a special plane, caught up with Ike's campaign train and talked him out of it. However, Ike wrote into the speech a paragraph praising his old chief, Gen. George Marshall, whom McCarthy had castigated. Again Summerfield arranged for McCarthy to come up the back elevator of the Pere Marquette hotel in Peoria where McCarthy talked Ike out of the Marshall praise.

Appeasement No. 2—Occurred after Harold Stassen told McCarthy to keep his nose out of Greek ship problems. Vice President Nixon, with White House blessing, persuaded Stassen to get together with McCarthy and eat crow.

Appeasement No. 3 — Was after the President's book-burning speech at Dartmouth. Next day McCarthy talked the White House out of broadcasting the speech over the Voice of America. He also got the President to issue a statement that the speech meant no reflection on McCarthy.

Appeasement No. 4 — Attorney General Brownell whitewashed the unanimous Senate report on McCarthy's peculior financial transactions; also the Senate report on irregularities in the Maryland elections.

Appeasement No. 5. — McCarthy's close friend, Robert E. Lee, who was implicated in the Maryland elections, was appointed to the Federal Communications Commission, making two McCarthy men on this key body.

Appeasement No. 6—H. L. Hunt, stanch McCarthy supporter and employer of both Mrs. McCarthy and Robert E. Lee, was given a tax deduction of 20 per cent on contributions to his TV program, "Facts Forum."

Appeasement No. 7—The Army turned over to McCarthy carbon copies of its investigation of Fort Monmouth. This enabled McCarthy to take the Army's reports and the Army's witnesses and stage his own probe, making it appear that he personally had rooted out subversion in the Army.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Resurgent Germany Now At Crossroads

BONN, West Germany—In the German elections last September Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union party used the slogan, "The German Miracle." The German people were not altogether happy with the expression, since many of them felt Germany's transformation was due not to any miraculous happening but to their own hard, incessant work.

Yet, considering what has taken place in so short a space of time, the change does seem little short of miraculous. It was scarcely more than seven years ago that James F. Byrnes, as secretary of state, in a speech at Stuttgart, gave the Germans what was, in effect, a go-ahead signal to work for their own rehabilitation in what was to develop into an ever-closer partnership with the West, and particularly America.

A major step toward recovery was taken with the reform of the currency in June, 1948. The post-war inflation had made the American cigarette the real coin of the realm. In the three zones of West Germany, occupied by France, England and the United States, the worthless currency was, in effect, abolished in many ways. This was a brutal move, since it wiped out the savings of millions. Yet, the surgery worked and the German mark has become one of the soundest currencies in the world.

A year after the currency reform, the federal republic was formed and a group of hard economic specialists went to work to free the German economy from artificial controls. In Germany the phrase is not free enterprise, but "the social market economy."

Ludwig Erhard, a former professor in Munich, as minister of economics under Adenauer, proceeded to take off rationing and other controls just as rapidly as possible. Again the surgery was drastic, but again it worked. Prices rose as the Germans, with money that was worth something in their pockets again, went on a buying spree.

Erhard is driving to build up a consumer economy, with the realization that too great a reliance on exports cannot bring a healthy expansion for the long pull. How much these efforts have contributed to German recovery, no one can say. The heart of the German economy remains the heavy industry of the Ruhr, with the export market counting for up to 40 per cent of the total.

Another ardent free enterpriser in the Adenauer cabinet, Minister of Finance Fritz Schaeffer, is trying to meet the demand for capital to invest. He has reduced incomes taxes 15 per cent and is now moving for a second reduction. Schaeffer believes that the middle class will invest the money they save in this way in industry, and thereby bring expansion and modernization.

The trade unions in the coal and steel industry have just made new wage demands, but no one, and least of all the union leaders, expect the increases to be granted. One reason is that three million tons of coal are piled above the ground. Another reason is the growing ineffectiveness of union organization.

The work week in Germany is 48 hours. The more than 10 million refugees have swollen a work force that has consistently demonstrated its willingness to buckle down to the job.

At the same time, Germans are beginning to enjoy themselves. They were always great travelers, and now they are vacationing in droves all over Europe, but particularly in Italy and in countries where prices are a little lower than at home.

A suggestion of the arrogance of old is rising correspondingly. The Ruhr industrialists complain of the restrictions put upon them by their participation in the European coal and steel pool. The plain intimation is that if they could only get capital, preferably from America, and be turned loose, they could once more quickly outstrip their continental rivals. This is a sort of go-it-alone spirit, and it is precisely the resurgence of this spirit that Adenauer hopes to channel into the European Defense Community and eventually the European political community. Associates say that he knows go it alone can only produce disaster, and even those on the outside most suspicious and resentful of the revived Germany credit the chancellor with an abiding sincerity in his desire to bring a new unified Europe into being.

One can readily understand how, in this revived Germany, the driving competitive, proudly nationalistic German, smarting, whether consciously or unconsciously, from the defeat of 1945, has the illusion that the time has come to push ahead in the same old race. The signs of the full and promising past are on every hand.

Adenauer now has very wide support throughout Germany, but if Europe is not united, if the dream is frustrated, then no one can say what the resurgence of Germany will mean. That is why so much turns on the days and weeks just ahead.

A PHYSICIAN SAYS:

Mental Overwork Makes Migraine

Editor's Note: A New York City specialist has told John Geiger, International News Service science writer, that people who suffer from migrainous headaches are reaping the penalties of uncontrolled and overdone use of the brain which can become exhausted just as other parts of the body can.

★

NEW YORK—A doctor theorized today that migraine headaches are the price brainy people pay for thinking too much.

Brainwork requires enormous amounts of body energy, he said, and the man who keeps grinding the gears between his ears is "paying time and a half for mental overtime" as far as his energy reserves are concerned.

When energy reserves are depleted, the migraine headache comes like a safety valve to change body chemistry and help restore a normal balance, the doctor asserted.

Writing in the current New York State Journal of Medicine, Dr. Sol Hirsch of New York City added:

"Unusual intelligence in relation to migraine has simply been a vehicle for easy over-spending of energy . . . we know that the man who uses more brain than brawn may quit his proverbial desk at five, but his brain will run on.

"His problems accompany him home. He does not live within his energy means because he is constantly paying time and half for mental overtime."

It's not just thinking that does it, the doctor added. He cited the case of a lawyer who literally wore himself out talking "even above and beyond the needs of his profession" and developed the agonizing headaches.

One woman patient "leaked energy" by knitting "in crowded trains, in theaters, while shopping, visiting, watching television, and even in bed before dropping off to sleep," Dr. Hirsch said, and another got "brain fatigue" by reading too much even though her eyes were not strained.

The physician admitted, however, that he could not explain exactly how the headache operated to restore energy reserves.

He speculated that the process might be analagous to the convulsions that occur when blood sugar drops dangerously low. These convulsions cause sugar stores in the liver to be released, thus abolishing the condition that brought on the attack.

Once a man gets the bad habit of brain strain, Dr. Hirsch wrote, it's hard to make him stop—and he may even drive himself extra hard just before he collapses, like a light bulb giving one extra flicker before it goes out. The report said:

"The patient does not want his brain shut down at 5 o'clock because he constantly has unfinished business running around in his head. He must be shown that fatigue of the brain, although it does not warn in the same sense as fatigue of the muscle does, nevertheless interferes with functions.

"He must be reminded . . . that into each day must go a custom-tailored rhythm of work and rest and play and rest."

The physician said he treated his migraine sufferers by giving them a mild stimulant injection as a "clutch"; liver capsules, to build fatigue resistance; a sedative, to slow them down, and thyroid extract, to stimulate the combustion of sugar for energy.

Both Complicated

Upland, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have not always agreed with Ralph Allen on his numerous articles on religion, but I feel that he has put his finger on a subject of vital importance not only to the nation but to the success of the churches. Any fake display of religion never helped anyone nor will help to eliminate the Commies. After 75 years, having been brought up in church and Sunday school and trying hard for many years to keep a Sunday school going in a sparsely settled country infected with many different religions, and through many years of dealing with associations of all kinds of people and religions, one becomes more and more convinced that religion is something to profess and brag about and Christianity is something one lives with in private.

It sometimes becomes necessary to take a vacation from church to save what respect one has for religion, and it is my sincere belief that the worst thing that could happen to religion and politics is to mix them. They are both complicated enough separated.

Proposed New Board

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It is refreshing to learn from the March 6 Star that the Nebraska State Educational Association is putting on a campaign for the defeat of the proposed constitutional amendment for a new and additional board to be appointed by the governor as a substitute for the present State Board of Educational Lands and Funds, now consisting of the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and superintendent of schools, elected by the people.

It is well to note that the proposed amendment would place it in the power of the Legislature to fix the salaries of this appointed board, with no limitation on the amount of the salaries. Salaries of all the present board are fixed by the constitution.

A few members of the last session of the Legislature, on the hunt for jobs in the Statehouse, were the sponsors of the proposed amendment. The present board administers the largest trust fund in the state, consisting of about 1,600,000 acres of school lands and the $14,000,000 permanent school fund which is constantly being augmented. Would it be wise to place that responsibility in the power of a board of five members appointed by the governor? Would any and all governors appoint to that board citizens who had been active in supporting their nomination and election? Are there some of our citizens who would be interested in getting school land leases as they expire? Are any members of the present board overworked, and are their fixed salaries insufficient? If so, do they not have the right and power to resign? These questions should be considered by the voters at the November general election.

Courthouse Elevator Work Set

Westinghouse, Broer Firms Awarded Pacts

Contracts for the Lancaster County Courthouse elevator were awarded Tuesday to the Westing house Electric Corp., Omaha Division, for the passenger elevator, and to the Walter J. Broer Construction Co, Lincoln, for preliminary construction.

Bide were opened last week by the County Board, which referred them to County Engineer Louis Weaver for his analysis and recommendations.

Westinghouse, which submitted the second low elevator bid of $20,289, was recommended by Weaver.

Weaver said the Kimball Elevator Co, Council Bluffs, Ia, bid on an assembled-type elevator and does not have maintenance service in Lincoln, as specified in the asking. Kimball's bid was $19,500.

Walter J. Broer Construction Co., Lincoln, which submitted the low bid of $7,089 for construction of a hoistway, machinery room and pit, was okayed by Weaver.

Save $3,000

Board Chairman Russell Brehem said the "public should know that the installation of the elevator will make available third floor office space to the Veterans Service Center, thus saving the county $3,000 annually in downtown office rent."

He explained that handicapped veterans "will have a way to reach the third floor" and transfer of the Center to the Courthouse would be made when the elevator is completed.

"No tax funds are being used," he said "The cost has been taken exclusively from inheritance tax funds and does not involve property tax funds."

Offices of Co. Supt. Glenn Turner and Adult Probation Officer George Meyer occupy the third floor. The Veterans Center would be moved into space now occupied by E. T. Wilkins & Associates, but which will be vacated by the firm with the completion of the real estate reappraisal job within the next several weeks.

NU To Welcome Tourney Goers At Get-Together

University of Nebraska students will throw out the welcome mat to high school students attending the annual Nebraska high school basketball tournament Friday between 4 and 6 p.m. at the Student Union.

The University Builders, a student service organization, will sponsor a get-to-gether which will include dancing, entertainment, and refreshments.

The winning skit in the recently held Coed Follies will be presented by Chi Omega Sorority. A small campus musical group will furnish music for the dancing.

Muriel Pickett, president of Builders, invites all high school students to attend.

Coaches Harry Good and Bill Glassford will speak.

State Cattle Ban On Texas Lifted

State Veterinarian Dr. J. L. George announced Tuesday that restrictions have been lifted, effective immediately, on shipment of cattle from Texas into Nebraska.

He took the action after receiving a wire from D. A. Davidson, director of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, stating that all scabby cattle in Texas had been dipped twice and all exposed cattle once.

The shipment restrictions on cattle from Kansas and Oklahoma were lifted last week.

Supervisors Redistrict Buffalo County

Mandamus Suit Brings New Action

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—The Buffalo County Board of Supervisors, acting under direction of District Judge E. G. Reed, redistricted the county according to population.

The division up to now has been two supervisors from Kearney and five from outside of Kearney.

Under the redistricting, Kearney has three supervisors and places one precinct of the city in a district with six rural townships.

The action was taken after H. E. Swan, H. D. Richardson and Clarence Pettinger, all of Kearney, filed a mandamus suit Dec. 22, 1953.

Judge Reed held a hearing Feb. 17 and directed the board to procede with redistricting.

The board's vote was 4-1, with one member absent and the chairman not voting.

Valley School Open For Use

VALLEY, Neb. — Seventh and eighth grade students have moved into the new Valley grade school despite the fact some carpenter work remains to be done.

Helping move books and classroom supplies into the new building were PTA members.

According to Supt. C. L. Retelsdorf the school should be ready to admit the rest of the children in about three or four weeks.

The new one-story school has 10 classrooms together with a multi-purpose room that will serve as an auditorium, lunch and play room. The school has a capacity for about 300 pupils.

Financed by a bond issue, the building was constructed at a cost of $275,000.

Prince Bernhard To Visit LeMay

OMAHA (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. Le May, commanding general of the Strategic Air Command, was preparing to entertain an old friend this week.

His guest will be Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, whom Gen. Le May knew when he was in Europe.

Prince Bernhard this week is making a tour of air bases and plane factories in the United States. The precise nature of his mission has not been announced.

The Prince received an official reception in Washington but following that he issued a statement through the Netherlands embassy describing the rest of his trip as of "a private character."

Dental Gold In Loot Missing After Norfolk Break-Ins

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Thieves raided seven offices in Norfolk and escaped with small amounts of cash and stamps along with $300 worth of dental gold, Police Chief Irvin F. Ferris said.

The gold was taken from Long's Dental Laboratory, the chief said. Other places entered were those of George W. Dittrick, Earl Burdic, Dr. Ned J. Pickett, Dr. Donald Gartner, Joseph Fisher and Ralph T. Walker.

Chief Ferris said the break-ins occurred over the week end, but weren't discovered until Monday. Six of the offices were located in the Granda Building.

It was believed, he said, that the burglars used some kind of a skeleton key to gain entrance to the offices.

Blair And Fremont 4-H Youths Selected For Camp Miniwanca

M. Lingo W. Tank

Marilyn Lingo of Blair and Willis Tank of Fremont are the two Nebraska 4-H'ers selected to attend Camp Miniwanca at Shelby, Mich., next August.

The camp program emphasizes development of physical, mental, social and spiritual leadership

Camp Miniwanca is owned and operated by the American Youth Foundation, a non-profit, non-denominational Christian organization dedicated to the purpose of assisting young people in life planning, leadership training, and balanced four-fold living.

Marilyn is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lingo. She has completed a variety of projects including cooking, gardening, sewing, yard beautification, girl's room, room improvement and meal planning.

Favors Homemaking

Of all her projects, Marilyn says she likes homemaking and clothing best, although she enjoyed showing her lambs at the county, district and state fairs.

Other highlights of the Washington County 4-H'ers club work include trips to Club Week on her achievement in girl's room, homemaking and health. She was the top clothing judge of the 1952 State Fair, and won the coveted trip to National Club Congress in Chicago for that accomplishment.

Willis, 19, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tank. He has served as leader of the Progressive Stockmen 4-H club of which he has been a member since starting in 4-H work 11 years ago.

Although he likes raising Hereford beeves better than anything else, the Dodge County youth has completed dairy, swine and breeding heifer projects, raised 4-H crops of soybeans, wheat, corn and oats and worked on a tractor program. Willis won a trip to National Club Congress in 1952 as state winner in boys 4-H records.

McNickle Elected To Auburn Post

Rites Set For Victim Of Fire

Lincoln Star Special

WEST POINT, Neb.—Funeral services for Marjory Malchow, 44-year-old victim of a blaze at her home, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Mary's Catholic Church here.

She died in a local hospital of burns suffered in a kitchen accident. She was preparing breakfast when cooking fat caught fire. The flames spread to her clothing.

Her screams attracted a neighbor, Mrs. William Haberman, who smothered the flames with blankets and rugs. Hospital authorities said the major portion of Miss Malchow's body was covered with second and third degree burns.

Miss Malchow was a lifetime resident of West Point and lived with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Kieffer, who is in poor health.

Supervisors Redistrict Buffalo County

Mandamus Suit Brings New Action

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—The Buffalo County Board of Supervisors, acting under direction of District Judge E. G. Reed, redistricted the county according to population.

The division up to now has been two supervisors from Kearney and five from outside of Kearney.

Under the redistricting, Kearney has three supervisors and places one precinct of the city in a district with six rural townships.

The action was taken after H. E. Swan, H. D. Richardson and Clarence Pettinger, all of Kearney, filed a mandamus suit Dec. 22, 1953.

Judge Reed held a hearing Feb. 17 and directed the board to procede with redistricting.

The board's vote was 4-1, with one member absent and the chairman not voting.

Valley School Open For Use

VALLEY, Neb. — Seventh and eighth grade students have moved into the new Valley grade school despite the fact some carpenter work remains to be done.

Helping move books and classroom supplies into the new building were PTA members.

According to Supt. C. L. Retelsdorf the school should be ready to admit the rest of the children in about three or four weeks.

The new one-story school has 10 classrooms together with a multi-purpose room that will serve as an auditorium, lunch and play room. The school has a capacity for about 300 pupils.

Financed by a bond issue, the building was constructed at a cost of $275,000.

Dental Gold In Loot Missing After Norfolk Break-Ins

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Thieves raided seven offices in Norfolk and escaped with small amounts of cash and stamps along with $300 worth of dental gold, Police Chief Irvin F. Ferris said.

The gold was taken from Long's Dental Laboratory, the chief said. Other places entered were those of George W. Dittrick, Earl Burdic, Dr. Ned J. Pickett, Dr. Donald Gartner, Joseph Fisher and Ralph T. Walker.

Chief Ferris said the break-ins occurred over the week end, but weren't discovered until Monday. Six of the offices were located in the Granda Building.

It was believed, he said, that the burglars used some kind of a skeleton key to gain entrance to the offices.

Blair And Fremont 4-H Youths Selected For Camp Miniwanca

Marilyn Lingo of Blair and Willis Tank of Fremont are the two Nebraska 4-H'ers selected to attend Camp Miniwanca at Shelby, Mich., next August.

The camp program emphasizes development of physical, mental, social and spiritual leadership.

Camp Miniwanca is owned and operated by the American Youth Foundation, a non-profit, non-denominational Christian organization dedicated to the purpose of assisting young people in life planning, leadership training, and balanced four-fold living.

Marilyn is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lingo. She has completed a variety of projects including cooking, gardening, sewing, yard beautification, girl's room, room improvement and meal planning.

Favors Homemaking

Of all her projects, Marilyn says she likes homemaking and clothing best, although she enjoyed showing her lambs at the county, district and state fairs.

Other highlights of the Washington County 4-H'ers club work include trips to Club Week on her achievement in girl's room, homemaking and health. She was the top clothing judge of the 1952 State Fair, and won the coveted trip to National Club Congress in Chicago for that accomplishment.

Willis, 19, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tank. He has served as leader of the Progressive Stockmen 4-H club of which he has been a member since starting in 4-H work 11 years ago.

Although he likes raising Hereford beeves better than anything else, the Dodge County youth has completed dairy, swine and breeding heifer projects, raised 4-H crops of soybeans, wheat, corn and oats and worked on a tractor program. Willis won a trip to National Club Congress in 1952 as state winner in boys 4-H records.

Eastern, South Central Wheat Outlook Still Good

Condition In West Declining

"More or less concern" about the outcome of Nebraska's winter wheat crop was indicated in the State-Federal Agricultural statistics crop report.

Damaged winter wheat is reported in the Panhandle, southwestern Nebraska, and the central area north of the Platte River.

"Some of the reports indicate a declining condition of winter wheat in western Nebraska, while others are more favorable," the report stated.

"Field inspection the latter part of February revealed that while most of the wheat was still alive and had a good root system, the top three or four inches of soil was dry, loose, and unfavorable Late wheat and wheat on the sandy soils or areas where the winds got a direct sweep showed more or less damage, some of which may not recover."

Growth Slowed

Although lower temperatures during the week slowed growth of wheat in the eastern third and south central areas of the state, the outlook is still good, the report said. Subsoil moisture in these areas will reduce the chances for damages from low temperatures, even though growth is more advanced than normal for this date, it was reported.

The cold weather also slowed farm field work in eastern Nebraska.

The crop report said there are a few reports of oats having been seeded and the growing interest in barley, soybeans, and sorghums as replacement crops for corn.

Some spring wheat has been planted in southwestern Nebraska where it was too dry last fall to plant wheat.

Feed Supply Ample

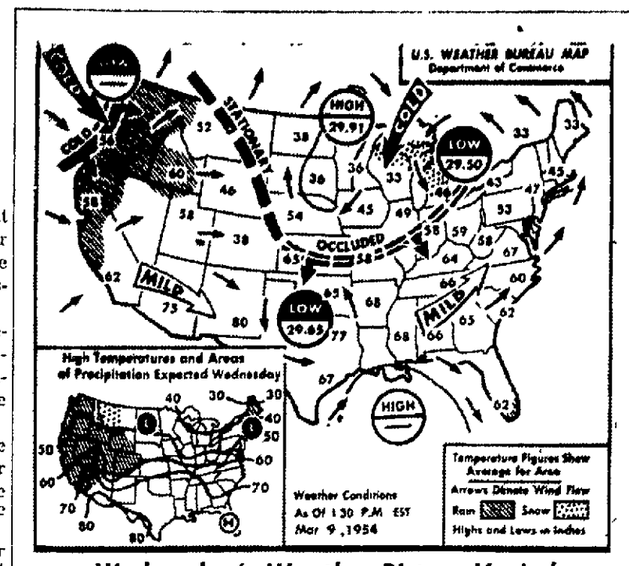

Most of the counties are reporting hay and forage supplies ranging from ample to surplus due to the mild, open winter. The report says there is a little pasture growth in the eastern area where precipitation was received.

The new lamb and calf crops are well along and interest in brood sows and pigs continues.

Some reports indicate that milk production is high for this time of year, the report added.

3,800 Eligible To Vote On Gas Issue

ALLIANCE, Neb. (AP)—Nearly 4,000 persons will be eligible to vote in the special natural gas franchise election March 16 according to City Clerk Fred Notson

He said registration was about 3,800.

Notson estimated that there were approximately 50 new registrations since the election date was set Another 100 persons came to the city hall to re-register after changing addresses or their name.

The March 16 election will determine whether a franchise will be granted to the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. for construction of a gas distribution system here.

Guide Rock Pays Tribute To Dr. Reed

GUIDE ROCK, Neb.—In recognition of his service to this community for 47 years, Dr. H. S. Reed was honored at a reception attended by 541 persons.

A local cast re-enacted the highlights of Dr Reed's life as a country physician.

The 74-year-old doctor was so overcome with emotion he was barely able to say, "I hope I'm worthy of this honor."

Featured speaker at the event was Judge E. G Reed of Kearney, brother of the honoree State Senator William A. McHenry of Nelson presented Dr. Reed with an admiral's commission in the Nebraska Navy.

Beginning his Guide Rock practice following his graduation from the Keokuk, Ia., College of Physicians in 1906, Dr. Reed estimates he has delivered 2,500 babies including 16 pairs of twins and one set of triplets

He recalls one of his busiest nights when he delivered three babies in addition to driving approximately 40 miles to attend the mothers and babies.

His "oldest baby" is 47 years old, and the youngest about six months old. More than 150 of the babies he delivered were in attendance at the celebration and marched to the front of the auditorium singing, "Yes Sir, I'm His Baby."

How Mercury's New 161-Horsepower Engine gives you a new measure of safety

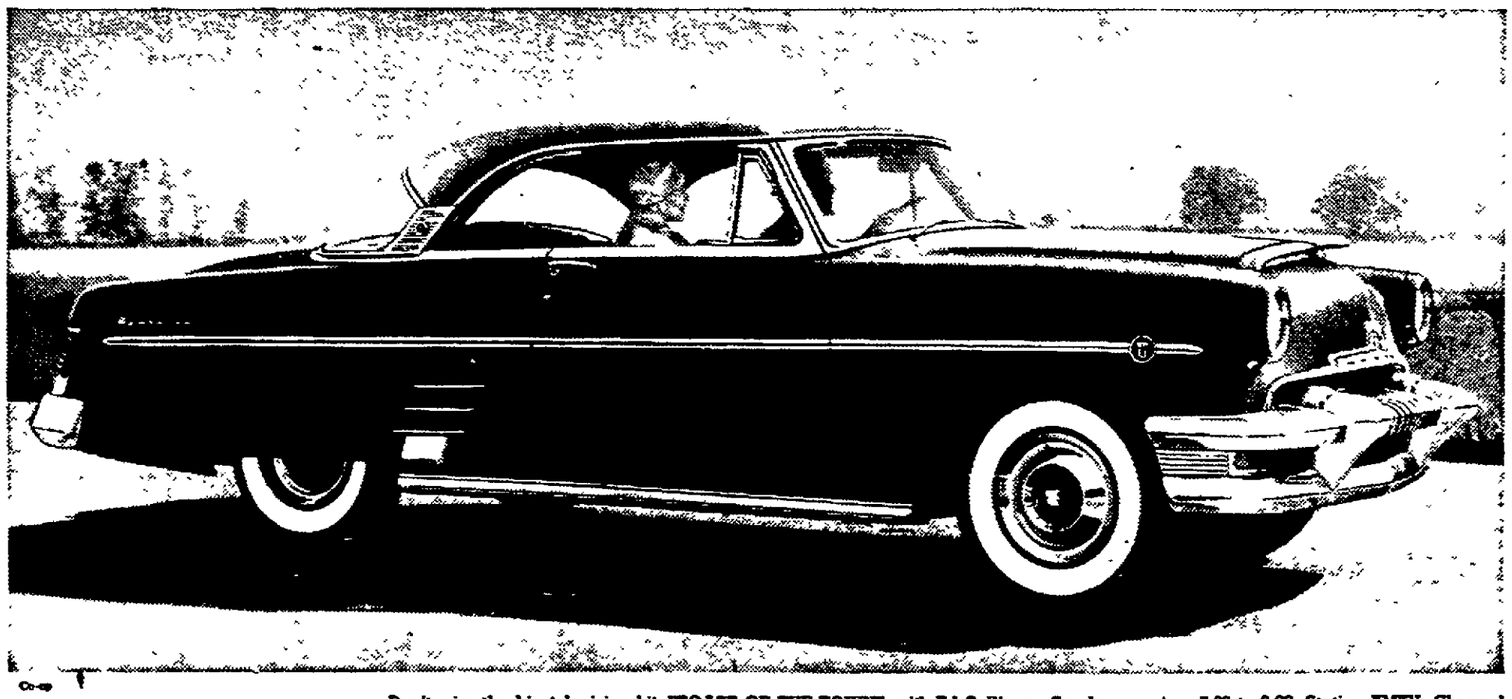

If you'll get behind the wheel of a new 1954 Mercury and take it out on the open road, we think you'll find this new engine gives you the most instantly responsive power you've ever known. Even when you're cruising at normal highway speeds, you have instant acceleration that lets you pass another car and get back in the right-hand lane in a few safe seconds.

It's not just a matter of high horsepower. It's power that's instantly available because of a new Mercury development—a 4-barrel carburetor, with the two rear barrels vacuum-operated to cut in automatically when reserve power is needed for an extra margin of safety.

Mercury's new engine combines with new ball-joint front wheel suspension to give you a new kind of power that makes any driving easy. And you can add even more to Mercury's driving ease with a choice of 5 optional power features—like the 4-way power seat.

You'll find this new 1954 Mercury easier than ever on the eyes, with breath-taking new styling front and rear, inside and out. Easier on the pocketbook, too. You can get more miles per gallon than even Mercury offered before. Come in and try it! You'll find Mercury hard to resist—easy to own!

Beginning his Guide Rock practice following his graduation from the Keokuk, Ia., College of Physicians in 1906, Dr. Reed estimates he has delivered 2,500 babies including 16 pairs of twins and one set of triplets.

He recalls one of his busiest nights when he delivered three babies in addition to driving approximately 40 miles to attend the mothers and babies.

His "oldest baby" is 47 years old, and the youngest about six months old. More than 150 of the babies he delivered were in attendance at the celebration and marched to the front of the auditorium singing, "Yes Sir, I'm His Baby."

Ray Woolsey, 57, Hastings, Is Dead

HASTINGS — Funeral services for Ray Woolsey, 57, who died in a Grand Island hospital, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Livingston-Butler-Volland chapel here. He was a World War I veteran and a member of the American Legion. Surviving are his wife, Katherine; four sisters, Mrs. Mabel Griffith, Mrs. Lorna Brees and Mrs. Graham, all of Hastings, and Mrs. Lenette Nolan of Paramount, Calif.; five brothers, Dean of Hastings, Glenn of Chino, Calif., Howell of Ontario, Calif., Charles of Bellflower, Calif., and M. Sgt. Franklin, U.S. Army in Germany; and his stepmother, Mrs. Angie Woolsey of Chino, Calif.

JOE W. BACHMAN

BERTRAND—Funeral services for Joe W. Bachman, resident of this community for about 60 years, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Methodist Church here. Born in Lacon, Ill., he was a retired farmer. Surviving are his wife, Emma; two sons, Wayne of Bertrand and Dean of Holdrege; his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wickwire of San Bruno, Calif., and two brothers, George and Walter, both of North Platte.

MARY M. EASON

NORTH BEND—Word has been received here of the death of Miss Mary M. Eason, 85, former North Bend school teacher. She died at Falls Church, Va. Born in Indiana, she later came to Nebraska with her parents. They lived on a farm in Saunders County until her father's death. She left North Bend in 1917 to take a government position which she held until her retirement. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Haun of Schuyler and Mrs. Sedalia Brownell of Gothenburg; and one brother, James Eason of North Bend.

E. P. ERICKSEN

MULLEN—Funeral services were held here for Erik P. Ericksen, 34, member of a prominent ranching family here. He was a lifetime resident of this vicinity. He was a member of the Methodist Church, past master of the Masonic Lodge, past patron of the Eastern Star and a member of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association. Surviving are his wife; a son, Erik P. Jr.; a daughter, Suzanne; one sister and two brothers.

J. J. WHITE

ALLIANCE—Word has been received here of the death of J. J. White, 55, who died unexpectedly at his home in Sheridan, Wyo. He was a former Alliance resident. Surviving are his wife and one daughter, Helen.

How Mercury's New 161-Horsepower Engine gives you a new measure of safety

If you'll get behind the wheel of a new 1954 Mercury and take it out on the open road, we think you'll find this new engine gives you the most instantly responsive power you've ever known. Even when you're cruising at normal highway speeds, you have instant acceleration that lets you pass another car and get back in the right-hand lane in a few safe seconds.

It's not just a matter of high horsepower. It's power that's instantly available because of a new Mercury development—a 4-barrel carburetor, with the two rear barrels vacuum-operated to cut in automatically when reserve power is needed for an extra margin of safety.

Mercury's new engine combines with new ball-joint front wheel suspension to give you a new kind of power that makes any driving easy. And you can add even more to Mercury's driving ease with a choice of 5 optional power features—like the 4-way power seat.

You'll find this new 1954 Mercury easier than ever on the eyes, with breath-taking new styling front and rear, inside and out. Easier on the pocketbook, too. You can get more miles per gallon than even Mercury offered before. Come in and try it! You'll find Mercury hard to resist—easy to own!

State Property Taxes Total $123 Million

The Nebraska Citizens Council Tuesday said Nebraska taxpayers will pay $123 million in property taxes for state and local government during the current tax year.

This is 1.6 per cent over last year but is the smallest increase percentagewise in over a decade, the council says.

The council commented "total taxes would have been lower this year if the cities and schools would have demanded less tax money.

"State government cut its tax demands by $2.3 million or 8 5 per cent and county government reduced its tax take $287,350 or 2.1 per cent. But the tax boosts by city and school government amounted to $4.4 million. These increases more than offset the tax savings by the state and the counties and left us with a net tax increase of $1.8 million over last year."

The council set the total tangible taxes at $119,833,585 and the intangible taxes at $3,207,939 for the 1953-54 tax year.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD From Carmel

The buttercup edges of Spring sneaked up on the Monterey Peninsula. A soft warm sun sprinkled down through the pine trees And the Pacific washed the long white beaches with big cream and blue rollers

Up in San Francisco, all the workers downed tools and came south. Me too For it is well krown that the poor live as gracefully as the rich in Monterey. Though naturally in different houses.

☆ ☆ ☆

Over in Pebble Beach I found Mr Jimmy Hatlo, the cartoon gentleman Mr. Hatlo lives in an elegant 14-room scatter where he can lean out and throw his dishwater on the rich golfers

Of course, Mr Hatlo does not do this. For it would cause a good deal of talk. But he could if he wanted to

He can lean out another window and see Mr Bing Crosby's wash hanging on the line Or run across the street and row a cup of sugar from a sugar king

"I am hard at work," Mr. Hatlo told me. He introduced me to Mr. Bob Dunn who had come all the way from New York City to work with Mr. Hatlo.

They said they were working like mad. On things like "They'll Do It Every Time" and the "Little Iodine" strip and so on.

Mr. Hatlo took me up to case his studio. His drawing board faced the window looking over the Pacific. He had a built-in tracing table with a light underneath.

He had stacks of books and a big fireplace with a copper hood He had lots of pencils laid out and a built-in darkroom and a built-in bar.

He said he was hard at work

There was a light film of dust over everything.

☆ ☆ ☆

"I think we will really get down to hard work Thursday," said Mr Dunn.

I asked him when he was going back to New York.

"Friday," said Mr. Dunn happily "You down here on a holiday?"

"Are you kidding?" I cried "I am hard at work. I am murdering myself with toil."

Mr. Hatlo said he would be at his drawing board that instant. But he was forced to attend a meeting of the Thirsty Thursday Club. This scientific organization studies cause and effect, he said. Such as two pair versus three-of-a-kind.

☆ ☆ ☆

After awhile I drove up through the warm pine forests to Mr Martin Flavin's house. Mr Flavin lives in a beautiful stable The stable was so fine they remodeled it into a house. Mr Flavin sleeps in one of the stalls.

He said he had recently come back from London and had finished two articles for Harper's Magazine.

"I am hard at work," said Mr. Flavin.

"Doing what?" I said.

"Answering McCarthy," said Mr. Flavin. "As you know I am very fond of a deep bath in the morning. I sit in my bath and pretend I am on the witness stand. I rake Senator McCarthy with cruel and clever replies. I devastate him."

His wife said Mr. Flavin's voice goes booming out among the pine trees and possibly it was good they had no neighbors.

"I have thought of several crushers," said Mr. Flavin. "I say: 'Senator, I am 70 years old. But if you will step out in the corridor and take off that toga, we shall see what we can do.'

"I have another one: 'I don't want a lawyer. I want a writ of habeas corpus. Get me out of here.'"

☆ ☆ ☆

Mr Flavin said he would be delighted if I would stay for lunch

"I wish I could," I said. "But I must go back and go to work I am terribly busy. Way behind."

I am too. After awhile I went back to the Pine Inn. I opened all the windows and put a newspaper over my face and took a nap. When I woke the sun was going down over the water and it was too late to do much But I intend to get on it early Tomorrow.

Congressional Delegation Dean Won't Run Again:

GOP Unprepared For Curtis Action

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln Republicans appeared to be totally unprepared for the announcement of Rep. Carl Curtis in Washington that he would not be a candidate for re-election. His announcement came less than two weeks after he had made a statement that his intentions were to again seek to represent the first congressional district.

Active party workers when questioned as to persons that might become candidates said they knew of no one anxious to make the race and in general they spoke of persons who had expressed interest in the past.

It appeared that no favorite had been selected before the Curtis announcement and a number expressed the belief that sentiment for candidates would not crystallize until after the Founders Day meeting here next Monday.

Possibilities were numerous, but no one would say any had shown interest in serving in the post. Rumblings for the past several months that Curtis would retire did not bring forth any "willing" names. Prominent among those mentioned were:

Max Denney, Fairbury, former administrative assistant to Gov. Robert Crosby who recently stated, "I am not interested in any political office at the present time." He emphasized "at the present time."

State Sens. Arthur Carmody of Trenton, Richard Marvel of Hastings and Tom Coffey of Alma. Former Sen. Jack McKnight of Auburn also is mentioned as a possibility. Conservationists are expected to advance the name of Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln.

Robert Van Pelt, Lincoln attorney, was reported greatly interested in making the race several years ago.

Joseph Wishart, Lincoln attorney, also has been mentioned, but it is known that he is under consideration for an appointment in the diplomatic service.

Curtis in a telephone conversation with The Star said that he "had friends through the district" and would not participate in any selection of a candidate to succeed him.

'No Definite Plans'

Questioned as to whether he had anything definite in his future plans and particularly a federal position he said, "No, I do not." He said that he had been offered appointment to the U. S. tax court last fall, but all the 16 positions are now filled.

Curtis said he would come to Nebraska for Founders' Day. Asked if he thought he would return to Nebraska, Curtis answered, "I will always be a Nebraskan." He said it was "quite a decision" to make, as he is dean of the all Republican state delegation in Washington, having served 16 years.

Curtis' announcement from his office in Washington merely said that for "two or three years" he had been considering quitting the job he has held since 1938.

It concluded on a note of thanks to the people of the district "for their support and loyalty in permitting me to serve them in the greatest legislative body in the world."

Two Democrats

Although there are no announced candidates for the job from Republican ranks, there are two in the Democratic party. Frank Morrison of McCook, who unsuccessfully opposed Curtis in 1948, announced early and has been building up the momentum of his campaign steadily. Samuel Freeman of Hubbell also filed for the Democratic nomination.

There was some conjecture that had Curtis' announcement come earlier either of two Lincoln men who have filed for governor might have switched to the Congressional race. They are Victor Anderson and Lancaster County Attorney Frederick Wagener.

Wagener said Tuesday he was "not interested at this time in the Congressional seat. At this time the most important issue to Nebraskans is the state's tax problem. I have filed for governor and I am engaged in campaigning for that position on the tax issue."

Leaders Out Of State

State Chairman David T. Martin of Kearney and Republican National Committeeman Abel V Shotwell of Omaha were out of the state when Curtis' announcement came and Mrs. Edna Basten Donald of Grand Island, national committee woman, declined to speculate on possible candidates for Curtis' post.

Whoever tackles Curtis' job will have a tough assignment because of the very character of the district. The first district is made up of the bottom two tiers of counties in the state, stretching from east to west. It was estimated a primary campaign would cost more than $5,000, and the general election campaign at least that much.

Curtis is a native of Kearney County, and a graduate of Nebraska Educational Institutions. He served as Kearney County attorney from 1934 to 1936 as a Democrat and in 1938 went to Congress as a Republican.

He is a veteran member of the House Ways and Means Committee and in recent months has served as chairman of a sub-committee considering possible changes in the social security laws. These proposals plus other tax legislation in which Curtis has had a part have aroused considerable opposition to him.

NU Faculty's Chancellor Nomination Committee Submits Briefing Report

A briefing report was presented to the University of Nebraska Senate Tuesday by the special committee to select nominations for the chancellorship.

The committee chairman, Clifford Hicks, chairman of the Department of Business Organization and Management, said the group wanted to reiterate its stand on a policy of no publicity for persons being considered for the top university post.

In this respect, the committee said its feelings on publicity coincided with those of the Board of Regents, which recently placed a no-publicity sign on all persons being considered.

Hicks, speaking after a short statement by Acting Chancellor John Selleck, said additional names still are being considered for forwarding to the Board. He noted that the committee he heads had reaffirmed its position of squelching rumors by posting on university bulletin boards the policy of the Regents regarding any future publicity.

He noted also, that there had to date been no outside pressure observed by the committee on the possible choice of a chancellor. There was, however, no indication from the committee on what standards are used for naming possible chancellor candidates.

Acting Chancellor Selleck told some 150 persons attending the Senate meeting the Board of Regents was grateful to the committee for their work during the past months.

Safeway Stores Purchase Tracts

Safeway Stores, Inc., has purchased two adjoining tracts of land near 47th and O for approximately $113,500, according to deeds filed with the Lancaster County Register of Deeds.

L. C. Hawley of Omaha, the company's district manager, said a store is not planned there at this time but "eventually one may be. The area is growing."

Fronting on O Street, the tracts contain about 126,100 square feet. One was brought from Frank J. Weber of Lincoln for an estimated $40,000, and includes the land and building occupied by the Nesbitt Bottling Co., 4701 O.

The other tract, sold by Shurtleff Investment Co., extends to Witherbee Blvd. Selling prices estimated from revenue stamps was about $73,500.

Sixth Marriage Of Spreckels On Rocks

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The 34-day marriage of Adolph B. Spreckles III was on the rocks Tuesday with the sugar heir filing suit for divorce in Ventura Superior Court.

The sixth Mrs. Spreckels is the former Judith Powell, 22.

The 44-year-old sugar heir and the Hollywood starlet were married in Las Vegas after he was sentenced to 30 days in jail for beating wife No. 5, actress Kay Williams.

Spreckels charged Judith with "cruelty on general grounds."

TOWN TALK

THERE'S always another day, according to legend — and a good thing, too—Yesterday, for instance, we didn't get half of our news told—and if there hadn't been a today, no one ever would have known what we were going to tell—As it is, things are comparatively simple—we'll just begin this morning where we stopped yesterday.

* * *

TALKED to the Proutys—Mr. and Mrs. Harry—and found that Mr. Prouty leaves within a few days for the Proutys' new home in Arizona—but that Mrs. Prouty, Patti, Sue and Harry Jr., will not join him there until the end of the school year—to stay, that is—There always is an Easter holiday coming up—Anyway, the Proutys have purchased a new home—smack in the middle of a grapefruit grove about a mile from Scotsdale which is, as you know, a suburb of Phoenix.

* * *

THEN, we wanted to tell you—or perhaps we should say—remind you — that the Child Guidance Center is having its annual meeting tomorrow—and that the feature event is to be held Thursday evening at the Student Union when a panel of specialists will discuss the topic: "Does Your Child Trouble You."

Serving as ushers for the evening meeting, and distributing pencils and paper for the questions and answers period will be a group of provisional members of the Junior League, including Mrs. William Swanson, Mrs. James Riordan, Mrs. Tom Ludwick, Mrs. William P. Kimball, Mrs. Leonard Dunker, and Mrs. Nate Holman Jr.

* * *

IT WAS a nice party that the members of the Lincoln Symphony Association board gave at the University Club last evening to honor the two Symphony audition winners—Paul Parker, pianist — and Jack Cole, baritone. We did a bit of drooling over the gifts presented to Mr. Parker and Mr. Cole by the Symphony Association's president, Arnott Folsom, on behalf of the board. Each received a most attractive pair of enameled cuff links, with notes of music as a motif.

* * *

SPEAKING of pleasant events —just learned that the members of the Nebraska Art Association board have a party planned for Saturday evening, March 20, at the University club. It is to honor the two art experts who will be in Lincoln that week-end—not only to speak before Association members, but also to give advice on pictures for the Art Association's permanent collection.

The honorees will be Mrs. Grace L. McCann Morley, director of the San Francisco museum — and H. Harvard Arnason, director of the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis, Minn.

* * *

AND while we seem to be doing organizations—It was announced at a meeting of the Nebraska Art Association board on Tuesday morning, that Mrs. Joseph R. Seacrest had been elected to membership on the board.

* * *

BUT before we become too involved with this and that about town, we must devote some time to the spring bride —Miss Ruthe Jewett, whose marriage to John Small of New Rochelle, N.Y., will take place on Saturday, May 1.

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Jewett, Miss Barbara Dillman will be a hostess on Saturday when she entertains at a dessert luncheon at her home, and when the guest list will include Delta Gamma sisters of both the bride-elect and her hostess.

* * *

TOMORROW is the day that the foursome of cadets from Wentworth Military Academy arrive home for a six-day holiday. Planeing in on Thursday morning will be Richard Hudson, captain of the Wentworth basketball team; Terry Sheutz, Ted Schizas and Jim Kiely.

* * *

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Joseph Alexis is expected home today from Tucson, Ariz., where she has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Malloy and their family.

* * *

AND we also learned that Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vickery and their three sons, John, Bill and Tom, arrived last Saturday from Hastings—and now are Lincoln residents. At the moment the Vickerys are the house guests of Mrs. Vickery's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Mengshol, but later this month they will be moving into their own home at 1901 So. 34th. Mrs. Vickery is the former Courtney Ashton—Alpha Phi at Nebraska. Mr. Vickery is a Phi Kappa Psi —also at Nebraska.

* * *

HEAR there's a birthday party on the books for next Friday evening—Mrs. W. H. Linch has invited a small group of guests for dinner and bridge in celebration of Mr. Linch's birthday anniversary.

TODAY At The ART EXHIBIT

Today's Artist

MADELINE HEWES

Madeline Hewes' oil, "Wedding in Barcelona," gives the impression of a purely decorative painting—a gay and whimsical comment on social custom—at first glance, that is. But upon closer examination the painting becomes something entirely different. In spite of the delicate palette and technique that Miss Hewes has used, and regardless of the fact that her subjects permit her a wide range of animated detail, there is imbedded in her work a definite bite—a satire which, however small scaled it may be, is nevertheless an important part of the total effect. In this painting, notice such details as a table completely bare of food at the wedding feast; that there are 13 persons present; that the blue sky in the background is occupied on one side by a cloud of white birds —and on the other side by a flock of vultures. These surely are chosen facts and not without their implication.

New PEO Officers

Elected president of Chapter DL, PEO, Monday evening was Mrs. Robert A. Wekesser, whose executive board during the coming year will include Miss Virginia Ann Porr, vice president; Mrs. Richard E. Garlinghouse, recording secretary; Mrs. C. G. Wilkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lewis R. Anderson, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Paul Turner, chaplain; and Mrs. Howard W. O'Donnell, guard.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. E. Clark following an informal dessert supper.

The members of Chapter EE of PEO met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. O. R. Frey. During the program, which featured the annual election of officers, the group elected Mrs. Frey president for the coming year.

Re-elected vice president was Miss Lucy Galloway, and recording secretary again will be Mrs. Georgene Frank. New officers named were Mrs. Elmer Schick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Fred J. Stevens, chaplain; and Mrs. Daniel Johns, guard.

An Interim Resident

Mrs. Asa Ferry arrived in Lincoln a very short time ago, accompanying Dr. Ferry who is the interim minister at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. Dr. and Mrs. Ferry came to Lincoln from Asheville, N. C., and are residing in the former residence of Dr. and Mrs. John Douglas Clyde.

We Hear That--

Mrs. Perry E. Colbert left on Saturday for Phoenix, Ariz., where she will be the guest of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Venron Colbert, and her granddaughter, Vickie.

The Star Welcomes:

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Patton, from Wichita, Kan., who have returned to Lincoln after a 6 year absence. The Pattons and their children, Patty Ann, 12; Danny, 10; and Linda Sue, five years old, reside at 2340 Garfield.

From Marietta, O., come Lieut. and Mrs. Lewis J. Swain and their children, Lewis Jerry, in the second grade at Park school, and Larry, one year old. Mrs. Swain is a native of Albany, Ga., and her husband played basketball at the famed Rio Grande College in Ohio. The Swains live at 921 So 11th and the lieutenant is with the Air Police Squadron at the Air Base.

A new laboratory technician at the Lincoln Clinic is Lucian G. Stauffer, who has moved his family to Lincoln from Poteau, Okla. The Stauffers reside at 3819 So. 47th and they have two sons, Bobby, who is 10, and 13-year-old Donald. Both boys attend school in College View.

Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer met while attending the California College of Medical Technicians

The welcome mat was rolled out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. George C. White and their three daughters, Janet, Sandra and Ginger, who have come from Manhattan, Kans., to spend at least two years in Lincoln, and perhaps longer. But Manhattan is not the Whites' home town—nor are they natives of Kansas. Both Mr. and Mrs. White are Oklahomans by birth. They now are residing at 4417 Holdrege street.

And since last Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yaw, and their two small sons, Robert and Kenneth, have been residents of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Yaw returned to the States recently from London, England, where Mr. Yaw was stationed with the Air Force. Both Mr. and Mrs. Yaw call Boulder, Colo., "home," and both attended the University of Colorado. Currently they are residing at 3338 Starr St.

It's a long way from Riverside, Calif., to Lincoln, but T. Sgt. and Mrs. Chester I. Zander, and their son, Don Wayne, have just come from there. Don began classes at Lincoln High School on Monday, and the family is residing at 431 So. 55th street.

Participate In Panel

At a joint meeting and dinner of the Cornhusker Chapter of the National Secretaries Association and the Lincoln members of the National Office Managers Association held Tuesday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker, members of the secretaries' group presented a panel discussion on their organization.

The Brides' Book

Miss Phyllis Gana, whose marriage to James Horan of Beaver Crossing will be solemnized Friday, April 9, at Sprague, is announcing the members of her bridal party this morning.

Miss Doris Horan of Beaver Crossing, sister of the bridegroom, will be the maid of honor. Miss Carolyn Ideus and Miss Ruth Gana, cousin of the bride-elect, both from Adams will be the bridesmaids. Paul Gana, brother of the bride, and her cousin, Patrick Gana, will light the candles.

Mrs. Harold Mills and her daughters, Mrs. Clifford Morgan and Mrs. Orville Bernecker, entertained at the home of Mrs. Mills on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Phyllis Brown, whose marriage to Kenneth Watkins will be solemnized on April 3. Fifteen guests were present at the dessert supper and miscellaneous shower.

PTA Units Observe State Day

Mrs. L. E. Liebers, president of IRVING PTA, has called a special meeting of the school room mothers for 1:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon in room 206. All room mothers are urged to attend.

The monthly meeting of LAKEVIEW PTA will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the school auditorium. A talk on civil defense will be featured.

The members of HAVELOCK PTA re-elected Mrs. Floyd Parker president of the unit at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the school. Other new officers are Mrs. Wesley Charlton, first vice president; Mrs. John G. Wright, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Foreman, secretary; Mrs. William Brew, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Ehlers, council representative.

The meeting was opened with a talk, "Inner Resources and Words of Our Heart," by Mrs. Clarence Smith, and a State Day program was given by third grade pupils of Mrs. M. L. Sederburg. The following announcements were made: Adult education millinery classes, March 22 to May 17; kindergarten enrollment, March 29; meeting of parents of sixth graders, April 7, meeting of parents of seventh graders, April 21; chest X-rays, April 27 and 29.

Miss Druzilla McCall and Mrs. Scott Willoughby presided at the tea table, and hostesses were mothers of sixth grade pupils including Mrs. Howard Sand, Mrs. Charles Passieux, Mrs. M. A. Nelson, Mrs. Virgil Packett, Mrs. William Brew, Mrs. Donald Bowers, Mrs. Wesley Charlton and Mrs. C. A. Whitaker.

A talk, "A Camping Experience for Every Boy and Girl," was given by Robert Hamblet of the University of Nebraska department of physical education at the Tuesday evening meeting of SARATOGA PTA.

Mrs. Alexander Bauer presided at the meeting, which was opened by John Helzer with a talk, "Quiet Forces of God in Nature." Group singing was led by Mrs. R. A. Mace, with Mrs. D. Ernstmeyer as accompanist, and a program of flute music was given by Irving pupils, Marilyn Powers, Becky Evans, Ruth Chubbuck, Sharon McConkle, Jane Rogers, Linda Mueck, Marilyn Winter and Patricia Wissler, directed by Dwight Kier.

The unit's annual fun night will be held March 26. Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Herman Herstein, Mrs. Jack Keckler, Mrs. Hugo Johnson and Mrs. Philip Beltz.

PRESCOTT PTA members heard a program of music by Mrs. Letha Hart's beginning instrumental pupils at the monthly meeting Tuesday evening. Guest speaker was Joe T. Carroll, chief of Lincoln police, who spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency," which was followed by a discussion period. The program was under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Eno.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. John Cullen, Mrs. V. E. Hicks and mothers of fifth grade pupils.

Hadassah Officer Here

At the meeting of the board of Hadassah, held Tuesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Robert Cohen, Mrs. L. B. Finkelstein was named chairman of the nominating committee.

The regional president of Hadassah, Mrs. Harry Goodman of Pueblo, Colo., will be in Lincoln on Wednesday and will meet with the board at luncheon, to be held at the Hotel Cornhusker, when plans for the Mountain Plains Regional conference in Lincoln, May 1 to 4, will be discussed.

Mrs. Joe Schuckman will be hostess to Mrs. Goodman and the board members at an 8 o'clock meeting, Wednesday evening, at her home.

Have Your Hair Styled to Flatter Your Individuality

Maison Lorenzo hair stylists believe that a good basic haircut is the very foundation of your smart appearance . . . and that the individual contour of your face determines just how your hair should be cut . . . and styled!

In order to have the correct line in any coiffure . . . it is necessary to have your hair snipped and tapered in just the right spots. Correct hair cutting is a fine art . . and our staff members are each personally trained in this field. Each is a specialist, ready to suggest a new hairstyle perhaps . or to cut and shape your present one to perfection.

Even when you are in a hurry . . you are always welcome to drop in with or without an appointment for quick, fine-quality service. Then when you have more time our experts can again help you with a permanent . "tailor-made" to your hair texture. Your hair is tested carefully wrapped in a special, protective lotion so that the curl is just right . . not too soft, not too springy!

You'll like the lift that a neat haircut and an exciting new hair style can give you! Why not come in for a complimentary consultation with Mr. Robert, Style Director? Haircuts start at 1.25 at Masion Lorenzo, third floor GOLD & CO. Lincoln's Busy Dept. Store.

TOWN TALK

THERE'S always another day, according to legend — and a good thing, too—Yesterday, for instance, we didn't get half of our news told—and if there hadn't been a today, no one ever would have known what we were going to tell—As it is, things are comparatively simple—we'll just begin this morning where we stopped yesterday.

* * *

TALKED to the Proutys—Mr. and Mrs. Harry—and found that Mr. Prouty leaves within a few days for the Proutys' new home in Arizona—but that Mrs. Prouty, Patti, Sue and Harry Jr., will not join him there until the end of the school year—to stay, that is—There always is an Easter holiday coming up—Anyway, the Proutys have purchased a new home—smack in the middle of a grapefruit grove about a mile from Scotsdale which is, as you know, a suburb of Phoenix.

* * *

THEN, we wanted to tell you—or perhaps we should say—remind you — that the Child Guidance Center is having its annual meeting tomorrow—and that the feature event is to be held Thursday evening at the Student Union when a panel of specialists will discuss the topic: "Does Your Child Trouble You."

Serving as ushers for the evening meeting, and distributing pencils and paper for the questions and answers period will be a group of provisional members of the Junior League, including Mrs. William Swanson, Mrs. James Riordan, Mrs. Tom Ludwick, Mrs. William P. Kimball, Mrs. Leonard Dunker, and Mrs. Nate Holman Jr.

* * *

IT WAS a nice party that the members of the Lincoln Symphony Association board gave at the University Club last evening to honor the two Symphony audition winners—Paul Parker, pianist — and Jack Cole, baritone. We did a bit of drooling over the gifts presented to Mr. Parker and Mr. Cole by the Symphony Association's president, Arnott Folsom, on behalf of the board. Each received a most attractive pair of enameled cuff links, with notes of music as a motif.

* * *

SPEAKING of pleasant events —just learned that the members of the Nebraska Art Association board have a party planned for Saturday evening, March 20, at the University club. It is to honor the two art experts who will be in Lincoln that week-end—not only to speak before Association members, but also to give advice on pictures for the Art Association's permanent collection.

The honorees will be Mrs. Grace L. McCann Morley, director of the San Francisco museum — and H. Harvard Arnason, director of the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis, Minn.

* * *

AND while we seem to be doing organizations—It was announced at a meeting of the Nebraska Art Association board on Tuesday morning, that Mrs. Joseph R. Seacrest had been elected to membership on the board.

* * *

BUT before we become too involved with this and that about town, we must devote some time to the spring bride —Miss Ruthe Jewett, whose marriage to John Small of New Rochelle, N.Y., will take place on Saturday, May 1.

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Jewett, Miss Barbara Dillman will be a hostess on Saturday when she entertains at a dessert luncheon at her home, and when the guest list will include Delta Gamma sisters of both the bride-elect and her hostess.

* * *

TOMORROW is the day that the foursome of cadets from Wentworth Military Academy arrive home for a six-day holiday. Planeing in on Thursday morning will be Richard Hudson, captain of the Wentworth basketball team; Terry Sheutz, Ted Schizas and Jim Kiely.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Joseph Alexis is expected home today from Tucson, Ariz., where she has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Malloy and their family.

* * *

AND we also learned that Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vickery and their three sons, John, Bill and Tom, arrived last Saturday from Hastings—and now are Lincoln residents. At the moment the Vickerys are the house guests of Mrs. Vickery's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Mengshol, but later this month they will be moving into their own home at 1901 So. 34th. Mrs. Vickery is the former Courtney Ashton—Alpha Phi at Nebraska. Mr. Vickery is a Phi Kappa Psi —also at Nebraska.

HEAR there's a birthday party on the books for next Friday evening—Mrs. W. H. Linch has invited a small group of guests for dinner and bridge in celebration of Mr. Linch's birthday anniversary.

Something Delicious

From a menu standpoint broccoli not only is a versatile vegetable, but a popular one as well. In this morning's recipe you find it, either frozen or fresh—or both—in a delicious gelatine salad mold that proves its worth when you serve it. Made extra hearty with eggs, this mold will serve as a main dish at luncheon, or a good accompaniment to any dinner entree. Here is how it is done

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1 can (10½ oz.) undiluted consomme
Salt and ground black pepper to taste
2 slices hard-cooked egg
6 cooked fresh broccoli flowerets
¾ cup mayonnaise
2 hard-cooked eggs, sieved
2 cups cooked diced fresh-frozen broccoli
Chicory or lettuce

Soften gelatine in ¼ cup of the cold consomme. Heat the remaining consomme and add to softened gelatine. Add salt and pepper to taste. Rinse a 5-cup gelatine mold in cold water. Cut the 2 slices of hard-cooked egg into 6 wedges and place in bottom of the mold with the cooked broccoli flowerets for garnish. Then, pour in ½ cup of the clear gelatine-consomme mixture. Chill until firm. In the meantime, chill the remaining gelatine mixture until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in the mayonnaise, sieved eggs and chopped broccoli. Turn into the gelatine mold over the egg and broccoli garnish. Chill until ready to serve. Unmold onto a bed of chicory or lettuce. Yield: Eight to 10 servings

And How Are YOUR Manners?

You can tell a lot about how gracious and wellbred others consider you just by honestly answering the following list of questions designed as a rating of manners. Even those who know the hallmarks of thoughtfulness and courtesy unconsciously slip into unmannerly ways unless they check up on their habits from time to time.

1. Are you free with your "thank you's" even for smallest favors? Is "please" a word that you use frequently?

2. Do you quickly answer when others speak to you, even though you are busily engaged or engrossed in something most interesting?

3. Do you keep appointments on time?

CONSIDERING OTHERS

4. When it is your privilege or duty to "boss" others, do you give orders brusquely—or with gracious consideration?

5. Do you telephone friends before dropping in?

6. Do you consult others present before selecting radio or TV programs and before opening windows or regulating the heat?

7. Do you interrupt others in conversation?

8. Are you particularly courteous in talking to those whose job prevents their being discourteous to you?

9. After being a guest, do you send a written expression of appreciation promptly? Do you return calls and acknowledge letters quickly?

10. Do you avoid listening to another's telephone conversation—yet take care that your conversation or movements do not interfere with their hearing?

11. Do you always excuse yourself before leaving the table . . and before taking a telephone call or answering the door if you are in conversation with another?

RIGHTS OF OTHERS

12. In the theater or when in any audience, do you refrain from trespassing on the rights of others by making comments or side remarks?

13. Do you think that a murmured "excuse me" makes it all right for you to go ahead and disregard others' prerogatives?

14. Do you use tact when it is necessary to disagree?

Simple as these rules are, they are broken every day. When you slip frequently, you can be sure that the impression you make on others is slipping as well!

Honored

When Miss Sharon Lewis was a dinner hostess at her home on Monday evening it was to honor the birthday anniversary of a 10th grade classmate, Miss Sandra Whalen. Dinner places were arranged for 22 and following the dinner the evening was devoted to roller-skating.

Your Reducing Diet

Although many suggestions for weight-reduction-maintenance don't seem applicable to the rest of the family, here is a recipe for beet custard that could go to the company dinner party without apology.

BEET CUSTARD
(69 calories per serving)

Scrape 1 lb. young beets on fine shredder. Stir 2 beaten eggs into ½ c. skim milk, and add 4 T. dry grated cheese. Season with salt, pepper and lemon rind to taste. Combine with beets and pour into individual oven-proof ramekins. Bake uncovered in 350 degree oven in pan of hot water until set. (Insert the ubiquitous silver knife.) Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve at once.

California Wedding

MR. AND MRS. BERNARD RAY BASEL

At a double ring ceremony which was solemnized at the Community Church in Vista, Calif., Friday, Feb. 12, Miss Barbara Ann Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Lawrence of Vista, became the bride of Bernard Ray Basel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney R. Basel of Ceresco.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Lawrence who wore a frock of pink nylon tulle. Her heart-shaped brim of matching tulle was ornamented with pink hyacinths, and she carried a heartshaped bouquet of pink tulle, hyacinths and roses. Costumed identically in blue tulle and carrying bouquets of blue hyacinths and iris were the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Carl T. Johnson, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Bruce D. Allen.

Carl T. Johnson served as best man, and seating the guests were Richard J. Terry, cousin of the bride, Gerald Meacham and Z. B. Sanders.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and satin. Her illusion veil was held by a lace cap embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a heart of white tulle and lilies-of-the-valley centered with a white orchid.

The bride is a former student at Santa Ana Junior College, and Mr. Basel recently received his discharge after serving with the Marine Corps.

Patriotic Group Meets

Preceding the annual state conference of the Nebraska Daughters of the American Revolution, which will open at the Paxton Hotel in Omaha on Wednesday, members of the Nebraska Chapter of Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America met in Omaha Tuesday afternoon.

Following the short business meeting, the group watched a televised program in which Mrs. A. J. Rasmussen of Omaha, state DAR regent, and Mrs. Frank Baker of Omaha, state resolutions and by-laws chairman, told of the organization's programs for the youth of America.

The state officers discussed the southern mountain schools supported by the DAR, the annual Good Citizenship essay contest held for high school pupils, the American History contest for fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils in the nation, and the newly-organized Junior American Citizens group sponsored by the DAR.

Give Your Dry Skin A Drink
from the Real Fountain of Youth

If your skin feels at all dry—if tiny lines around your eyes caused by dryness are beginning to worry you, it is because your skin is thirsting for more cholesterols and esters than it can make within itself. Lanolin Plus Liquid is, therefore, the real "Fountain of Youth" for your skin, for its penetrating action gives your skin a new and rich supply of cholesterols and esters. Your skin becomes softer and smoother as just a few days go by, and those tiny, dry-skin lines fade. Results are no less than astonishing! Even the first morning after your first nightly use of Lanolin Plus Liquid, you'll feel a difference. Get yours today. Use it as a cleanser—use it instead of a night cream—use it as a powder base. By keeping this patented, penetrating form of lanolin in constant contact with your skin 24 hours a day, you'll quickly become a much happier woman. Lanolin Plus Liquid is but $1 plus tax

Gas Tax Funds:

Wagener

Martin

The Board of Commissioners want to study the auditor's report that Lancaster County "lost" $130,559.89 in state gas tax funds and Co. Atty. Frederick Wagener's recommendation that a lawsuit be brought to "recoup the loss" caused by the state treasurer's "failure to timely effectuate a formula revision."

Wagener did not appear before the board Tuesday, but submitted the report of Martin & Martin, Lincoln auditors, and his recommendations in writing.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm suggested the matter "be tabled for further study," but added:

"We should make a decision in a week or two and not just leave the thing lay around."

'Reasonable Probability'

Commissioner Chauncey Barney said the board should talk further with Wagener. "I want the county attorney's opinion on the reasonable probability of recovery, not that there's just a possibility. It's not our duty to bring a possible suit."

Covering a period from August, 1951 to October, 1953, the auditor's report made for the county contains two sets of figures: one computing the total tax loss at $131,109 44, the other at $130,558.89.

The higher figure is obtained if the population of Boys Town (at Omaha) is included in the state distribution formula "as an incorporated village in agreement with the 1950 U.S. Census;" the lower figure on the rural classification used by the state treasurer, according to Auditor Ross Martin.

No Specific Date

Since no specific date is provided in the statutes for formula changes (other than the latest available figures will be used), the auditor's report assumes the use of population and vehicle registration changes in the formula the month following their official release

(State Treasurer Frank Heintze has admitted that the 1940 census and 1949 registration figures were used in the tax formula until October, 1953.)

Lancaster County's receipts over the audited period from the star mail account was $602.496.28 and from the counties' account, $903,744.45, the report said.

Computing Boys Town as an incorporated village, Lancaster County should have received an additional $52,443.61 and $78,665 83, respectively from Aug. 1, 1951, to Sept. 30, 1953.

On a rural population computation, the county's additional share should have been $52,223 39 and $78,335.50 during the same period

In his covering letter, Wagener said

"Bear in mind that action would be brought on the state treasurer's bond or bonds and not against those counties which previously benefit during the period the proper distributive formula was not used," Wagener stated, "and would not disturb the gas tax fund or future payments to various counties"

Gas Tax Funds:

County To Study Action In 'Lost' $130,558.89

Wagener

Martin

The Board of Commissioners want to study the auditor's report that Lancaster County "lost" $130,559.89 in state gas tax funds and Co. Atty. Frederick Wagener's recommendation that a lawsuit be brought to "recoup the loss" caused by the state treasurer's "failure to timely effectuate a formula revision."

Wagener did not appear before the board Tuesday, but submitted the report of Martin & Martin, Lincoln auditors, and his recommendations in writing.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm suggested the matter "be tabled for further study," but added:

"We should make a decision in a week or two and not just leave the thing lay around."

'Reasonable Probability'

Commissioner Chauncey Barney said the board should talk further with Wagener. "I want the county attorney's opinion on the reasonable probability of recovery, not that there's just a possibility. It's not our duty to bring a possible suit."

Covering a period from August, 1951 to October, 1953, the auditor's report made for the county contains two sets of figures: one computing the total tax loss at $131,109.44, the other at $130,558.89.

The higher figure is obtained if the population of Boys Town (at Omaha) is included in the state distribution formula "as an incorporated village in agreement with the 1950 U.S. Census;" the lower figure on the rural classification used by the state treasurer, according to Auditor Ross Martin.

No Specific Date

Since no specific date is provided in the statutes for formula changes (other than the latest available figures will be used), the auditor's report assumes the use of population and vehicle registration changes in the formula the month following their official release.

(State Treasurer Frank Heintze has admitted that the 1940 census and 1949 registration figures were used in the tax formula until October, 1953.)

Lancaster County's receipts over the audited period from the star mail account was $602,496.28 and from the counties' account, $903,744.45, the report said.

Computing Boys Town as an incorporated village, Lancaster County should have received an additional $52,443.61 and $78,665.83, respectively from Aug. 1, 1951, to Sept. 30, 1953.

On a rural population computation, the county's additional share should have been $52,223.39 and $78,335.50 during the same period.

In his covering letter, Wagener said:

"Bear in mind that action would be brought on the state treasurer's bond or bonds and not against those counties which previously benefit during the period the proper distributive formula was not used," Wagener stated, "and would not disturb the gas tax fund or future payments to various counties."

Rites Held At Utica For Wm. Peterson

Lincoln Star Special

UTICA, Neb.—Funeral services were held here for William Peterson, 66, retired farmer who died at his home in Gresham after a heart attack.

Born in York County, he lived for many years on a farm in Seward County, moving to Gresham in 1946. He was ill for several weeks prior to his death.

Surviving are his wife, Ann; one son, Karl; one granddaughter, and four brothers, Richard of Palisade, Rudolph of Kenniwick, Wash., Ferdinand of Corpenteria, Calif., and Ola of St. Louis, Mo.

Annual State Cage Extravaganza To Open Today

Fitzgerald Goes Out On Limb, Names Winners

(Editor's Note: Bill Fitzgerald, The Star's high school basketball rating expert, has followed Nebraska teams throughout the season with weekly ratings and saw as many teams play as was physically possible during the recent district and regional tournaments. Herewith are Fitzgerald's choices in the first day of tournament firing.)

CLASS B

12:30—Tecumseh over Gordon. The Indians have come a long way after a dismal start. Gordon has the tournament experience, but the Indians have the talent and are at their peak.

2:05—Loup City over Mitchell. Undefeated Loup City is in a close game against a veteran team from the west. Mitchell is tall and moving well now. A shot in the dark.

7—Lincoln Teachers over Wayne. The Tutors are heavy favorites over Wayne team which surprised in its district. Lincoln team has good height, balance.

8:35—Seward over Minden. Perhaps best game of day. Dick Cooley of Seward one of best players in state. Seward at peak.

CLASS C

12:30—Syracuse over Hartington. Rockets a classy team. Have one of best in Lyle Nannen, clever center. Hartington from a weak district but looked fine in tournaments.

2:05—Chadron Prep over Newman Grove. The westerners may win it all. Newman Grove up-and-down this year. Ed Kuska of Prep a noted scorer.

7—Geneva over Wood River. Wildcats most improved team in C field. Might be undefeated if able to play all games again. Rod Felix and Keith Everts best scorers. Wood River has height and may be playing its best ball now.

8:35—Franklin over Fremont St. Patrick's. Franklin has the record and the reputation. St. Patrick's could surprise here. The eastern team has fine center in Tim Evans. Franklin is tall and balanced.

Class A State Entry Records

BOYS TOWN — Defending Class A champion. Record is 14-5. Slow start with green team. Picked up in mid-season, slumped late then played fine tournament ball. Could win again with Skip Palrang directing the play and Jim Cook, Bob Hicks and Bob Ford doing the scoring.

Mitchell Tigers Check In For Title

Coach Les Jones signs the hotel register as his Mitchell players crowd around on the eve of their first test in the state tourney today. The Tigers, sporting a 13-6 record, will meet Loup City in Class B play at 2:05. The Mitchell team was one of the first to arrive in the Capital City Tuesday night as the annual trek to Lincoln got under way. (Star Photo)

Boys Town Ace

Jim Cook, junior forward, will lead Boys Town against Lincoln High Thursday night. He is the only returning regular from the Cowboys' Class A champions of 1953.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri surged from behind in the third quarter and whipped the favored Kansas Jayhawkers, 76-67, in the final Big Seven Conference basketball game Tuesday night, spoiling the Kansas bid for a clear championship.

A coin will be flipped today to decide whether Colorado or Kansas will go into the NCAA regional playoff at Stillwater, Okla., Saturday night against Bradley or Oklahoma City University.

Missouri claimed third place in the Big Seven with a 6-6 record. Kansas State and Nebraska tied for fourth at 5-7.

It was the sixth time Kansas has tied for the league title while winning it 10 times under the coaching of Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen in the 25-year history of the Big Seven, formerly the Six Six.

Kentucky Wins, Withdraws

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — Kentucky, the nation's top ranking basketball team, defeated Louisiana State University 63 to 56 Tuesday night to win the Southeastern Conference and the right to represent the SEC in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament.

Immediately after the game Kentucky announced withdrawal from the NCAA tourney. The Wildcats requested the conference to designate another team to represent the SEC in the NCAA tourney.

The announcement followed refusal of the NCAA to permit Kentucky's three postgraduate aces—Lou Tsioropoulos, Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey —to participate in NCAA play.

It was considered likely the SEC would designate LSU to represent the conference in the NCAA tournament.

Ticketed To Star In Tourney

Tournament goers will see some top action on the freshman court at the Coliseum where Classes C and D will hold forth until the finals Saturday. Picked as stars in those classes are Lyle Nannen (left), top star of the Class C Syracuse Rockets; Boyd Timmons (top center), bright light of the Western Class D club; Warren Lashley (top right), of the Class D Palmyra team; Rod Felix (bottom center), top scorer of the Geneva team in Class C, and Dick Cooley (bottom right), a leader on the Class B Seward team. Leads Chadron Prep

Ed Kuska, Chadron Prep's high scorer, will carry the Junior Eagles' hopes against Newman Grove in a Class C game tonight.

Cowbells, No Cotton, For Sale

Brace your eardrums and bring along some cotton.

Cowbells will be sold by the university concessions at the state tourney.

"Yes, we have a supply of cowbells for sale," said L. F. (Pop) Klein, Cornhusker concessions chief, when asked Tuesday night. "They go for 35 cents a set and are guaranteed to ring in a victory for the home team."

'Pop' Klein

Cornhusker footballers who were on the 1953 fall squad will do the vending, Klein said.

Along with the cowbells, such perennial favorites will be sold as cokes, apples, sandwiches, candy, peanuts and cotton candy.

A new delicacy, announces Pop, will be ice cream sundaes.

"The sundaes will come in chocolate only, but that should satisfy the kids," grinned Klein.

Concession stands have been set up under the bleachers on both sides of the varsity court.

Oh, there is one item missing. No cotton is available to plug your ears against the cowbells.

Florida Fighter To Go In Omaha

Hopefuls In Class B, C Start Four-Day Barrage

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

The state of Nebraska becomes a kingdom this afternoon at 12:30.

It's a basketball kingdom with four thrones, and candidates for two seats will be reviewed today in the University of Nebraska Coliseum in opening games of the state high school basketball tournament.

To Gordon and Tecumseh, schools from extreme sections of the Cornhusker state, goes the honor of opening the competition in Class B.

To Hartington from the northeast and Syracuse of nearby Otoe County falls a similar honor in the Class C field.

Two games are set for this afternoon in each class. The B teams will play on the varsity court. Class C teams will play on the freshman court.

Ticket windows will open around 11 a.m. The second afternoon game probably will be completed about 3:30. The evening program consists of two games in B and two in C. First is at 7 o'clock.

A and D teams start Thursday.

If one team can be cited as a favorite to win its class the finger must fall on Lincoln Teachers in B. The Tutors lost one game during a terrific season.

Their home court is the same Coliseum floor on which they will operate tonight. The situation is comparable to that of the neighborhood tough guy who offers to fight you in his back yard.

If the Teachers get by Newman Grove, they can watch two of the best in the following game. That would be the Minden-Seward battle in B.

Minden comes from the land of Class B champions. The team which wins this class perenially must conquer a strong squad from the center of the state where the Whippets make their home.

Seward looked only fair earlier this season. The record was good but the team was nothing special. In the district final against a fine York team last week the same Blue Jays looked like a club no one would ever want his alma mater to challenge.

If Seward can play three games like its latest York performance, the B title should end up in the Seward county seat.

Afternoon fans can look at the dark horse in a Tecumseh team which could shock the tournament. The Indians meet Gordon, a team which saw the state last year.

Undefeated Loup City is back as a B team after a C appearance in 1953. The Red Raider competition has not been as strong as that which scarred and rugged Mitchell can offer this afternoon.

Franklin and Syracuse are undefeated in Class C but must share top billing with Geneva and Chadron Prep.

Franklin's performances against eastern teams has awed this part of the state. The Flyers racked up high scores and ran away from most teams. They will be out to avenge a first round beating in 1953 when many picked them to go all the way.

Syracuse has faced weak teams except for Palmyra and Omaha Holy Name. The Rockets were semifinalists last year and have backers who say this tournament will go to the green shirts from the southeast.

Chadron Prep, often a king, became a kingkiller last week by stopping Chappell, last year's champion. Defeated only once, they figure to be tough.

Geneva has played the strongest C schedule.

Who Ever Heard Of Krupa Or Shaw?

Here's a hearty welcome to all of you high school basketball players, here for the start of the 44th state tourney today.

You can feel a tingle of excitement in the air as the 32 finest teams in Nebraska open fire for the four state championships.

To citizens of the Cornhusker state, this event annually is as important as World Series or Rose Bowl Time. It is prime prep attraction of the year and the dream of every high school youth.

Playing in a state tourney is fully as important to Mr. Prepper as stepping onto Yankee Stadium or trotting out on the Pasadena turf.

The athletes aren't the only high school students who will grasp a lifetime thrill. Those tuneful bandsmen, those rather wonderful cheerleaders and those home town followers all add to a burst of color.

Come to thing about it, some of these prep tooters can do more with a clarinet than Artie Shaw or more with a sax than Johnny Hodges or more with the drums than Gene Krupa.

Picking advance favorites becomes a hazardous task in this annual classic. The competitive zest, honed to a sizzling pinpoint by the series of elimination, is too strong to back your forecasts with folding green.

Boys Town to win Class A? Why anyone can win — Lincoln, Hastings, Benson, Northeast, Fremont, Alliance or Scottsbluff. It's risky business picking winners anywhere along the line, Mister.

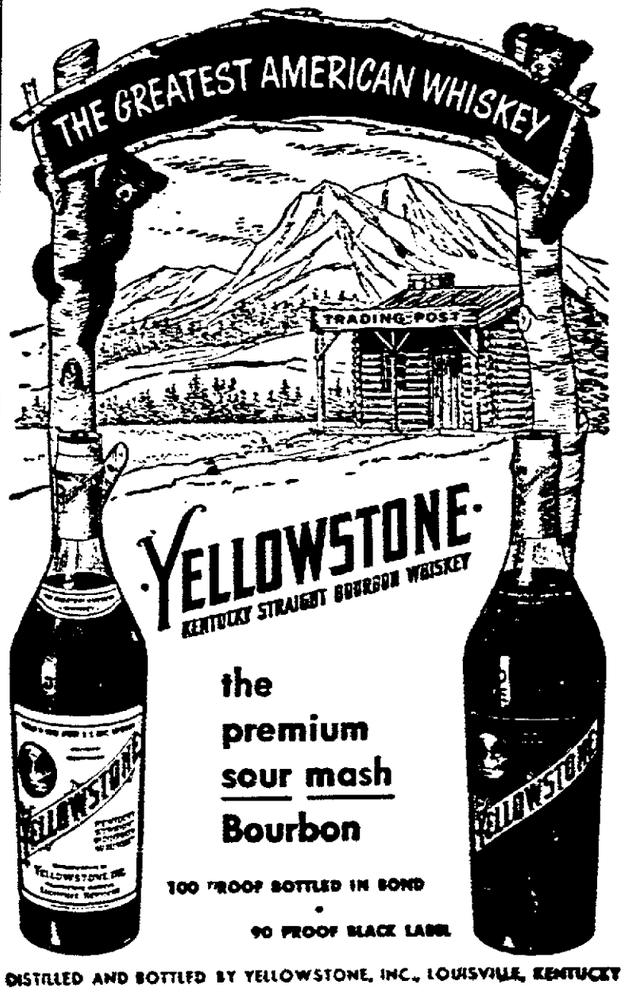

Class A, Class B, Class C, Class D are all equally important. Games on the freshman court are watched just as avidly as games on the varsity court.

You preppers are the men of the hour. Your basketball and your sportsmanship are on display.

Lincoln salutes you and, in doing so, issues a hearty:

Good luck!

Fitzgerald Goes Out On Limb, Names Winners

(Editor's Note: Bill Fitzgerald, The Star's high school basketball rating expert, has followed Nebraska teams throughout the season with weekly ratings and saw as many teams play as was physically possible during the recent district and regional tournaments. Herewith are Fitzgerald's choices in the first day of tournament firing.)

CLASS B

12:30—Tecumseh over Gordon. The Indians have come a long way after a dismal start. Gordon has the tournament experience, but the Indians have the talent and are at their peak.

2:05—Loup City over Mitchell. Undefeated Loup City is in a close game against a veteran team from the west. Mitchell is tall and moving well now. A shot in the dark.

7—Lincoln Teachers over Wayne. The Tutors are heavy favorites over Wayne team which surprised in its district. Lincoln team has good height, balance.

8:35—Seward over Minden. Perhaps best game of day. Dick Cooley of Seward one of best players in state. Seward at peak.

CLASS C

12:30—Syracuse over Hartington. Rockets a classy team. Have one of best in Lyle Nannen, clever center. Hartington from a weak district but looked fine in tournaments.

2:05—Chadron Prep over Newman Grove. The westerners may win it all. Newman Grove up-and-down this year. Ed Kuska of Prep a noted scorer.

7—Geneva over Wood River. Wildcats most improved team in C field. Might be undefeated if able to play all games again. Rod Felix and Keith Everts best scorers. Wood River has height and may be playing its best ball now.

8:35—Franklin over Fremont St. Patrick's. Franklin has the record and the reputation. St. Patrick's could surprise here. The eastern team has fine center in Tim Evans. Franklin is tall and balanced.

Mitchell Tigers Check In For Title

Coach Les Jones signs the hotel register as his Mitchell players crowd around on the eve of their first test in the state tourney today. The Tigers, sporting a 13-6 record, will meet Loup City in Class B play at 2:05. COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri surged from behind in the third quarter and whipped the favored Kansas Jayhawkers, 76-67, in the final Big Seven Conference basketball game Tuesday night, spoiling the Kansas bid for a clear championship.

A coin will be flipped today to decide whether Colorado or Kansas will go into the NCAA regional playoff at Stillwater, Okla., Saturday night against Bradley or Oklahoma City University.

Missouri claimed third place in the Big Seven with a 6-6 record. Kansas State and Nebraska tied for fourth at 5-7.

It was the sixth time Kansas has tied for the league title while winning it 10 times under the coaching of Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen in the 25-year history of the Big Seven, formerly the Six Six.

Kentucky Wins, Withdraws

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — Kentucky, the nation's top ranking basketball team, defeated Louisiana State University 63 to 56 Tuesday night to win the Southeastern Conference and the right to represent the SEC in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament.

Immediately after the game Kentucky announced withdrawal from the NCAA tourney. The Wildcats requested the conference to designate another team to represent the SEC in the NCAA tourney.

The announcement followed refusal of the NCAA to permit Kentucky's three postgraduate aces—Lou Tsioropoulos, Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey —to participate in NCAA play.

It was considered likely the SEC would designate LSU to represent the conference in the NCAA tournament.

Who Ever Heard Of Krupa Or Shaw?

Here's a hearty welcome to all of you high school basketball players, here for the start of the 44th state tourney today.

You can feel a tingle of excitement in the air as the 32 finest teams in Nebraska open fire for the four state championships.

To citizens of the Cornhusker state, this event annually is as important as World Series or Rose Bowl Time. It is prime prep attraction of the year and the dream of every high school youth.

Playing in a state tourney is fully as important to Mr. Prepper as stepping onto Yankee Stadium or trotting out on the Pasadena turf.

The athletes aren't the only high school students who will grasp a lifetime thrill. Those tuneful bandsmen, those rather wonderful cheerleaders and those home town followers all add to a burst of color.

Come to thing about it, some of these prep tooters can do more with a clarinet than Artie Shaw or more with a sax than Johnny Hodges or more with the drums than Gene Krupa.

Picking advance favorites becomes a hazardous task in this annual classic. The competitive zest, honed to a sizzling pinpoint by the series of elimination, is too strong to back your forecasts with folding green.

Boys Town to win Class A? Why anyone can win — Lincoln, Hastings, Benson, Northeast, Fremont, Alliance or Scottsbluff. It's risky business picking winners anywhere along the line, Mister.

Class A, Class B, Class C, Class D are all equally important. Games on the freshman court are watched just as avidly as games on the varsity court.

You preppers are the men of the hour. Your basketball and your sportsmanship are on display.

Lincoln salutes you and, in doing so, issues a hearty:

Good luck!

Hopefuls In Class B, C Start Four-Day Barrage

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

The state of Nebraska becomes a kingdom this afternoon at 12:30.

It's a basketball kingdom with four thrones, and candidates for two seats will be reviewed today in the University of Nebraska Coliseum in opening games of the state high school basketball tournament.

To Gordon and Tecumseh, schools from extreme sections of the Cornhusker state, goes the honor of opening the competition in Class B.

To Hartington from the northeast and Syracuse of nearby Otoe County falls a similar honor in the Class C field.

Two games are set for this afternoon in each class. The B teams will play on the varsity court. Class C teams will play on the freshman court.

Ticket windows will open around 11 a.m. The second afternoon game probably will be completed about 3:30. The evening program consists of two games in B and two in C. First is at 7 o'clock.

A and D teams start Thursday.

If one team can be cited as a favorite to win its class the finger must fall on Lincoln Teachers in B. The Tutors lost one game during a terrific season.

Their home court is the same Coliseum floor on which they will operate tonight. The situation is comparable to that of the neighborhood tough guy who offers to fight you in his back yard.

If the Teachers get by Newman Grove, they can watch two of the best in the following game. That would be the Minden-Seward battle in B.

Minden comes from the land of Class B champions. The team which wins this class perenially must conquer a strong squad from the center of the state where the Whippets make their home.

Seward looked only fair earlier this season. The record was good but the team was nothing special. In the district final against a fine York team last week the same Blue Jays looked like a club no one would ever want his alma mater to challenge.

If Seward can play three games like its latest York performance, the B title should end up in the Seward county seat.

Afternoon fans can look at the dark horse in a Tecumseh team which could shock the tournament. The Indians meet Gordon, a team which saw the state last year.

Undefeated Loup City is back as a B team after a C appearance in 1953. The Red Raider competition has not been as strong as that which scarred and rugged Mitchell can offer this afternoon.

Franklin and Syracuse are undefeated in Class C but must share top billing with Geneva and Chadron Prep.

Franklin's performances against eastern teams has awed this part of the state. The Flyers racked up high scores and ran away from most teams. They will be out to avenge a first round beating in 1953 when many picked them to go all the way.

Syracuse has faced weak teams except for Palmyra and Omaha Holy Name. The Rockets were semifinalists last year and have backers who say this tournament will go to the green shirts from the southeast.

Chadron Prep, often a king, became a kingkiller last week by stopping Chappell, last year's champion. Defeated only once, they figure to be tough.

Geneva has played the strongest C schedule.

Snack Shop Shifted

The sandwich snack shop where the University will host coaches of all Nebraska high school teams has been transferred from the Coliseum basement to Coach Bill Glassford's office on the second floor.

Officials Listed

The following men will officiate all tournament games under the supervision of Don McClay of Fairbury:

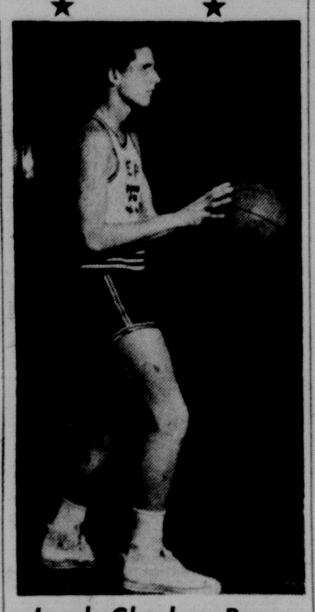

Paul Baker of Beatrice, Shelby Edwards of Scottsbluff, Bill Jennings of Lincoln, John Fitzgibbon of Hastings, Cecil Walker of Seward, Roy Speece of York, Ken Kennedy of Omaha and Bud Feaster of Grand Island.

Nine Champs Back

Nine teams in the present tournament field have won titles in the classes in which they are entered this year.

Former champions:

Class A—Boys Town, Fremont, Lincoln, Northeast, Scottsbluff.
Class B—Minden and Seward.
Class C—Chadron Prep.
Class D—Millard.

Leads Chadron Prep

Ed Kuska, Chadron Prep's high scorer, will carry the Junior Eagles' hopes against Newman Grove in a Class C game tonight.

Cowbells, No Cotton, For Sale

Brace your eardrums and bring along some cotton.

Cowbells will be sold by the university concessions at the state tourney.

"Yes, we have a supply of cowbells for sale," said L. F. (Pop) Klein, Cornhusker concessions chief, when asked Tuesday night. "They go for 35 cents a set and are guaranteed to ring in a victory for the home team."

'Pop' Klein

Cornhusker footballers who were on the 1953 fall squad will do the vending, Klein said.

Along with the cowbells, such perennial favorites will be sold as cokes, apples, sandwiches, candy, peanuts and cotton candy.

A new delicacy, announces Pop, will be ice cream sundaes.

"The sundaes will come in chocolate only, but that should satisfy the kids," grinned Klein.

Concession stands have been set up under the bleachers on both sides of the varsity court.

Oh, there is one item missing. No cotton is available to plug your ears against the cowbells.

Unbeaten Red Sox Keep Rolling

Consolo Stars As Yanks Lose Again

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Bonus Baby Billy Consolo doubled home the tying and winning runs with two out in the last of the ninth Tuesday as the Boston Red Sox whipped the New York Yankees 6-5.

This was Boston's second one-run triumph over the World Champions in two days. Boston won 2-1 at St. Petersburg Monday.

The Yankees had exploded for four runs in the top of the ninth when a succession of pinch hitters produced four straight hits. This rally also came with two out and the Yanks trailing by a run.

In the last of the ninth Harry Agganis led off with a triple. Floyd Baker got an infield single and Karl Olson doubled home one run. Walks to pinch hitters Bob Broome and Lew Damman after two out forced in another. Then Consolo lined sharply down the left field line to win the game —third straight for the Red Sox who haven't lost.

Hastings Duo Sparks Huskers

Pair Of Hastings Graduates Pace Nebraska Swim Team

Two Hastings, Neb., youths have scored more than 40 per cent of the University of Nebraska swimming team's points so far this year, and both are due back next season.

They are Calvin Bentz Jr., workhorse of the Cornhusker squad who is a junior, and Dick Hill, up-and-coming sophomore.

Bentz personally has accounted for 109 of Nebraska's 406½ points accumulated in winning five dual meets and losing five others. And on four occasions he has contributed to the Husker total by swimming a leg of the 300-yard medley relay.

Bentz has entered 23 individual events, winning 20 of them and placing second in the others.

Hill, who next year is expected to give Bentz a real battle in the freestyle events, won place-points in 17 events, including seven firsts. He, too, contributed to the Nebraska cause in a relay, swimming with the Husker 400-yard freestyle team.

Bentz has set five Nebraska varsity swim records this year and is a member of the record-holding medley relay team which also includes Lloyd Reed, Lincoln, and Dick Hlidek, Omaha.

Bentz' varsity marks include the 25-yard pool records of 2:24.9 for the 220-yard freestyle, 5:13.9 for the 440-yard freestyle, and 1:41 flat in the 150-yard individual medley, an event in which he is unbeaten this season.

For 20-yard pools Bentz holds the Husker 440-yard freestyle mark of 5:09.4 (a record that had stood since 1938 until this year), and 1:16.8 in the 120-yard individual medley.

Bentz, Reed and Hlidek back in December equalled their 300-medley mark of 3:12.4 for 25-yard pools set a year ago. They established a new standard of 3:11.4 for the same race in Iowa State's 20-yard tank.

Tireless Cal, described by Swimming Coach Hollie Lepley as "an inspiration to his teammates who follow his example for work," also lowered meet records in his pet events in nearly all of the Huskers' dual competitions.

"He could have still better times," Lepley pointed out, "except for the fact he is so eager to swim for the team. He just doesn't get enough rest between events."

Hill, who is 19, has been swimming chiefly the 100 and 220-yard freestyle races this year.

"His potential is great," Lepley declared. "He has the initial speed but must work to develop more stamina and endurance over the full route."

Should Hill accomplish this, the Cornhusker mentor feels he will be a strong challenger next year for Bentz' position as No. 1 man on the Nebraska team.

Bentz and Hill will be competing with the Nebraska team in the Big Seven Conference Championships at Iowa State March 12-13.

Fullbacks, Q'Backs Praised

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

The fullback and quarterback corps drew a kind word from Coach Bill Glassford in the University of Nebraska football camp Tuesday.

"Our top three fullbacks are looking very good," commented Glassford, "and we have been pleased with the work of our sophomore quarterbacks."

He referred to fullbacks Bob Smith, a three-year halfback letterman moved to fullback as spring drills opened; Jim Yeisley, who lettered as a defensive back in 1951-52 and was a scholastic loss last fall, and John Edwards, a junior who improved rapidly at the close of the 1953 season.

Sophomore quarterbacks drawing the plaudits were Chuck Smith, Frankin, N.H.; Don Erway, Lincoln; Gordon Englert, Sioux Falls, S.D., and Don Margheim, Gering.

"They are improving every day, especially in passing," said the Husker coach.

"At least from a depth standpoint, we are as well fortified at quarterback as we have been since I came here in 1949," Glassford added. "We still haven't seen what these boys will do in actual competition, however."

Glassford announced that his squad would scrimmage "every day" until the drills end, March 27, with an intra-squad game.

"Basic details," in the Husker coach's words, meant a long scrimmage on fundamentals.

The first lineup included Andy Lochr and Don Hewitt, ends; Bill Holloran and Pev Evans, tackles; Tom Kripal and Jim Murphy, guards; Bob Oberlin, center; Fischer, quarterback; Jon McWilliams and Willie Greenlaw, halfbacks, and Smith, fullback.

With most birds winging North again, the major league ball hawks pull their usual switch by dusting the snow from their shoes and heading South for spring practice. From now until the season opens, veterans and rookies will be tearing up the turf as they display their diamond wares. With about one-third of the horsehide crop being rookies, the grass won't be the only green thing in the parks.

The newcomers are all determined to prove they belong with the squad . . . but dugouts aren't auditoriums. The seating capacity is limited, and some of the lads who aren't ready for the rare atmosphere of the majors will wind up in the minors. Others will just wind up. In the meantime, umpires are practicing at home . . . talking back to radio and television commercials.

Teachers Seeks First State Title Today

Teachers, often a bridesmaid but never a bride, seeks this year to end its long tradition of coming close but never winning the state Class B basketball championship. Teachers High Seeks First State Title

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Teachers College High, Lincoln's Class B representative in the State Basketball Tournament beginning today, goes after its first championship in this year's tournament perhaps better equipped to win a title than ever before.

This won't be the first tall, high-scoring and capable Teachers team that has started out in search of the Class B bunting. It may not be the best, talent-wise. It does have something which some of the other fine Teachers teams lacked—humility and a desire not to be denied again.

Coach Dale Snook's 12-man squad again rolled through a highly successful season, winning 14 and losing one. The Tutors scored 869 points for a 57.9 per-game average.

More outstanding was their defensive record. They held 15 opponents to 536 points—an average of 35.7. Their average victory margin was an amazing 22.2 points

That isn't quite indicative of the Tutors' actual strength for while they rolled up many big scores—including a record 96 points against Wilber—they were also pressed by several teams and they were beaten by Omaha Holy Name, 36-35

The loss to Holy Name came in the last week of the season and the general opinion is that the defeat may have done Teachers a lot of good. It took the pressure off—this was obvious in the district tourney at Wahoo, where the Tutors played some of their best games.

Teachers beat Schuyler, Cathedral and Wahoo in the district tourney. Wahoo gave the Tutors a good battle down to the wire. The Tutors, as usual, had trouble with Cathedral in the first half but pulled away to win handily.

The ability to get hot and stay hot is one thing that makes Teachers click. Another is good all-around shooting and rebounding.

If those two old bogies—over-confidence and too much pressure—don't crop up again, Teachers could win its first title with the following squad:

Bruce Hoffman, a senior guard and one of four lettermen on the squad. He's a hard-driving, smooth-passing floor player and scored 114 points. Bruce is a brother of former Teachers star Bony Hoffman.

Bill Hunsaker, a sophomore transfer from Superior. He's tall but handles his height with ease and is a top prospect for the coming years.

Roger Kaltenberger, a 6-foot 2-inch regular forward who scored 99 points during the season and did a good rebounding job. Probably the most improved player on the team.

Bob Kaminski, a six-footer known as "The Whale" to his teammates. He's a quick, fiery substitute and played in 13 games during the season. Gives the Tutors good bench strength.

Jerry McKay, a popula. 6-1 senior guard. Although he doesn't shoot often he is one of the best set shots going. His 66 points for the season include 30 free throws. Jerry missed only 14 of 44 free shots in 15 games.

Jack Merritt, another quick floor man who played in 12 games as a substitute. His top thrill of the season was a 55-foot last-second field goal against Cathedral in the district tournament.

Clayton Rock, by common accord the best two-handed set shot on the squad. He can hit from the middle of the big Coliseum floor. He's a senior substitute and played in nine games during the season.

Hal Rowe, maybe the most unsung hero in the city. He scored 173 points during the season, rebounded consistently well and set up many of tall Jim Thom's baskets with his play under the boards.

Bob Seamark, a 6-foot 3-inch rugged junior center who understudies Thom. A good man to stay away from under the boards.

Dean Stoneman, 5-foot 9-inch substitute who played in nine games for the Tutors. He's one of five juniors on the regular traveling squad.

Jim Thom, who's the highest-scoring player in Lincoln with 305 points for the regular season. Thom ends a fine three-year career with the Tutors. He's 6-7—everything else about him has been said many times.

Larry Witt, a junior forward who stands 5-10. He'll be back next season after playing in nine regular-season games this year.

Moore Pounds Baker For Nod

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore, carrying the heaviest fighting weight of his career, gave Pittsburgh Heavyweight Bob Baker a savage beating Tuesday night to win by a technical knockout in 2.08 of the ninth round.

Baker was reeling before a murderous attack in the ninth when Referee Petey Sarron stepped in and stopped the fight. Baker's blood had splattered newsmen at ringside and the crowd of 2,794 had wondered for two rounds why the Pittsburgh boy didn't go down.

Moore was 15¼ pounds over the light heavyweight limit at 190¼ and experts doubted that Archie would again be able to make the class weight without seriously weakening himself. The once-promising Baker came in at 209.

Moore carried his weight beautifully as he pressed a vicious attack that finally brought the courageous but outclassed Baker to the point of a knockout in the seventh round. In that round, the champion was chasing Baker around the ring and getting through the Pittsburgh heavy's guard with almost everything he threw.

Baker was bleeding from the mouth, the nose and cuts over both eyes and by the start of the eighth the crowd marveled that he was able to keep his feet.

Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch

THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests.

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!

*Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Milwaukee Gives Hurler To Chiefs

The parent Milwaukee Braves have assigned a right-handed pitcher to the Lincoln Chiefs, announced General Manager Bill Herring.

He is Raymond Lague, 23. Lague weighs 170 pounds and stands 5-feet 11-inches.

In 1952, he had a 14-7 record for Quebec in the Canadian League. At Quebec in 1953, Lague had a 7-10 record and an earned-run average of 2.65.

Lague will join the Chiefs when spring training opens at Corpus Christi, Tex., March 18.

Unbeaten Red Sox Keep Rolling

Consolo Stars As Yanks Lose Again

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Bonus Baby Billy Consolo doubled home the tying and winning runs with two out in the last of the ninth Tuesday as the Boston Red Sox whipped the New York Yankees 6-5.

This was Boston's second one-run triumph over the World Champions in two days. Boston won 2-1 at St. Petersburg Monday.

The Yankees had exploded for four runs in the top of the ninth when a succession of pinch hitters produced four straight hits. This rally also came with two out and the Yanks trailing by a run.

In the last of the ninth Harry Agganis led off with a triple. Floyd Baker got an infield single and Karl Olson doubled home one run. Walks to pinch hitters Bob Broome and Lew Damman after two out forced in another. Then Consolo lined sharply down the left field line to win the game —third straight for the Red Sox who haven't lost.

Hastings Duo Sparks Huskers

Pair Of Hastings Graduates Pace Nebraska Swim Team

Two Hastings, Neb., youths have scored more than 40 per cent of the University of Nebraska swimming team's points so far this year, and both are due back next season.

They are Calvin Bentz Jr., workhorse of the Cornhusker squad who is a junior, and Dick Hill, up-and-coming sophomore.

Bentz personally has accounted for 109 of Nebraska's 406½ points accumulated in winning five dual meets and losing five others. And on four occasions he has contributed to the Husker total by swimming a leg of the 300-yard medley relay.

Bentz has entered 23 individual events, winning 20 of them and placing second in the others.

Hill, who next year is expected to give Bentz a real battle in the freestyle events, won place-points in 17 events, including seven firsts. He, too, contributed to the Nebraska cause in a relay, swimming with the Husker 400-yard freestyle team.

Bentz has set five Nebraska varsity swim records this year and is a member of the record-holding medley relay team which also includes Lloyd Reed, Lincoln, and Dick Hlidek, Omaha.

Bentz' varsity marks include the 25-yard pool records of 2:24.9 for the 220-yard freestyle, 5:13.9 for the 440-yard freestyle, and 1:41 flat in the 150-yard individual medley, an event in which he is unbeaten this season.

For 20-yard pools Bentz holds the Husker 440-yard freestyle mark of 5:09.4 (a record that had stood since 1938 until this year), and 1:16.8 in the 120-yard individual medley.

Bentz, Reed and Hlidek back in December equalled their 300-medley mark of 3:12.4 for 25-yard pools set a year ago. They established a new standard of 3:11.4 for the same race in Iowa State's 20-yard tank.

Tireless Cal, described by Swimming Coach Hollie Lepley as "an inspiration to his teammates who follow his example for work," also lowered meet records in his pet events in nearly all of the Huskers' dual competitions.

"He could have still better times," Lepley pointed out, "except for the fact he is so eager to swim for the team. He just doesn't get enough rest between events."

Hill, who is 19, has been swimming chiefly the 100 and 220-yard freestyle races this year.

"His potential is great," Lepley declared. "He has the initial speed but must work to develop more stamina and endurance over the full route."

Should Hill accomplish this, the Cornhusker mentor feels he will be a strong challenger next year for Bentz' position as No. 1 man on the Nebraska team.

Bentz and Hill will be competing with the Nebraska team in the Big Seven Conference Championships at Iowa State March 12-13.

Fullbacks, Q'Backs Praised

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

The fullback and quarterback corps drew a kind word from Coach Bill Glassford in the University of Nebraska football camp Tuesday.

"Our top three fullbacks are looking very good," commented Glassford, "and we have been pleased with the work of our sophomore quarterbacks."

He referred to fullbacks Bob Smith, a three-year halfback letterman moved to fullback as spring drills opened; Jim Yeisley, who lettered as a defensive back in 1951-52 and was a scholastic loss last fall, and John Edwards, a junior who improved rapidly at the close of the 1953 season.

Sophomore quarterbacks drawing the plaudits were Chuck Smith, Frankin, N.H.; Don Erway, Lincoln; Gordon Englert, Sioux Falls, S.D., and Don Margheim, Gering.

"They are improving every day, especially in passing," said the Husker coach.

"At least from a depth standpoint, we are as well fortified at quarterback as we have been since I came here in 1949," Glassford added. "We still haven't seen what these boys will do in actual competition, however."

Glassford announced that his squad would scrimmage "every day" until the drills end, March 27, with an intra-squad game.

"Basic details," in the Husker coach's words, meant a long scrimmage on fundamentals.

The first lineup included Andy Loehr and Don Hewitt, ends; Bill Holloran and Pev Evans, tackles; Tom Kripal and Jim Murphy, guards; Bob Oberlin, center; Fischer, quarterback; Jon McWilliams and Willie Greenlaw, halfbacks, and Smith, fullback.

Teachers College High, Lincoln's Class B representative in the State Basketball Tournament beginning today, goes after its first championship in this year's tournament perhaps better equipped to win a title than ever before.

This won't be the first tall, high-scoring and capable Teachers team that has started out in search of the Class B bunting. It may not be the best, talent-wise. It does have something which some of the other fine Teachers teams lacked—humility and a desire not to be denied again.

Coach Dale Snook's 12-man squad again rolled through a highly successful season, winning 14 and losing one. The Tutors scored 869 points for a 57.9 per-game average.

More outstanding was their defensive record. They held 15 opponents to 536 points—an average of 35.7. Their average victory margin was an amazing 22.2 points.

That isn't quite indicative of the Tutors' actual strength for while they rolled up many big scores—including a record 96 points against Wilber—they were also pressed by several teams and they were beaten by Omaha Holy Name, 36-35.

The loss to Holy Name came in the last week of the season and the general opinion is that the defeat may have done Teachers a lot of good. It took the pressure off—this was obvious in the district tourney at Wahoo, where the Tutors played some of their best games.

Teachers beat Schuyler, Cathedral and Wahoo in the district tourney. Wahoo gave the Tutors a good battle down to the wire. The Tutors, as usual, had trouble with Cathedral in the first half but pulled away to win handily.

The ability to get hot and stay hot is one thing that makes Teachers click. Another is good all-around shooting and rebounding.

If those two old bogies—over-confidence and too much pressure—don't crop up again, Teachers could win its first title with the following squad:

Bruce Hoffman, a senior guard and one of four lettermen on the squad. He's a hard-driving, smooth-passing floor player and scored 114 points. Bruce is a brother of former Teachers star Bony Hoffman.

Bill Hunsaker, a sophomore transfer from Superior. He's tall but handles his height with ease and is a top prospect for the coming years.

Roger Kaltenberger, a 6-foot 2-inch regular forward who scored 99 points during the season and did a good rebounding job. Probabaly the most improved player on the team.

Bob Kaminski, a six-footer known as "The Whale" to his teammates. He's a quick, fiery substitute and played in 13 games during the season. Gives the Tutors good bench strength.

Jerry McKay, a popular 6-1 senior guard. Although he doesn't shoot often he is one of the best set shots going. His 66 points for the season include 30 free throws. Jerry missed only 14 of 44 free shots in 15 games.

Jack Merritt, another quick floor man who played in 12 games as a substitute. His top thrill of the season was a 55-foot last-second field goal against Cathedral in the district tournament.

Clayton Rock, by common accord the best two-handed set shot on the squad. He can hit from the middle of the big Coliseum floor. He's a senior substitute and played in nine games during the season.

Hal Rowe, maybe the most unsung hero in the city. He scored 173 points during the season, rebounded consistently well and set up many of tall Jim Thom's baskets with his play under the boards.

Bob Seamark, a 6-foot 3-inch rugged junior center who understudies Thom. A good man to stay away from under the boards.

Dean Stoneman, 5-foot 9-inch substitute who played in nine games for the Tutors. He's one of five juniors on the regular traveling squad.

Jim Thom, who's the highest-scoring player in Lincoln with 305 points for the regular season. Thom ends a fine three-year career with the Tutors. He's 6-7—everything else about him has been said many times.

Larry Witt, a junior forward who stands 5-10. He'll be back next season after playing in nine regular-season games this year.

Moore Pounds Baker For Nod

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore, carrying the heaviest fighting weight of his career, gave Pittsburgh Heavyweight Bob Baker a savage beating Tuesday night to win by a technical knockout in 2:08 of the ninth round.

Baker was reeling before a murderous attack in the ninth when Referee Petey Sarron stepped in and stopped the fight. Baker's blood had splattered newsmen at ringside and the crowd of 2,794 had wondered for two rounds why the Pittsburgh boy didn't go down.

Moore was 15¼ pounds over the light heavyweight limit at 190¼ and experts doubted that Archie would again be able to make the class weight without seriously weakening himself. The once-promising Baker came in at 209.

Moore carried his weight beautifully as he pressed a vicious attack that finally brought the courageous but outclassed Baker to the point of a knockout in the seventh round. In that round, the champion was chasing Baker around the ring and getting through the Pittsburgh heavy's guard with almost everything he threw.

Baker was bleeding from the mouth, the nose and cuts over both eyes and by the start of the eighth the crowd marveled that he was able to keep his feet.

Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch

THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests.

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!

*Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Lord Woolton Claims Britain Is 'On Her Feet Again'

'Optimism, Enterprise Created'

By ROBERT A. WIENER

LONDON (INS)—The chairman of the Conservative Party reported Tuesday that Britain, in the economic doldrums a few years ago, "is on her feet again."

Woolton

Viscount Woolton said the Conservative government has made life better for the individual Briton and created a new atmosphere of "optimism, enterprise and initiative."

The 69-year-old party leader, who is also minister of materials and a close confidant of Prime Minister Churchill, made his remarks in an exclusive question-and-answer interview with International News Service.

Lord Woolton said the conservatives had scored major accomplishments in many fields since they were returned to office in October 1951 after six years of Socialist government.

He said the overseas trade accounts have been brought into balance, inflation subdued and production has reached record levels. The defenses of the country, Woolton added, have been put on a strong and efficient footing, new taxation had been avoided and several existing taxes reduced.

Slum Clearance

Woolton said a new housing program has been successfully carried out and a slum clearance campaign launched. In addition, the cost of living has been steadied and the "frustrating" wartime controls abolished.

"If I were asked to sum up all these achievements in a single sentence," Lord Woolton declared, "I would say that the major accomplishment of the Conservatives has been the creation of an entirely new atmosphere of optimism, enterprise and initiative which has enabled the country to break away from the dismal round of scarcity and restriction and move into greater freedom and abundance.

"We have aimed to restore Britain to her old self-confidence and self-reliance, and the fact that this summer, after 14 years, we shall be rid of the last remnants of food rationing is one clear token of our success. Britain is on her feet again."

Wife Of 'Buzzie' Roosevelt Given Divorce Decree

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Mrs. Robin E. Roosevelt Wednesday obtained an uncontested divorce from Curtis Roosevelt, grandson of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the late President.

The decree was granted by Judge Oscar Martinez of the Second Civil Court.

Mrs. Roosevelt who appeared in person, flew back to New York Tuesday bearing a Mexican Pinata (clay toy) for her daughter, Juliana who observes her second birthday March 15.

Gets Child

She got custody of the child.

Mrs. Roosevelt, 25, charged incompatibility. They were married in 1950 and had been separated for over a year.

Attorney Aureliano Gonzalez Vargas of Juarez represented Roosevelt.

Young Roosevelt was known as "Buzzie" Dall when as a child he romped with his famous grandfather Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the White House lawn. His mother is Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger. Curtis adopted the Roosevelt surname.

Tax Study Group Has Review Meet, Plans For Future

E. Ross Martin of Lincoln, area chairman and state secretary, will represent the group in Grand Island.

Attending the meeting were Karl H. Nelson and Larry Owen of Nebraska City, Mike Typer of Plattsmouth, L. C. Geis of Beaver Crossing, and Archie Baley of Lincoln. Also present was Frank E. Wells of Auburn, chairman of the Beatrice group.

S. S. Sidner Jr. of Kearney is the chairman of the state group.

Rodeo Star Dies

Five County Districts Seek Consolidation

Favorable petitions proposing the merger of five rural elementary school districts in southeast Lancaster County with Bennet District 8 have been turned in to Co. Supt. Glenn Turner.

Final approval of the merger must come from the State Committee of School District Reorganization, which meets again April 10.

If approved, the plan will be effective next fall, Turner said.

Petitions requiring signatures of 55 per cent of the eligible voters were approved as District 60, 100 per cent; No. 40, 88 per cent; No. 78, 75 per cent, No. 116, 63 per cent, and No. 106, 60 per cent.

All seven members of the Bennet School Board have given their approval.

A sixth rural district, 31, was dropped from the proposed merger, when residents indicated a desire to continue operating their own school independently.

The other rural districts are not contracting with the Bennet district for elementary education.

TV Star Webb's Former Wife Cites Him For Contempt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — TV star Jack Webb was cited for contempt Tuesday by his divorced wife.

Actress Julie London alleged he had failed to make a $50,000 payment due last Thursday under a settlement and had failed to give her $150,000 from the sale of his production company.

Her attorneys obtained an order from Superior Judge Elmer Doyle directing Webb to appear in court April 1 to show cause why he should not be found guilty of "wilfully disobeying" orders contained in his wife's divorce decree of last Nov. 25.

Later, however, an attorney for Webb said he had paid $50,000 Monday to an agent for Miss London. Her attorney acknowledged the sum had been received, but said she is still lacking the $150,000 for the trust fund.

Chicago To Get U-Boat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy turned over title to the captured Nazi submarine U505 to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry Tuesday. The vessel will be towed from her present berth at Portsmouth, N. H., Navy Yard and located at Chicago as a permanent exhibit and memorial for U. S. Navy men who died in the Battle of the Atlantic against the Nazi submarine menace in World War II.

Trade Pact Readied

TOKYO (Wednesday) (INS)—A new Franco-Japanese trade arrangement, under which Japan would export $28,500,000 worth of goods and take $24,000,000 worth of imports from France, will shortly be signed in Tokyo. Negotiations for the new one-year arrangement have been under way since Feb. 12.

New 1954 All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushion

All-Nylon Cord! Up to 80% stronger than standard tires!

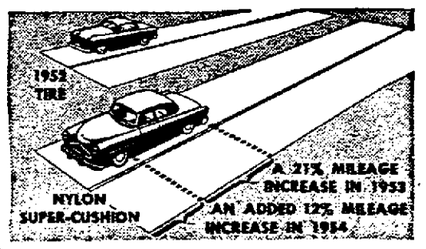

And now! 3 great 1954 Extras!

✓ Even more mileage than last year!
✓ Much greater skid protection than in 1953!
✓ Quieter ride—less squeal on turns!

COSTS ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN A STANDARD TIRE! NO OTHER TIRE AT OR NEAR ITS PRICE CAN MATCH IT!

1 Hits test curb at 55 mph! Not a cord broken! This is just one of the punishing tests this All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushion has taken! In fact, impact blowouts are almost unheard of with All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushions.

2 Up to 12% more mileage! This mileage boost comes right on the heels of a 21% increase in 1953. Total . . . almost ¼ more safe mileage than most motorists ever experienced before! That's real money in your pocket in reduced driving costs.

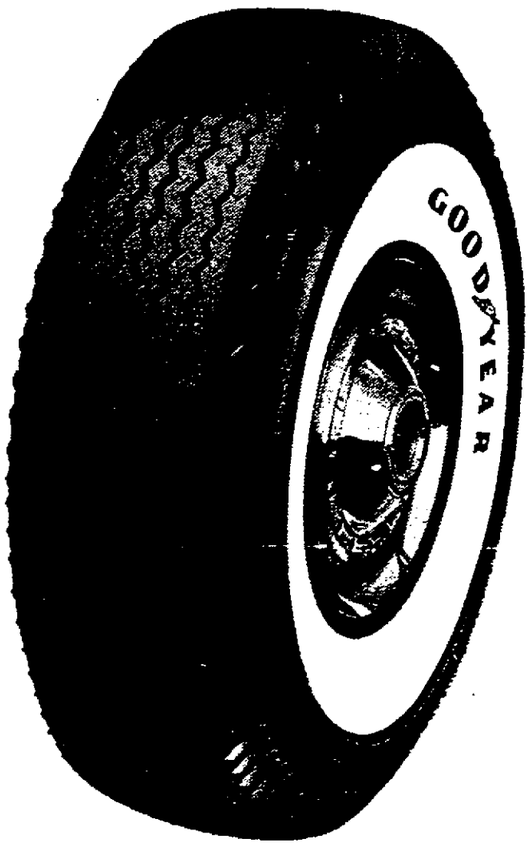

3 Quieter ride! 15% greater traction! That squeal on turns has been practically eliminated by a new anti-vibration tread design. And this new tread has 1806 inches of nonskid edges. 880 deep-cut safety slots for 15% greater skid resistance. You'll get quicker, safer stops, better skid resistance with this new tire.

There's a big difference in Nylon cord! Only Goodyear has Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon!

Nylon is the best tire cord—if the stretch can be controlled. Nylon is naturally stronger, pound for pound, than steel; it makes a lighter weight, cooler running, longer wearing tire. But, unless properly pre-conditioned, Nylon stretches under tension.

To control the stretch in Nylon cord, Goodyear has developed an exclusive process of chemically treating the cord and then putting it through a triple-tempering process involving Tension, Temperature and Time. The result—Goodyear's Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon Cord—the Nylon cord that is fully controlled at its point of maximum strength and resiliency.

Be sure your Nylon cord tires are made with Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon Cord—and that means Goodyear!

TV Star Webb's Former Wife Cites Him For Contempt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — TV star Jack Webb was cited for contempt Tuesday by his divorced wife.

Actress Julie London alleged he had failed to make a $50,000 payment due last Thursday under a settlement and had failed to give her $150,000 from the sale of his production company.

Her attorneys obtained an order from Superior Judge Elmer Doyle directing Webb to appear in court April 1 to show cause why he should not be found guilty of "wilfully disobeying" orders contained in his wife's divorce decree of last Nov. 25.

Later, however, an attorney for Webb said he had paid $50,000 Monday to an agent for Miss London. Her attorney acknowledged the sum had been received, but said she is still lacking the $150,000 for the trust fund.

Trade Pact Readied

TOKYO (Wednesday) (INS)—A new Franco-Japanese trade arrangement, under which Japan would export $28,500,000 worth of goods and take $24,000,000 worth of imports from France, will shortly be signed in Tokyo. Negotiations for the new one-year arrangement have been under way since Feb. 12.

Wife Of 'Buzzie' Roosevelt Given Divorce Decree

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Mrs. Robin E. Roosevelt Wednesday obtained an uncontested divorce from Curtis Roosevelt, grandson of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the late President.

The decree was granted by Judge Oscar Martinez of the Second Civil Court.

Mrs. Roosevelt who appeared in person, flew back to New York Tuesday bearing a Mexican Pinata (clay toy) for her daughter, Juliana who observes her second birthday March 15.

Gets Child

She got custody of the child.

Mrs. Roosevelt, 25, charged incompatibility. They were married in 1950 and had been separated for over a year.

Attorney Aureliano Gonzalez Vargas of Juarez represented Roosevelt.

Young Roosevelt was known as "Buzzie" Dall when as a child he romped with his famous grandfather Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the White House lawn. His mother is Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger. Curtis adopted the Roosevelt surname.

Five County Districts Seek Consolidation

Favorable petitions proposing the merger of five rural elementary school districts in southeast Lancaster County with Bennet District 8 have been turned in to Co. Supt. Glenn Turner.

Final approval of the merger must come from the State Committee of School District Reorganization, which meets again April 10.

If approved, the plan will be effective next fall, Turner said.

Petitions requiring signatures of 55 per cent of the eligible voters were approved as District 60, 100 per cent; No. 40, 88 per cent; No. 78, 75 per cent, No. 116, 63 per cent, and No. 106, 60 per cent.

All seven members of the Bennet School Board have given their approval.

A sixth rural district, 31, was dropped from the proposed merger, when residents indicated a desire to continue operating their own school independently.

The other rural districts are not contracting with the Bennet district for elementary education.

Chicago To Get U-Boat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy turned over title to the captured Nazi submarine U505 to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry Tuesday. The vessel will be towed from her present berth at Portsmouth, N. H., Navy Yard and located at Chicago as a permanent exhibit and memorial for U. S. Navy men who died in the Battle of the Atlantic against the Nazi submarine menace in World War II.

Tax Study Group Has Review Meet, Plans For Future

Representatives of the Lincoln area tax study group met Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce to review previous plans and discuss their proposals to be aired at the state meeting in Grand Island next Tuesday.

E. Ross Martin of Lincoln, area chairman and state secretary, will represent the group in Grand Island.

Attending the meeting were Karl H. Nelson and Larry Owen of Nebraska City, Mike Typer of Plattsmouth, L. C. Geis of Beaver Crossing, and Archie Baley of Lincoln. Also present was Frank E. Wells of Auburn, chairman of the Beatrice group.

S. S. Sidner Jr. of Kearney is the chairman of the state group.

Rodeo Star Dies

The tire sensation in 1953! Now Goodyear announces still greater improvements!

New 1954 All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushion

All-Nylon Cord! Up to 80% stronger than standard tires!

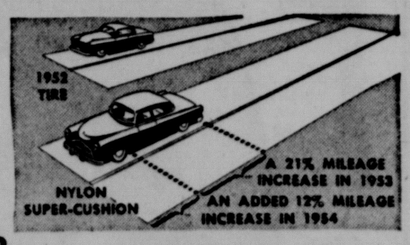

And now! 3 great 1954 Extras!

✓ Even more mileage than last year!
✓ Much greater skid protection than in 1953!
✓ Quieter ride—less squeal on turns!

COSTS ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN A STANDARD TIRE! NO OTHER TIRE AT OR NEAR ITS PRICE CAN MATCH IT!

1 Hits test curb at 55 mph! Not a cord broken! This is just one of the punishing tests this All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushion has taken! In fact, impact blowouts are almost unheard of with All-Nylon Cord Super-Cushions.

2 Up to 12% more mileage! This mileage boost comes right on the heels of a 21% increase in 1953. Total . . . almost ½ more safe mileage than most motorists ever experienced before! That's real money in your pocket in reduced driving costs.

3 Quieter ride! 15% greater traction! That squeal on turns has been practically eliminated by a new anti-vibration tread design. And this new tread has 1806 inches of nonskid edges, 880 deep-cut safety slots for 15% greater skid resistance. You'll get quicker, safer stops, better skid resistance with this new tire.

There's a big difference in Nylon cord! Only Goodyear has Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon!

Nylon is the best tire cord—if the stretch can be controlled. Nylon is naturally stronger, pound for pound, than steel; it makes a lighter weight, cooler running, longer wearing tire. But, unless properly pre-conditioned, Nylon stretches under tension.

To control the stretch in Nylon cord, Goodyear has developed an exclusive process of chemically treating the cord and then putting it through a triple-tempering process involving Tension, Temperature and Time. The result—Goodyear's Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon Cord—the Nylon cord that is fully controlled at its point of maximum strength and resiliency.

Be sure your Nylon cord tires are made with Triple-Tempered 3-T Nylon Cord—and that means Goodyear!

GM 1953 Sales Hit Record $10 Billion

Total Tax $2 Billion

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. reported Tuesday it sold more than 10 billion dollars of its products in 1953, a record for any private corporation.

Its direct taxes exceeded a billion and a quarter dollars and with sales and excise taxes, the corporation's total tax bill was nearly two billion dollars.

The giant auto maker, world's largest manufacturing concern, said its sales of $10,027,985,482 compared with $7,549,154,419 in 1952, the previous high for General Motors or any other company.

Profit Third Largest

However, its profit of $598,119,478 was only its third highest, being eclipsed by the net income of $656,434,232 in 1949 and the record high of $834,044,039 in 1950. But it remained the biggest money-maker in American industry, topping Standard Oil Co (New Jersey) 1953 earnings of 553 million and the 491 million for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s Bell system.

The net income amounted to 6 per cent of net sales and was equivalent, after the $12,928,312 annual requirement for preferred dividends, to $6.71 a share on GM's 87 million shares Last year's net income was $558,721,179 or $6 25 a share, which amounted to 7 4 per cent of net sales

The company's total taxes came to $1,898,000,000, equivalent to $21.77 a share, including $661,000,000 in sales and excise taxes collected by GM on sales of its products.

Officers reported General Motors sold 3,760,000 cars and trucks in 1953, a gain of 43 per cent over 1952 sales of 2 629,000. Of the cars and trucks sold in 1953, 3,276,000 were produced in U. S plants and 484,000 in Canada and overseas.

Lightning Strikes Site Third Time

RULO, Neb. (AP) — Lightning may not strike twice in the same place but Pete Darveaux has found this rule doesn't apply to fires.

For the third time a barn at the same location on his farm has burned. This time it was a large barn containing 1,000 bushels of oats.

Offutt Fliers Jump Out Of Crippled Plane

OMAHA (AP)—Three crew members of a C-45 transport plane based at Offutt Air Force base here bailed out of their crippled plane safely near El Paso, Tex.

The Offutt AFB Public Information office said none of the three was seriously injured.

They were identified as Maj. Paul R. Miller, pilot; and Capt. Milton C. Stahmer, co-pilot, both stationed at Strategic Air Command headquarters here; and S. Sgt. Ernest A. Perro, of Offutt. Maj. Miller lives at Bellevue. Capt. Stahmer on the base and Sgt Perro at Plattsmouth.

The Offutt spokesman said the plane lost a propeller from the left engine at about 8,000 feet while on a routine flight from Biggs AFB, El Paso, to Davis-Monthan AFB, Tucson, and turned about, hoping to reach Biggs on one engine

However, the plane steadily lost altitude and when it got down to about 1,000 feet the crew decided to bail out rather than risk crashing in a populated area.

Welfare Fund For Steamfitters And Plumbers Set Up

OMAHA (AP) — Plumbers and steamfitters have established a union welfare fund in Omaha, Henry Kleinkauf, union representative announced.

Klienkauf, chairman of the board of trustees of the welfare fund of Omaha plumbers, Local 16; Omaha steamfitters, Local 464, and the Master Plumbers Assn., said it was the first such fund to be established in the building trades here.

Establishment of the welfare fund is a result of an agreement worked out during the past year between the two unions and the Master Plumbers Assn., he said. The agreement calls for a contribution by the association of 7½ cents per hour worked by union members.

Welfare Fund For Steamfitters And Plumbers Set Up

OMAHA (AP) — Plumbers and steamfitters have established a union welfare fund in Omaha, Henry Kleinkauf, union representative announced.

Klienkauf, chairman of the board of trustees of the welfare fund of Omaha plumbers, Local 16; Omaha steamfitters, Local 464, and the Master Plumbers Assn., said it was the first such fund to be established in the building trades here.

Establishment of the welfare fund is a result of an agreement worked out during the past year between the two unions and the Master Plumbers Assn., he said. The agreement calls for a contribution by the association of 7½ cents per hour worked by union members.

Reds Get Medals

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet workers and farmers get more medals than their counterparts anywhere else in the world. They have collected more than two million orders and medals in the last seven years.

Education-Business Day Is Slated Again

Another Education - Business Day will be held this spring.

Approval of the program was given by the Board of Education upon recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Steven N. Watkins. The program includes the visiting by businessmen of the various public and parochial schools.

Rail Request Dropped

The State Railway Commission, at the request of the Railway Express Agency, Tuesday dismissed the agency's request to close its agency at Ellsworth. The Railway Express originally had asked to close the agency due to limited business and inability to secure an agent.

Lumber Contract

The County Board has awarded a County Highway Department lumber contract to Mid-West Bridge, Lumber and Suppiy Co., who submitted the low bid of $5,031.79. The Century Bridge and Lumber Company bid $5,574.84. Specifications called for one carload each of piling and lumber.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6 add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

(Distributed by International News Service)

☆ ☆ ☆

But we have gone for you in the Geneva conference in April. So you'd better go kitten - shopping for a new pet.

☆ ☆ ☆

The subject in Geneva will be Formosa, Indo - China, Korea and Peiping. In Berlin we traded horses with the Trojans. Now we are going with the Peiping Toms.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Geneva Conference will be a hash of the beef in Berlin.

☆ ☆ ☆

But once again we fear it will be in the neuter agenda.

☆ ☆ ☆

Alex Smith of the Foreign Entanglements Committee figures Secretary Dulles is dishing up appeasement. That will leave Chiang Kai-shek in a good spot to go island hopping. Formosa will be too small for him both.

☆ ☆ ☆

Chiang has got himself a lot of business with the U. S. Treasury and is setting as pretty as an Easter bonnet.

Bugs Baer

☆ ☆ ☆

There never was any international whimsy why Chiang and his Army shouldn't have been ferried to Indo-China. Chiang would have a navy if they could get the admiral off the junk.

☆ ☆

If Chiang is supposed to be fighting the Peiping Toms he should have kicked around with the Veet Minnies in Indo-China. But he's been fighting on all maps so long he's pin-happy.

☆ ☆

Only thing necessary to Chiang's career is a peace conference on Formaso. He'd make a fortune selling popcorn in the lobby.

☆ ☆ ☆

We'll know more about Geneva in April. It's going to be tough on the interpreters when the yodels start rolling in.

Grains Get Boost In Active Market

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains had a strong tone in active dealings on the Board of Trade Tuesday. There were these features:

1. Soybeans shot up for gains extending to 6½ cents, old crop months leading.

2. All wheat futures except the near-by March reached new seasonal peaks.

3. Corn made substantial gains for this laggard cereal, the September and December months scoring new highs.

4. Lard futures advanced sharply with July, September and October at new seasonal peaks. Loose lard gained ¼ cent to sell at 16⅛ cents a pound.

Wheat closed 1¾-2¼ higher, corn 1 to 2 cents higher, oats unchanged to ⅞ higher, rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, soybeans 1¾-6½ higher and lard 23 to 43 cents a hundred pounds higher.

In back of the strength of new crop wheat was the continued drought in the western sections of the Great Plains, where there was no rain during the day and for which none was foreseen over the next five days.

In its weekly summary the U. S. weather Bureau said, "There was little material change in the precarious condition of small grains in the middle and southern portions of the western Great Plains, where substantial precipitation has not occurred for over 12 weeks."

The advance in soybeans was a surprise to some traders who felt there might be a renewed testing of the lows touched Monday morning, following the 10-cent break last Friday. Nothing of that developed. Beans opened firm and stayed that way through to the close.

Firmness in cash soybean oil and meal helped soybeans. Bean oil sold at 13¾ cents a pound, a new 1954 high, while meal gained $3.00 to sell at $53.50 to $54.00 a ton. Despite Tuesday's upturn, soybeans did not reach new seasonal highs.

Key Stocks Hold 'Low' Trend Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Individual strength of a few key groups in the stock market Tuesday helped to erase early declining tendencies.

The whole day's trading was a quiet affair with moderate volume, moderate breadth, and moderate price changes.

A steady start gave way to a mixed pattern that finally turned into a lower trend in the afternoon, but recovery from the lows was well underway before the close.

Aircrafts were out in front from the start. Coppers were the next group to come to life. In final stages of trading, the radio-television group rushed to the fore with gains running to around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks posted a gain of 20 cents at $116.00. It was off 40 cents Monday. The average is quite near a 24-year high mark established Jan. 5, 1953.

The mixed nature of the market was reflected in the average with the industrial component up 50 cents, railroads down 20 cents and utilities up 10 cents.

Volume again was below average at 1,030,000 shares as compared with 1,650,000 shares traded Monday.

Stocks were mixed on the American Stock Exchange where trading amounted to 430,000 shares as compared with 520,000 shares traded Monday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—High grade utilities and railroads tipped the bond market forward Tuesday. U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Volume climbed to $4,030,000 par value from $3,550,000 Monday, but advances stretched to more than four points while declines were generally minor fractions.

Top quality corporates attracted the most buyers, though some high grade issues were subject to profit taking on recent sharp gains. Convertibles and income bonds also tended to improve. Industrials were little changed. Carriers and utilities made the most progress.

Tabitha Home will receive more than $100,000 from the estate of Miss Emma Collins; a former Lincoln resident, according to Dr. Alfred W. Young, superintendent of the home.

Belter

Funds from the estate will be used to construct a building to house staff members. The building will be a memorial to Miss Collins.

Also at the board meeting Tuesday, Dr. Young announced a bequest of 360 acres of land, valued at about $30,000, from the estate of W. H. Craig of Ottawa County, Kan., and a $3,000 bequest from the estate of Harry S. Wingert of West Point.

R. R. Belter of Burlington, Ia., was elected president of the board of directors.

Baptist Alliance Program Outlined

The worldwide fellowship of Baptists, the Baptist World Alliance, was described Tuesday night at the First Baptist Church by Dr. Joel Sorenson, youth secretary of the Alliance.

Dr. Sorenson, a Swedish citizen, received his Doctor of Divinity Degree from Ottawa University in Ottawa, Kan.

Dr. Sorenson pointed out the rapid growth of the movement in the U. S., Germany and Brazil.

Since the turn of the century the number of members in the U. S. has gone from seven to 19 million, he said.

"Fellowship is not built on conformity but rather on a common belief in the works of Jesus Christ," he said.

2 Teacher Pay Hike Plans Proposed

A new and higher salary scale for Lincoln teachers has been proposed to the Board of Education by two teachers' associations.

The proposals came from the Lincoln Teachers Association and the Lincoln Men Teachers Association. The two proposals were similar in the following three respects:

1. Reduction of the 17 steps in the salary schedule.

2. An over-all increase in salaries.

3. Additional compensation for addition professional training between the bachelor's and master's degree and beyond the master's degree.

The principal split between the two came with the men's proposal for a dependency differential.

"Salaries of men teachers, and/or heads of families," said the Men Teachers Association report, "are at the present time especially in need of adjustment. Many men teachers and/or heads of families now find it necessary to supplement their teaching salaries by at least 30 per cent."

The report noted that it is common for men teachers to leave their profession because of monetary reasons while single teachers seldom leave for that reason.

Help Husbands

The "sub-standard" pay of teachers was attributed in the report to several factors. One, the profession, more than any other, is used extensively for temporary income, particularly in the case of young women who help their husbands through school and others whose salaries are of a supplemental nature.

As another reason for low salaries, the report stated that while all parents want the best opportunities for their children, they often do not realize that their taxes are the basis for salaries. The men ask for the dependency

Grains Get Boost In Active Market

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains had a strong tone in active dealings on the Board of Trade Tuesday. There were these features:

1. Soybeans shot up for gains extending to 6½ cents, old crop months leading.

2. All wheat futures except the near-by March reached new seasonal peaks.

3. Corn made substantial gains for this laggard cereal, the September and December months scoring new highs.

4. Lard futures advanced sharply with July, September and October at new seasonal peaks. Loose lard gained ¼ cent to sell at 16⅛ cents a pound.

Wheat closed 1⅝-2⅛ higher, corn 1 to 2 cents higher, oats unchanged to ⅞ higher, rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, soybeans 1¾-6½ higher and lard 23 to 43 cents a hundred pounds higher.

In back of the strength of new crop wheat was the continued drought in the western sections of the Great Plains, where there was no rain during the day and for which none was foreseen over the next five days.

In its weekly summary the U. S. weather Bureau said, "There was little material change in the precarious condition of small grains in the middle and southern portions of the western Great Plains, where substantial precipitation has not occurred for over 12 weeks."

The advance in soybeans was a surprise to some traders who felt there might be a renewed testing of the lows touched Monday morning, following the 10-cent break last Friday. Nothing of that developed. Beans opened firm and stayed that way through to the close.

Firmness in cash soybean oil and meal helped soybeans. Bean oil sold at 13¾ cents, a new 1954 high, while meal gained $1.00 to sell at $83.50 to $84.00 a ton. Despite Tuesday's upturn, soybeans did not reach new seasonal highs.

Key Stocks Hold 'Low' Trend Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Individual strength of a few key groups in the stock market Tuesday helped to erase early declining tendencies.

The whole day's trading was a quiet affair with moderate volume, moderate breadth, and moderate price changes.

A steady start gave way to a mixed pattern that finally turned into a lower trend in the afternoon, but recovery from the lows was well underway before the close.

Aircrafts were out in front from the start. Coppers were the next group to come to life. In final stages of trading, the radio-television group rushed to the fore with gains running to around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks posted a gain of 20 cents at $116.00. It was off 40 cents Monday. The average is quite near a 24-year high mark established Jan. 5, 1953.

The mixed nature of the market was reflected in the average with the industrial component up 50 cents, railroads down 20 cents and utilities up 10 cents.

Volume again was below average at 1,630,000 shares as compared with 1,630,000 shares traded Monday.

Stocks were mixed on the American Stock Exchange where trading amounted to 430,000 shares as compared with 520,000 shares traded Monday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—High grade utilities and railroads tipped the bond market forward Tuesday. U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Volume climbed to $4,030,000 par value from $3,550,000 Monday, but advances stretched to more than four points while declines were generally minor fractions.

Top quality corporates attracted the most buyers, though some high grade issues were subject to profit taking on recent sharp gains. Convertibles and income bonds also tended to improve. Industrials were little changed. Carriers and utilities made the most progress.

Tabitha Home will receive more than $100,000 from the estate of Miss Emma Collins; a former Lincoln resident, according to Dr. Alfred W. Young, superintendent of the home.

Belter

Funds from the estate will be used to construct a building to house staff members. The building will be a memorial to Miss Collins.

Also at the board meeting Tuesday, Dr. Young announced a bequest of 360 acres of land, valued at about $30,000, from the estate of W. H. Craig of Ottawa County, Kan., and a $3,000 bequest from the estate of Harry S. Wingert of West Point.

R. R. Belter of Burlington, Ia., was elected president of the board of directors.

Baptist Alliance Program Outlined

The worldwide fellowship of Baptists, the Baptist World Alliance, was described Tuesday night at the First Baptist Church by Dr. Joel Sorenson, youth secretary of the Alliance.

Dr. Sorenson, a Swedish citizen, received his Doctor of Divinity Degree from Ottawa Unniversity in Ottawa, Kan.

Dr. Sorenson pointed out the rapid growth of the movement in the U. S., Germany and Brazil.

Since the turn of the century the number of members in the U. S. has gone from seven to 19 million, he said.

"Fellowship is not built on conformity but rather on a common belief in the works of Jesus Christ," he said.

2 Teacher Pay Hike Plans Proposed

A new and higher salary scale for Lincoln teachers has been proposed to the Board of Education by two teachers' associations.

The proposals came from the Lincoln Teachers Association and the Lincoln Men Teachers Association. The two proposals were similar in the following three respects:

1. Reduction of the 17 steps in the salary schedule.

2. An over-all increase in salaries.

3. Additional compensation for addition professional training between the bachelor's and master's degree and beyond the master's degree.

The principal split between the two came with the men's proposal for a dependency differential.

"Salaries of men teachers, and/or heads of families," said the Men Teachers Association report, "are at the present time especially in need of adjustment. Many men teachers and/or heads of families now find it necessary to supplement their teaching salaries by at least 30 per cent."

The report noted that it is common for men teachers to leave their profession because of monetary reasons while single teachers seldom leave for that reason.

Help Husbands

The "sub-standard" pay of teachers was attributed in the report to several factors. One, the profession, more than any other, is used extensively for temporary income, particularly in the case of young women who help their husbands through school and others whose salaries are of a supplemental nature.

As another reason for low salaries, the report stated that while all parents want the best opportunities for their children, they often do not realize that their taxes are the basis for salaries. The men ask for the dependency differential temporarily until all teachers are raised to the proper salary level.

Mrs. Catherine Hurst, president of the LTA, told the board that her group felt the dependency differential was "not the most satisfactory way to meet the problem." Mrs. Hurst stressed the importance of such factors as a teacher's capabilities, education and experience.

There are 240 employees of the school system who would qualify for increased salaries under any dependency differential. Those 240 persons have a total of 453 dependents.

HAS YOUR BOY OUTGROWN HIS ELECTRIC TRAIN?

- Has your daughter outgrown her doll house and furniture?
- Has the little fellow outgrown his summer clothing?
- Has Dad a gun or hunting equipment lying unused in the attic?
- Has Mother a fur coat or electric appliance she no longer uses?

If you can answer "yes" to one or more of these questions, you are in an excellent position to pick up some extra cash by selling these things you no longer need through a low cost

Des Moines Parents Asked To Help Out As 'Janitors'

SCHOOL STRIKE GOES ON

DES MOINES (AP)—Parents of Des Moines public school children were asked Tuesday to help keep the schools open as a strike of non-teaching employees ended its second day without a sign of a break.

The executive board of the Des Moines Council of Parent-Teachers Associations backed up the Board of Education in its efforts to keep the schools heated and in operating condition.

And the board told parents who agreed with its action that they could volunteer to sweep floors, empty trash cans, help in school kitchens and otherwise assist principals in "caring for the physical needs of keeping schools in session."

Welfare 'In Jeopardy'

The PTA board said it considered that the welfare of the children had been "put in jeopardy" by the strike of AFL Teamsters Local 90 and Operating Engineers Local 268-B, which include custodians, bus drivers and heating engineers.

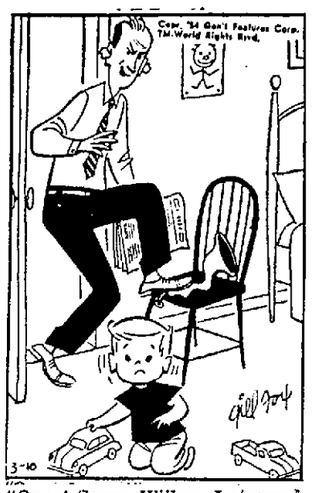

But Ed Hartzer, secretary-treasurer of the teamsters' union, said, "We union members are parents, too, and feel as strongly as anyone about the education and safety of our children."

The unions are seeking recognition by the school board, higher wages and other benefits.

The PTA board's appeal for parent help in operating the schools was partly based on a contention that Des Moines may lose state school aid if it fails to meet legal requirements. These are that schools be open for 180 days a year.

All of the city's 64 public schools were open Tuesday although some were chilly due to low pressure in the heating systems. The two striking unions claim 180 members and a spokesman said about 150 were off the job. School officials estimated the number of strikers at 100.

"Opps! Sorry, Wilbur, I stepped on your horn."

Indefinite Contract Status Is Extended

The Board of Education has approved retention on an indefinite contract status 360 full-time certificated employees who are on permanent tenture.

The contracts of teachers on probationary status will be terminated at the close of the 1953-54 year with most of them retained under a new contract for the coming year.

Gasoline Taxes Hit $1,976,403 For February

Gasoline tax collected in the state in February was $1,976,403 and the special fuels tax $64,374, Treasurer Frank Heintze said Tuesday in announcing distribution to counties. Refunds to farmers amounted to $198,299.

Distributed for mail routes was $303,065 as compared with $308,731 in January. The regular road distribution amounted to $454,597 as compared with $466,482 in January. Distribution by counties:

Torpedoes Pay Off

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two fishermen went diving for abalone recently and came up with a couple of tin fish (torpedoes). They netted George E. Troester, and Murray Black $100 apiece. Black spotted his "fish" 135 feet down at San Clemente and, after notifying the Navy, dived down with a tow line and snagged it. Troester found his in a bed of kelp near Long Beach. Capt. R. F. Sellars, officer in charge of the Naval Ordnance Test Station in Pasadena said: "The catch not only meant a jackpot for them but for the taxpayers—torpedoes are expensive."

OMAHA (AP) — Mrs. Gertrude Ritner of Omaha heaved a sigh of relief Tuesday when she was awakened by Midgie, the elderly cat who owns a six-room home where Mrs. Ritner lives.

Midgie had been missing since Saturday. And under terms of a warranty deed left by Midgie's dead master, the welfare of Mrs. Ritner and the cat are closely related.

She and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weidman, are to be given the house, provided the cat gets princely treatment, never is allowed outdoors and died a natural death. Otherwise Francis A. Putman, a retired telegraph official, who died in February, 1953, directed that a niece would get the property.

"We've been so nervous and worried," Mrs. Ritner said. "It would have meant our losing the place here after we had kept our end of the bargain."

Mrs. Ritner, a practical nurse, cared for Mr. and Mrs. Putman during the last years of their lives.

Torpedoes Pay Off

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two fishermen went diving for abalone recently and came up with a couple of tin fish (torpedoes). They netted George E. Troester, and Murray Black $100 apiece. Black spotted his "fish" 135 feet down at San Clemente and, after notifying the Navy, dived down with a tow line and snagged it. Troester found his in a bed of kelp near Long Beach. Capt. R. F. Sellars, officer in charge of the Naval Ordnance Test Station in Pasadena said: "The catch not only meant a jackpot for them but for the taxpayers—torpedoes are expensive."

OMAHA (AP) — Mrs. Gertrude Ritner of Omaha heaved a sigh of relief Tuesday when she was awakened by Midgie, the elderly cat who owns a six-room home where Mrs. Ritner lives.

Midgie had been missing since Saturday. And under terms of a warranty deed left by Midgie's dead master, the welfare of Mrs. Ritner and the cat are closely related.

She and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weidman, are to be given the house, provided the cat gets princely treatment, never is allowed outdoors and died a natural death. Otherwise Francis A. Putman, a retired telegraph official, who died in February, 1953, directed that a niece would get the property.

"We've been so nervous and worried," Mrs. Ritner said. "It would have meant our losing the place here after we had kept our end of the bargain."

Mrs. Ritner, a practical nurse, cared for Mr. and Mrs. Putman during the last years of their lives.
